PREFACE

It gives me immense pleasure to present the Support Material for various subjects. The material prepared for students of classes IX to XII has been conceived and developed by a team comprising of the Subject Experts, Members of the Academic Core Unit and teachers of the Directorate of Education.

The subject wise Support Material is developed for the betterment and enhancement of the academic performance of the students. It will give them an insight into the subject leading to complete understanding. It is hoped that the teachers and students will make optimum use of this material. This will help us achieve academic excellence.

I commend the efforts of the team who have worked with complete dedication to develop this matter well within time. This is another endeavor of the Directorate to give complete support to the learners all over Delhi.
Dear Students,

Directorate of Education is committed to providing qualitative and best education to all its students. The Directorate is continuously engaged in the endeavor to make available the best study material for uplifting the standard of its students and schools.

Every year, the expert faculty of Directorate reviews and updates Support Material. The expert faculty of different subjects incorporates the changes in the material as per the latest amendments made by CBSE to make its students familiar with new approaches and methods so that students do well in the examination.

The book in your hand is the outcome of continuous and consistent efforts of senior teachers of the Directorate. They have prepared and developed this material especially for you. A huge amount of money and time has been spent on it in order to make you updated for annual examination.

Last, but not the least, this is the perfect time for you to build the foundation of your future. I have full faith in you and the capabilities of your teachers. Please make the fullest and best use of this Support Material.

BINAY BHUSHAN
DIRECTOR (EDUCATION)
I am very much pleased to forward the Support Material for classes IX to XII. Every year, the Support Material of most of the subjects is updated/revised as per the most recent changes made by CBSE. The team of subject experts, officers of Exam Branch, members of Core Academic Unit and teachers from various schools of Directorate has made it possible to make available unsurpassed material to students.

Consistence use of Support Material by the students and teachers will make the year long journey seamless and enjoyable. The main purpose to provide the Support Material for the students of government schools of Directorate is not only to help them to avoid purchasing of expensive material available in the market but also to keep them updated and well prepared for exam. The Support Material has always been a ready to use material, which is matchless and most appropriate.

I would like to congratulate all the Team Members for their tireless, unremitting and valuable contributions and wish all the best to teachers and students.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE
(Code No. 184)

Background
Traditionally, language-learning materials beyond the initial stages have been sourced from literature: prose, fiction and poetry. While there is a trend for inclusion of a wider range of contemporary and authentic texts, accessible and culturally appropriate pieces of literature should play a pivotal role at the secondary stage of education. The English class should not be seen as a place merely to read poems and stories in, but an area of activities to develop the learner's imagination as a major aim of language study, and to equip the learner with communicative skills to perform various language functions through speech and writing.

Objectives
The general objectives at this stage are to:

- Build greater confidence and proficiency in oral and written communication.
- Develop the ability and knowledge required in order to engage in independent reflection and inquiry.
- Use appropriate English to communicate in various social settings.
- Equip learners with essential language skills to question and to articulate their point of view and the culture they reflect.
- Build competence in the different registers of English.
- Develop sensitivity to, and appreciation of, other varieties of English, like Indian English and the culture they reflect.
- Enable the learner to access knowledge and information through reference skills (consulting a dictionary / thesaurus, library, internet, etc.)
- Develop curiosity and creativity through extensive reading.
- Facilitate self-learning to enable them to become independent learners.
- Review, organise and edit their own work and work done by peers.
- Build listening and speaking into the curriculum.

At the end of this stage, learners will be able to do the following:

- Give a brief oral description of events/incidents of topical interest.
- Retell the contents of authentic audio texts (weather reports, public announcements, simple advertisements, short interviews etc.)
- Participate in conversations, discussions, etc, on topics of mutual interest in non-classroom situations.
- Narrate the story depicted pictorially or in any other non-verbal mode.
- Respond in writing to business letters, official communications email etc.
• Read and identify the main points / significant details of texts like scripts of audio-video interviews, discussions, debates etc.
• Write without prior preparation on a given topic and be able to defend or explain the position taken / views expressed in the form of article, speech, or a debate
• Write a summary of short lectures on familiar topics by making / taking notes
• Write an assessment of different points of view expressed in a discussion / debate
• Read poems effectively (with proper rhythm and intonation)
• Transcode information from a graph / chart to a description / report and write a dialogue, short story or report

Language Items
In addition to consolidating the grammatical items practised earlier the courses at the secondary level seek to reinforce the following explicitly:
• Sequence of tenses
• Reported speech in extended texts
• Modal auxiliaries (those not covered at upper primary)
• Non-finites (infinitives, gerunds, participles)
• Conditional clauses
• Complex and compound sentences
• Phrasal verbs and prepositional phrases
• Cohesive devices
• Punctuation (Semicolon, colon, dash, hyphen, parenthesis or use of brackets and exclamation mark)

Methods and Techniques
The methodology is based on a multi-skin, activity based, learner-centered approach. Care is taken to fulfill the functional (communicative), literary (aesthetic) and cultural (Sociological) needs of the learner. In this situation, the teacher is the facilitator of learning, She/he presents language items, contrive situations which motivates the child to use English for the purposes of communication and expression. Aural-oral teaching and testing is an integral feature of the teaching-learning process. The electronic and print media could be used extensively. A few suggested activities are:
• Role play
• Simulating real-to-life situations
• Dramatising and miming
Problem solving and decision making
Interpreting information gives in tabular form and schedule
Using newspaper clippings.
Borrowing situations from the world around the learners, from books and from other disciplines
Using language games, riddles, puzzles and jokes
Interpreting pictures / sketches / cartoons
Debating and discussing
Narrating and discussing stories, anecdotes etc.
Reciting poems
Working in pairs and groups
Using media inputs - computer, television, video cassettes, tapes, software packages

SECTION-A READING

Reading is a significant part of learning any language. It discourages rote learning and helps the students understand. It also enhances the ability of the students to express what they have grasped in their own words and develop a writing style of their own to express the author's ideas.
In this section students have been exposed to two types of passages.
1. Factual Passage (300-350 words with eight objective type questions.) e.g.- including MCQ
2. Discursive Passage (350-400 words with four short answer type questions and four objective type questions on vocabulary) including MCQ'S
   The answers of the questions are hidden in the passage itself. The following points may help the students in answering the questions.
   (a) First, read the passage with concentration and mark the key words.
   (b) Look at the questions and pay attention to the key words which are helpful to locate the answers.
   (c) For vocabulary based questions, locate the word that is suitable to answer.
   (d) Try to write answers in your own words, copy or take minimum from the passage, numbering correctly.
   (e) Do not provide any information that is not given in the passage.

PASSAGE -1

Raisins are dried grapes that have been eaten for thousands of years. Nearly 3500 years ago, the first raisins were discovered as grapes that were drying in the sun on a vine. In Medieval Europe, raisins were used as sweeteners, medicine and even as a form of money!
In America, raisins were first grown after an 1873 heat wave in California destroyed its valuable grape crop, leaving only dried, wrinkly, but tasty grapes on the vines. Soon, farmers began developing seedless grapes in California that were thin - skinned and sweet. These grapes would be purposely dried in the sun and became the popular dark raisin we eat and enjoy today. Later, a golden variety of raisin was made by treating grapes with a chemical called sulphur dioxide and using special methods to dry them.
Today, Central California remains the center of the world's raisin industry producing nearly 95 percent of the world's raisins. Its green valleys, sunny climate and hot temperature provide the perfect conditions for grapes that are dried into raisins.

Questions

i) Raisins were discovered about ____________ years ago.

ii) When did the heat wave in destroyed the grape crop in America?

iii) The golden variety of raisins was made by __________

iv) Name the noun and adjective in the phrase 'dried grapes'.

v) Make sentences of your own using 'perfect' as adjective.

PASSAGE - 2

Many animals are able to communicate with each other very well—but none of them can talk as we do. That is, no animals use words.

Birds cry out and make sounds that other birds understand. Smells, movements, and sounds are used for communication by animals, through which they express joy or anger or fear.

Human speech is a very complicated process, which no animal can perform. One reason is that in a very special way we use a whole series of organs to produce the sounds we want to make when we utter words. The way our vocal cords are made to vibrate, the way the throat, mouth and nasal cavities are adjusted, the way the lips, teeth, lower jaw, tongue, and palate are moved — just to make vowel and consonant sounds, is something animals can't do. They cannot produce a whole series of words to make a sentence. And there is another, perhaps more important reason why animals can't talk. Words are only labels for objects, actions, feelings, expressions and ideas. For example, the word 'bird' is a label for a living, flying object. Other words describe its colour, shape, flying and singing. Still other words would be used to tell what the speaker thinks or feels about the bird or its actions.

For human beings, therefore, the use of words means the use of labels or symbols, and then organizing them in a certain way to communicate something. This requires a degree of intelligence and logical thinking that no animals have. So, they can't talk the way people do.

Questions
1. Animals communicate through _________________________
2. Human Speech is a very _________________________ process.
3. The sound is produced by _________________________
4. How are vowel and consonant sounds created?
5. The word 'bird' is used for _________________________
6. Animals do not talk the way people do because _________________________
7. Words are labels for
   a) actions               b) objects
   c) feelings             d) all of the above
8. The word from the passage which means 'happiness' is:
   a) communication        b) expression
   c) joy                  d) intelligence

Answers
1. Smells, movements, and sounds.
2. a very complicated process.
3. a whole series of organs
UNSOLVED PASSAGES
Passage — 3

On April 13, 1961 Major Yuri Gagarin became the first man ever to venture into the space. The Russians had three possible candidates ready, and although Gagarin was the first on the list, the choice was not definitely made until the early morning of April 12. All candidates had undergone strenuous training periods. They had spent long sessions in the pressure chamber and the centrifuge. They had endured violent extremes of sensation; a peaceful sleep, for instance, suddenly followed by an hour of ear-shattering noise, recorded on tape and amplified through enormous loudspeakers in an enclosed room. Perhaps the worst of the ordeals was to be shut in a darkened room for long, uncertain periods, in solitary confinement and complete silence. Gagarin himself has described the experience.
Then came parachute training. Gagarin made forty parachute jumps of gradually increasing difficulty.
One of the most interesting aspects of the training experiment was the method of providing experience of weightlessness. In the early stages, the express lift of the great Moscow University Building was used. From the twenty eighth floor to the bottom, it allowed a drop of 500 ft. Special air brakes prevented the lift from crashing as it reached the bottom.

On the morning of April 12, Gagarin rose at 5:30. He was zipped into his complicated spacesuit, on top of which went a pale blue fibre suit, and finally an orange one. Then an Air force bus drove him to the launching site in company with various helpers. The gigantic lift took him up 100 feet, to the nose of the rocket and he entered the earth cabin (named Vostok) with a wave to those below.

While he sat in the cabin, the technicians swarmed around the rocket on their preflight tasks. A careful check of all the instruments and safety devices took ninety minutes. Finally, Gagarin was told that all was ready.
"Right - let's go on up".
These were his last words before the flight.
Questions:
1. The nationality of Yuri Gagarin is _______________?
2. Yuri Gagarin finally came to know of his selection on ________________
3. The three candidates had undergone _______________ training periods.
4. Yuri Gagarin ventured his first step in space on ________________
5. When Yuri Gagarin entered the earth cabin the technicians ____________.
6. Gagarin’s last words before the flight were ________________
7. One of the most interesting aspect of the training experiment was the experience of
   a) parachute jumping
   b) solitary confinement
   c) weightlessness
   d) pressure chambers
8. The word from passage which means an unpleasant experience is.
   a) ordeal
   b) Solitary
   c) pressure
   d) enormous

Passage - 4
Read the poem given below and answer the questions that follow:
A smile is quite a funny thing,
It wrinkles up your face.
and when it’s gone

     c) secret
     d) wonderful
1. New Delhi: The historic streets of Old Delhi will soon boast of a new tourist spot with the almost restored Haveli Dharampura, which might open its doors to visitors early next year. A few metres away from Jama Masjid, the haveli sits between Jain temple and New Digambar Jain temple. The area is named Dharampura owing to the presence of a large number of temples.

2. The restoration of the haveli, which is a coalescence of Mughal, Hindu and European styles of architecture, is being carried out by MP Vijay Goel and his son, Siddhant Goel.

3. Historians point out that the three storeyed haveli was constructed around 1887 AD when construction of havelis by nobles and countries was in vogue. They were designed for residential and commercial purposes, with commercial space on the ground floor and residential on the remaining floors.

4. The haveli is essentially a load-bearing structure built with lahori bricks. Its wooden ceiling had cleverly-designed arches for load distribution and, like other havelis of that time, had decorative features like stone brackets, balconies, jharokha, chauk, chhajja, wooden doors and carved sandstone elements.

5. "When we first saw the haveli, it was in a dilapidated condition and had lost most of its grandeur like the other havelis in Chandni Chowk. There were many families living in it who had altered its original structure and created partitions," says Vijay Goel, who is also the President of Heritage India Foundation.

6. Goel said the first task was to hold the building to retain the haveli’s original structure. The restoration and conservation process began with help of architect, Kapil Aggarwal, and students of conservation from Delhi Institute of Heritage Research and Management.

7. "To keep the originality and exclusivity of this architectural marvel intact, raw materials were sourced from various parts of the country, for instance, the cast iron railings, replica of Shahjahani design were made in Jaipur, the entrance wooden door carved in Shekhawati, brass came from Moradabad and glasswork from Ferozabad. Around 50 specialist masons and labourers were hired to work on the exterior and intricate details. The restoration, and conservation efforts took six years to come to fruition," says Goel.

8. Goel plans to make this structure a model haveli in the walled city which houses 500 havelis from Delhi Sultanate, Mughal Era and Colonial times. Most of these havelis are owned privately and are situated in packed lanes of Sitaram Bazaar, Kinari Bazaar and Jama Masjid area.
While some are in good condition, many are going to ruins because their owners have not been able to maintain them. The municipal bodies are trying to give incentives to the owners of these havelis by giving them funding assistance for restoration.

9. The revival of the haveli is a bid to offer glimpses of the dying cultures of Old Delhi and give tourists a fresh outlook when it comes to Chandni Chowk area. PASSAGE - 6
Child Labour

1. The problem of child labour in India is a reality. Clearly, the situation of these children violates the fundamental right to education, right to childhood and equal opportunity to participate as equal citizens of this country.
2. Child labour is more or less synonymous with poverty. The only way to break the cycle of poverty that envelops the lives of little children who are employed as child labourers is to ensure that they have access to education in accordance with the 86th Amendment to the Constitution. However, today the law allows children to work and makes no distinction between hazardous and non-hazardous child labour. There is no bar for children below 14 years to work in non-hazardous industries.

3. The legislation, therefore, condones and allows millions of children to be subjected to the hazards of not being in school and working in sometimes extremely difficult and exploitative conditions.

4. A child can either be in school at a young and tender age or be made to earn a living. The two cannot be reconciled and the present law is, therefore, not satisfactory. Free and compulsory education can only be a reality when all forms of child labour are excluded and when distinctions between hazardous and non-hazardous forms of labour are removed. This would, then be, in line with all international laws and conventions that India has signed.

5. It is heartening to note that the government has decided to ban the employment of children below the age of 14 as domestic helps and in dhabas, teashops, restaurants, hotels and resorts.

6. As always, in our country, the new order will likely trigger many conflicting reactions. While many who have worked for years in this area are now optimistic, some civil society organisations and non-governmental organisations will be critical and sceptical.

7. There is some cause for this. There have been many failures to monitor, rehabilitate and enforce the ban where it is already in force, such as in the hazardous sector. Therefore, it would be appropriate for the government to immediately devise a mechanism for the rehabilitation of children, their admission into schools and for their ultimate employment through counselling, skill building and special education opportunities.

8. The advantages of this new policy are that many children in urban and rural areas would now be much less exposed to psychological hurt, severe trauma, physical danger and even sexual abuse.

9. Having said this, it is still true that India is home to perhaps, the largest number of child labourers in the world today. The estimates today are alarming, ranging from about 12 million to about 100 million children according to the government NGOs and other sources. These children are steeped in poverty and most of them are part of the informal economy, both in the agriculture and urban sectors, where the reach of the law is hardly visible.
Questions :-
(i) The root cause of child labour is
(ii) The biggest challenge before the government?
(iii) Benefits of the ban are
(iv) Which recent changes have been so heartening?
(v) Which amendment to the constitution enforce free education to children below 14 years of age?
(vi) In which country is the largest number of child labour found?
(vii) The word in the passage which means 'essential' is
      a) Critical   b) Reconciled
c) Fundamental d) Hazardous (viii) The word from the passage which is an antonym of 'Safe' is
       a) hazardous   b) condone’s
c) tender       d) trauma

Passage — 8
Camps To Tap Creativity

1. As the dreaded examinations crawl to a halt, students look forward to the much awaited 'creative outlets', the Summer camps, to let off steam and spend their holidays. A summer camp is conducted over a short period of four to five weeks involving interesting and fun filled activities. The colourful spectrum of summer camps provides a wide variety of activities which include artistic skills such as painting, art, music, craft and also spoken English, cookery and computer courses. Not only this, the summer camps keep the child "fit as a fiddle" by imparting lessons in yoga, cricket, tennis and swimming.

2. With changing times and trends parents have become productivity oriented. They want their children to learn through productive play unlike in the past when play was just play. Today, the parents want to tap the potential of their children to the fullest. To achieve this aim, the summer camps afford an ideal opening for children to develop their hobbies and talents. The importance of creative play is often underestimated whereas the fact is that art and craft projects can excite even a young child's imagination and promote a sense of great achievement. The little things that children make and take home give them a sense of achievement and pride when they show them to their parents.

3. Summer camps develop a child's confidence and his ideas. They also encourage children to do things on their own. The camps are beneficial for hyper-active and aggressive children as they help channel their energies fruitfully by drawing out the best in them. They also promote mutual understanding not only among teachers and children but also bring about interaction between the taught. This provides a good experience for a better future of confidence.

Questions :-

i) What are the different activities taken up in summer camps?

ii) Summer camps help in keeping children fit and healthy because ...........

iii) How are these camps beneficial for hyperactive and aggressive children?

iv) How are summer camps important for a better future?

v) How do the children feel when they make little things?

vi) What does the phrase 'fit as a fiddle' mean?

vii) Find the antonym of 'dull' from the passage -

i) feared ii) interesting iii) spectrum iv) pride viii) The word from the passage which means the same as useful is:

i) productive ii) aggressive iii) creative iv) beneficial
PASSAGE 9

2. Read the passage given below carefully:

1. Born in a small village of Karamsad in Gujarat, Patel's early education was split between three nearby towns of Nadiad, Petlad and Borsad. It was his early exposure to an unsettled life to which his tough, no nonsense and in some ways even dour demeanour may be attributed. He rose to study law in London topping his class at the Middle Temple Inn. On his return to India he chose to practice law in Ahmedabad and became a top barrister.

2. It was Gandhi's return from South Africa and his extensive tours throughout India rallying the people around the cause of independence that drew Patel into public life. Eventually, he forsook his Britain-influenced lifestyle, including English clothes, for a wholly Indian outlook as defined by Gandhi. Early on, Gandhi saw in Patel a quietly steely resolve and the eagerness to get down to the task of firing up the grassroots. His rise as one of a handful of luminaries of India's independence movement was not necessarily meteoric but steady and solid.

3. It was a measure of Patel's personality that both Gandhi and Nehru had extremely high praise for him despite the fact that he often diverged from the former's saintly renunciation and the latter's aristocratic urgency. Gandhi called him a colleague who was "most trustworthy, staunch and brave", while Nehru called him "the builder and the consolidator of India......... a great captain of our forces in the struggle for freedom......... a tower of strength that revived wavering hearts". By all accounts, Patel was an equal member of the Gandhi-Nehru-Patel triumvirate in his lifetime.

4. There have been frequent speculations about how different India might have turned out had Gandhi chosen Patel over Nehru to be India's first Prime Minister but many historians have pointed out that being a near contemporary of Gandhi, he never really saw himself in that role. By the time India became independent and a union of states, he was already 72 years old compared to Nehru's 58. Patel died on Dec. 15, 1950, barely a year after India became an independent republic by adopting a constitution on Jan 26. Patel was among the key players in the Constituent Assembly of India asked with frame the constitution. If of all the illustrious leaders of the day, there was someone who was a completely hands-on, nuts and bolts figure, it was Patel.

Short answer type questions:
(a) Why according to Gandhi was Patel useful for the freedom struggle?
(b) Why was Patel different from Gandhi and Nehru?
(c) What qualities of Patel impressed Gandhi?
(d) Why didn't Patel see himself in the role of the first Prime Minister of India?

(e) Which is the adverb form of political –
   i) Politics  ii) Politically  iii) Polity  iv) Polite

(f) The word from the passage which means guiding light:–
   i) luminaries ii) trustworthy iii) brave iv) builder

(g) The word from the passage which means baseless is _____________.

(h) The word which is the opposite of which comes after is _____________.

WRITING & GRAMMAR
DIARY ENTRY

Diary writing is one of the most personal and informal categories of writing. A diary writing can be based on an experience, a scene, a description or a narration of certain event or any other thing or activity that the writer considers worth writing in his/her personal diary.

In the examination, the question on diary writing is aimed to test the imaginative, and expressive skills.

GUIDELINES FOR DIARY WRITING

A diary entry has no fixed format or style of writing. However, a good diary entry does contain the following features:

1. A good diary writing contains the place, the date, the day and even the time of writing. For example:
   Agra 20th July, 20XX
   Friday, 8:00 p.m.

2. A diary doesn’t need any formal heading. However, it is optional. If you want, you can give a suitable heading or solution to your diary. You can even give a name to your diary.

3. The style and tone is generally informal and personal. However, it depends on the subject. Sometimes the tone can be philosophical and reflective too. You can freely express your viewpoints and feelings.

4. As the diary is a writer's personal document, the diary entry doesn’t need any signature. It is totally optional.

5. You can evolve your own suitable style depending on the topic of your writing.

*As per the CBSE syllabus, you are required to write a diary/article in about 100-120 words.

SOLVED EXAMPLE

Q. Margie is totally shocked to see a real book. She decides to write a diary entry about the strange old book. Write the diary entry as Margie in about 100-150 words.

A. 21st May, 2157

Dear Diary

A very strange thing happened today. My brother Tommy found a real book. Yes, it is a real book as our grandfather told us. It seems to be very weird. It has some letters and lines printed on pages which have become yellow and crinkly. And the words remain still on the page. It is really funny as well as irritating to turn each and every page after you have finished reading it. Also it is a great wastage of resources as after completing the book one will just throw it away. But Tommy is behaving as if he has found some lost treasure. I found the book to be very funny. I think my e-books are better. Atleast, I don't need to take care and prevent them from getting torn or lost.

SOLVED QUESTION

1. Look at the picture below. It focuses on how youth can participate in the cleanliness of the country. Based on this and your own ideas, write an article in about 100-150 words on 'ROLE OF YOUTH IN CLEANLINESS PROGRAMME.'

ROLE OF YOUTH IN CLEANLINESS PROGRAMME

By XYZ

Swachh Bharat Mission or Cleanliness Programme is a huge mass movement which was launched by the Indian Government on October 2, 2014. The success of any Programme depends on the youth of its nation because Youth is considered as the voice and the future of the nation.

Youth is the best bet in achieving any goal or mission. India needs the power of youth to achieve all her cleanliness and developmental goals. Without their involvement nothing can end successfully. Youth may take initiatives in keeping the surroundings clean and green. Amit Abraham has very rightly remarked, "Clean your mind and our country will automatically get dry cleaned." Youth which is so energetic and dedicated can do phenomenal work in making cleanliness a successful campaign. The best way to begin this drive is your home, street, mohalla, locality, city, state and then, the entire nation.

To sum up all the points we can say that India has immense youth power which is to be channelized. The entire nation will automatically become clean.

A VISIT TO THE FAIR

Anu and Rahul were very happy. Their mother had taken them to the fair which was held in their grandparents' village. The fair was a place of great pomp and show. There were shops of general items, toys and sweets. All were decorated nicely and attracted the people of all age groups. We saw huge crowd at almost every shop. Men and Women were in gaudy dresses. There was hustle and bustle everywhere in the fair. All were enjoying it in their own way. Some children were riding on the horses and some in cars. There were hawkers too at several places, all were crying in different tones to sell their goods. One of the hawkers was selling his balloons and some children were buying them. Ladies were also very busy in buying goods of household utility. We saw in one corner some foretellers. They were telling the future but I do not believe in fate. I believe in hard work which alone can bring success in life. There were good police arrangements to maintain law and order.

In the evening, the fair came to an end. People began to return to their homes. We too came back with a nice feeling.

Value Points

- Margie and Tommy aged 11 and 13 are students of future schools.
- Tommy finds an old book about school in the attic. They turn yellow, crinkly pages of the book and are surprised to see still words in the book. They are used to only moving words of telebooks.
- They thought it to be wastage of resources, as it was to be thrown after reading once only. Whereas telebooks last longer and contain many books together.
- Margie hated school as her teacher (a computer) gave her test after test and she performed badly in Geography.
- She hated the slot for putting homework and test papers.
- Margie's mother called county inspector who came with all his equipment and repaired it in an hour.
- Margie wasn't happy as she thought he would take the teacher away for a few days for repair work and she would have off from school.
- County Inspector told her mother that Margie’s bad performance in Geography was due to faulty setting of her teacher (Computer).
- As Margie hated school, she thought why would anyone write about school. Tommy explained that centuries ago the school were not like theirs. They had a man as a teacher who taught students different subjects, asked questions and gave Homework also.
- Margie couldn't believe man to be smart enough to have knowledge about different subjects.
- Tommy told her that the school was in a special building and students would go there and children of same age group studied same things.
- But Margie's mother had told her that every child has to be taught according to individual needs and children studied together in old school.
- Now Margie was interested in reading about those old funny schools. But mother called her to attend the school next to her bedroom.
- Tommy and Margie attended school at a fixed time from Monday to Friday.
- While submitting homework to her 'teacher'. She thought about the old schools where kids had a lot of fun studying together and playing, helping each other in studies, sharing caring for each other.
- Computer screen of her 'teacher' was flashing new chapter in arithmetic on the addition of proper fractions. But Margie was lost in the thoughts of old school.

Lesson 2
THE SOUND OF MUSIC (Part-I)
Evelyn Glennie

Value Points

• A seventeen year old girl had decided to make music her life, though being completely deaf.
• This aspiring musician feels the vibration of an approaching train, she has been selected for training at the prestigious Royal Academy of Music in London. Evelyn Glennie feels nervous yet excited on the first day of her training.
• Glennie started losing her hearing power gradually from the age of eight due to nerve damage.
• She was advised to be sent to school for the deaf. But Evelyn was determined to lead a normal life and pursue her interest in music.
• Most of the people discouraged her but percussionist Ron Forbes noticed her potential and motivated her to feel music in different parts of her body.
• He took two large drums for tuning. Evelyn immediately realized higher drum from the waist up and lower drum from the waist down. Forbes repeated the exercise.
• Now Evelyn could feel certain notes in different parts of her body.
• During her 3 years course in Royal Academy of Music, Evelyn scored highest marks in the history of Academy, got most of the top awards and started giving solo-performances.
• She is now one of the top multi-percussionists in the world with a mastery of some thousand instruments.
• According to her, "If you work hard and know where you are going, you'll get there."
• It is fascinating to watch Evelyn working without much effort. She speaks clearly as she could listen till the age of eleven. During conversation she watches lip movement, face and specially eyes.
• She had learnt French and basic Japanese.
• While playing instruments, she remained barefoot on wooden platform, so that the vibrations pass through her barefeet and up her legs. She could feel music through every part of her body i.e. skin, cheekbones and even hair. She felt the echo of sound flowing into her body by leaning against the drums.
• She has been a workaholic and has been rewarded enormously. Royal Philharmonic society's prestigious 'Soloist of the year' was presented to her in 1991.
• Besides regular concerts she has given free concerts in prisons and hospitals. Teaching young musicians is her top priority.
• She has placed percussion in front of the orchestra.

_Born without arms, boy uses feet, bags 71.8% in Std X exam_

Anuja.Jaiswal@timesgroup.com

_Agra_:

Ajay Kumar was born without arms alright, but armed with the kind of will that leaves little beyond one's reach. Not ready to let his disability define his future, the 16-year-old trained himself to write with his feet, a feat that has now helped him clear his Class X board exams with 71.8%.

What's more, the Uttar Pradesh board student didn't seek extra time to write his papers, and managed to finish the answers, his pencil clutched between his toes, within the stipulated window. Ajay, a resident of Bhogaon village in UP's Mainpuri district, aspires to be an engineer. A student of SR Inter College, Ajay is proud of his performance, but has vowed to himself to work harder and score at least 80% in all subsequent exams.

"I know who I am and what I am capable of. I'll make the best of it and never give up," said the gutsy boy in an interview to _TOI_. "If I had arms I could have done better in the exams, but now my feet are my arms," he added, "I hold the phone with my feet to talk. I even brush my teeth with my feet."

Ajay's farmer father Dayaram said he and his wife Meera were worried when he was born about how he would get through life. "But over the years he has proved that his disability cannot stop him from achieving what he wants," he added.

Now, Name some differently abled people who are successful despite their handicap.

Lesson 2
THE SOUND OF MUSIC (Part-II)
The Shehnai of Bismillah Khan

Value Points

• Bismillah Khan was a great Shehnai Player. He belonged to a family of professional musicians.
• He was attracted towards Shehnai at the age of three and through his hard work brought it on to the classical stage.
• A story goes on about the origin of Shehnai — Pungi a musical instrument was banned by Emperor Aurangzeb for its shrill, unpleasant sound.
• A barber of a family of musicians, having access to the royal palace also, decided to improve the tonal quality of Pungi. He took a hollow pipe longer than Pungi and made seven holes on it. When he played on it, sweet and soft sounds were produced. When it was played before king, he was impressed by this new instrument. Since it was played in the Shah’s Chamber and was played by a nai (barber), it was named 'Shehnai'.
• The sound of Shehnai is considered auspicious. The Shehnai was part of the 'Naubat' (group of nine traditional musical instruments) found in the royal courts. It was played only in temples and weddings.
• Ustad Bismillah Khan brought it on to the classical stage. He invented many ragas and played them on Shehnai.
• Bismillah Khan was born on March 21, 1916 in a musician family of Rasool Bux Khan, Shehnai Nawaz of Bhojpur King's court in Dumraon, Bihar. Father Paigamber Bux was also a great Shehnai player.
• His maternal uncle All Bux gave him Shehnai lessons. He practised playing Shehnai at Balaji and Mangla Maiya Temple and on the bank of river Ganga.
• At the age of 14 he played Shehnai with his uncle at Allahabad Music Conference and was appreciated by Ustad Faiyaz Khan. He often played Shehnai at All India Radio, Lucknow, since its opening in 1938.
• Bismillah Khan was the first Indian to greet the nation, with his Shehnai on 15th August 1947 in Raag Kafi.
• Impressed with his Shehnai, Film director Vijay Bhatt named a film 'Gunj Uthi Shehnai'. Bismillah Khan composed a hit song "Dil Ka Khilona Hai Toot Gaya.............." and Kannada Film 'Sanadhi Apanna'. But artificiality of film world did not impress him.
Awards and Recognition

- King Zahir Shah of Afghanistan presented priceless gifts after his performance.
- First Indian to be invited to perform at the prestigious Lincoln Centre Hall in the USA.
- Took part in the World Exposition in Montreal, Cannes Art Festival and in the Osaka Trade Fair.
- An auditorium in Teheran was named after him — Tahar Mosiquee Ustad Bismillah Khan.
- The Padamshri, the Padma Bhushan, the Padma Vibhushan and in 2001, India's highest civilian award, the 'Bharat Ratna'.
- He is fond of Benaras and his native village Dumraon.
- He was once offered to head a Shehnai school in USA by his student who promised to recreate the atmosphere of Benaras. But he refused the offer asking if he could transport River Ganga also.
- Though he was a devout Muslim, he could naturally play the Shehnai at the Kashi Vishwanath Temple.
- His life is a perfect example of the rich cultural heritage of India. He died at the age of ninety on 21 August 2006.

Lesson 5
THE SNAKE AND THE MIRROR
Vaikom Muhammad Basheer

Value Points

• A bachelor Homeopathy doctor lived in a non-electrified rented room with his few belongings and visiting rats.

• On a hot summer night the doctor came back to his room after dinner and heard a noise, when he opened the door. Noise, being a familiar one, he did not pay any attention to it and lay down on his bed but could not sleep.

• Took out a book opened it on the table.

• He looked into the large mirror kept on the table and admired himself as a young, handsome, unmarried doctor.

• Heard the sound from above again but wasn’t serious about it as rats also used to make such sounds.

• While looking into the mirror he analysed that growing thin moustache and a smile on his face would make him more attractive.

• A lovely thought came to him of marrying a rich woman doctor with plenty of money and had good medical practice. His wife must be fat so that if he committed some silly mistake and needed to run away she might not be able to run after him and catch him.

• He sat on the chair opposite mirror. Suddenly he heard a thud and before he could see the object, a fat snake wriggled over the back of the chair and landed on his shoulder then coiled itself around his left arm. The hood was spread out hardly four inches away from his face.

• Death lurked (hanged) four inches away from him but he could do nothing. He sat as a statue, motionless, but his mind was very active.

• Suddenly the snake turned its head and saw its own reflection in the mirror. It unwound itself from his arm and slowly creeping the table and moved towards the mirror.

• Taking advantage, he got up from the chair and quietly went out through the door and ran as fast as he could and reached a friend's house.

• Next morning, accompanied by his friends, he came to his room to take away his things from there. But there was hardly anything left for him to carry. Some thieves had stolen most of his things, except the dirty vest.

• He unpacked the whole bag and searched for it. Ultimately it was found inside a boot. He repacked the whole bag again.

• When he had repacked it George asked if the soap was packed. Jerome got irritated and said he didn't care but noticed that he had packed his tobacco-pouch in it. He finally packed it at 10:05 p.m.

• Harris was the worst packer according to Jerome. Many things like plates, cups, bottles, pies, tomatoes etc. were to be packed in hampers.

• With the packing of hampers by George and Harris an exciting scene started.

• Packing started with breaking of a cup, strawberry jam was packed on tomato by Harris that squashed it, tomato was picked out with a spoon.

• Jerome didn't comment on this, just watched them, sitting on the edge of the table. It irritated them and made them nervous & excited.

• They smashed the pies by putting heavy things on them. They upset salt over everything.
• George trampled the butter, removed it from his slipper and tried to put it in the kettle, but couldn't. After scraping it he put it on a chair. Harris unknowingly sat on it. It stuck to him and they searched for it blaming each other. Arguing and staring at one another, they went round the room searching for it. At last George found it sticking at the back of Harris. After getting it off, they packed it in the teapot.

• Montmorency was their naughty pet dog. He was always ready for mischief. He was present where he was not wanted. He put his damp nose in the articles to be packed, put his leg into the jam. Thinking lemons as rats he killed (spoiled) three of them.

• Harris blamed Jerome for encouraging the dog for mischief. But it was his natural habit.

• At last packing was completed at 12:50. Harris sat on the big hamper and hoped nothing would be found broken.

• Due to shortage of beds they tossed and finally Harris slept with Jerome.

• Harris wanted to wake up at seven but Jerome said six they finally agreed on half past six.

• They asked George to wake them up at 6:30 but he didn't answer. They found that he was asleep. Both the naughty friends put the bathtub where he could tumble into while getting up in the morning.

• Finally they went to bed.

- She was born in the small village of Joniyawas of Rewari district in Haryana, in a traditional conservative family.
- Her parents were traditional, prosperous landlords and she was the youngest and the only sister of five brothers.
- Contrary to her name 'Santosh' she was not satisfied with the traditional way of life.
- To start with, she did not wear traditional dresses in her childhood and preferred shorts. She studied in the village school.
- She was pressurised by her parents as she turned sixteen, to get married. Usually in her village girls got married at this age. But Santosh threatened her parents to never marry if she did not get a proper education.
- She left home and got herself enrolled in a Delhi school. When her parents refused to pay for her education, she politely informed them that she would work part time to pay her fee. Then her parents agreed to pay for her education.
- After passing high school exam, she joined Maharani College in Jaipur. Her room in Kasturba Hostel faced the Aravalli Hills.
- From the room, she used to watch people climbing hills then disappearing. Curious to find the reason, one day she went there and found a few mountaineers.
- She asked if she could join them. They not only agreed but motivated her to take to climbing.
- She started saving money and enrolled herself in a course without her parent's permission and later apologised for it.
- Instead of going back home, she went straight for the training. She went on an expedition every year after that.
• In just four years her climbing skills matured and she developed remarkable resistance to cold and the altitude.

• As a result of her hard work, sincerity, iron will, physical endurance and amazing mental toughness, she conquered Mt. Everest in 1992.

• Her seniors were impressed by her climbing skills, physical fitness and mental strength, caring & cooperative nature.

• During the 1992 Everest mission she saved the life of a fellow climber by sharing her oxygen but despite the special care by her she could not save another dying climber at the South Col.

• She scaled Everest for the second time within 12 months of her first success, being a member of Indo-Napalese Women’s expedition.

• She set a record as the only youngest woman to have scaled the Everest twice.

• The Indian government conferred on her the 'Padmashri', one of the nation's top honours, in recognition of her achievements.

• She not only unfurled the Indian tricolor on the Everest but collected and brought down 500 kg. of garbages from the Himalayas, being a true environmentalist.

9. The Bond of Love

Kenneth Anderson

- A sloth bear cub was found by the author accidentally. When author was passing through sugarcane fields, while driving away the wild pigs, one of his companions shot a sloth bear. A baby bear was riding on the back of mother bear when it was shot dead. Baby bear was making miserable sounds running around the mother. Author felt pity for it.
- Author captured it with the help of his friends to take it home and put it in a gunny bag.
- He presented the bear cub to his wife on reaching Bangalore, his home. She was so happy that she instantly put a ribbon around its neck on finding it to be a male named it Bruno and lovingly called it "Baba".
- Bruno learnt drinking milk from a bottle. In a few days he started eating and drinking everything even spicy things, beer, alcoholic liquor etc.
- In his younger days he was left free and became friendly with two Alsatian dogs and children of the tenants. Bruno had access to kitchen and even slept in the beds of family members.
- One day author put down poison (Barium Carbonate) in the library to kill rats, but Bruno entered the library as usual and ate some of the poison.
- Bruno got paralysed but somehow he dragged himself to author’s wife. She called author and he took him to the vet.
- It was an uncommon case of barium carbonate poisoning of a bear.
- But Bruno was saved.
- Bruno grew bigger in size and author decided to give it to the Zoo.
- Author’s wife consented after great persuasion.
- But cried later, went to meet him at the Zoo.
- Both cried, wanted to take Baba back.

10. KATHMANDU

—Vikram Seth

• The author visits Kathmandu, the capital of Nepal and hires a cheap room in the centre of the town and sleeps for hours.
• Next morning accompanied by Mr. Shah's son and nephew he visits the most sacred Hindu temple, Pashupatinath on the bank of Bagmati river.
• The atmosphere in and around the temple is completely chaotic. There are priests, devotees, hawkers, tourists, cows and monkeys etc.
• A sign board announces entry for the Hindus only. People are jostling to go to the front. A policeman is not allowing saffron clad Westerners to enter. Monkeys and dogs are roaming freely there.
• The author is amused to see two monkeys fighting with each other, chasing and one jumps onto a Shivalinga.
• A corpse is being cremated on the bank of the river, washer women are busy doing their work, children bathing in it. A basket of old offerings is thrown from a balcony into the river.
• A small shrine half protrudes from the stone platform on the river bank. It's believed that when it emerges fully, the goddess inside will escape and the evil period of Kaliyug will end on the earth.
• In contrast Baudhnath Stupa is very calm. Its white dome is surrounded by a road, small shops surround it, no crowds, shops, mainly owned by Tibetan immigrants selling bags, jewellery, etc.
• Kathmandu is described as lively, commercial and a religious place having busy, narrow streets.
• Kathmandu market has fruits and flute sellers, hawkers, shops selling Western cosmetics, chocolates, antiques, film rolls etc.
• Noises of film songs, car horns, vendors shouting, cows roaming freely here and there.
• Author buys eatables and coca cola etc. for himself.
• He thinks of two plans to go back home, one by bus and train to Patna and then sailing up the Ganges and Yamuna. But being homesick he stuck to the second one, buys a next day ticket for direct flight to home.
• The author is fascinated by a flute seller standing in a corner of the square near his hotel.
• He has a pole on which many flutes are stuck like quills of a porcupine. He plays flutes whose sound is clearly audible in the traffic and hawker's noise. He doesn't have to shout for his product; Occasionally sells a flute, plays melodious tunes which impress the author.
• Flute is present in different cultures with different names with its specific fingering and compass. But author finds the commonality of all mankind in flute music.
• He observes that as we have to breathe to live, its playing also needs to pause and breathe to produce music.
• The melodious tunes of bansuri had never left him spell bound earlier.

11. IF I WERE YOU

-Douglas James

- Gerrard, a play wright, lives alone in a lonely cottage.
- After talking to someone on phone, he starts packing his travelling bag.
- Suddenly an intruder enters the cottage with a revolver in his hand, Gerrard smiles surprisingly.
- Gerrard tries to be calm. Intruder wants to know some facts about his life. When Gerrard tries to be humorous while answering his questions, he threatens to hurt him, if he would not answer.
- Gerrard tries to know his name but he is too clever to tell it, Instead he asks Gerrard's Christian name.
- Intruder inquires if he drives car and who often visit him the people. Though intruder has collected a lot of information about Gerrard, still he wants to confirm the facts.
- Gerrard tells him that only a few people—the baker, the green grocer and a quite charming milkman visit him.
- Gerrard again in a tricky way tries to know about him. Intruder asks him not to be smart he has a special motive and it would surprise him.
- Gerrard asks him what particular line of crime he embraces and intruder tells him that his speciality is jewel robbery.
- During conversation Gerrard says that there are a few jewels to rob in the Essex's forests. Intruder says that cops are also few. So he can comfortably relax.
- Gerrard amusingly tells him that he was not invited to live with him. Intruder says that his big surprise is that he is not going to live for long he will kill him soon.
- Intruder sarcastically tells him that he is sorry to kill him but he has to as he is wanted in a murder case and police is behind him. If he kills Gerrard he cannot be hanged twice for double murder.
- After killing Gerrard he will take on his identity and live comfortably. He has learnt Gerrard's style of talking and he will dress up like him with Gerrard's clothes.
- After listening all this Gerrard says to intruder that he cannot kill him, instead he will let him go and thank God for not killing him earlier.
- Now intruder is eager to know the reason and unintentionally tells Gerrard that he was doing a job in the town. Things went wrong and he killed a cop. since then he has been dodging. Intruder further tells him that he came to Aylesbury where he saw and listened to his conversation with two people.
He says that Gerrard seems mysterious to him. He is the right person to take on his identity.

- Gerrard tries to explain the mystery but intruder is no more interested in listening. He is paying much attention to Gerrard's way of talking, style of walking etc.
- He tells intruder that if he shoots, he will be surely be hanged if not as himself then as Vincent Charles Gerrard.
- Gerrard tells him that it was his surprise for him. If he is a criminal he is also not a gentleman. He says that his game is also over. Circumstances were not favourable so he ran away after firing bullets but one of his accomplices was captured. He is also expecting trouble that night. So his bag is packed and intruder finds in his bag, along with other things, false moustaches etc. which Gerrard says are disguise outfit.
- Gerrard offers him lift in his car to run away. To make him believe his words he shows disguise outfit in the bag as a proof.
- Gerrard tells the intruder that he has posted a man who will ring up on seeing police. Then bell rings and he instructs intruder to follow him as police has come.
- Gerrard opens the door and steps away. Intruder leans forward, to inspect whether he is speaking the truth, with side towards Gerrard, but revolver ready. As he turns his head and reaches near the cupboard, Gerrard pushes the intruder into the cupboard, knocking the revolver out of his hand and locks it from outside. Now Gerrard goes to the phone and calls the policeman (sergeant).

Heavy rains in Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan and Uttarakhand since Friday claimed 27 lives, even as rivers continued to be in spate in Bihar. Fifteen deaths were reported in Madhya Pradesh since Friday evening as the Met department predicted more showers and sounded heavy downpour alert for some districts on Sunday. "Three Indian Air Force aircraft dropped food packets and medicines and flooded areas of Rewa district," Collector Rahul Jain said. Seven people, including a woman and four minors, were killed and three others were injured when a house collapsed in Rahatgarh area of Sagar district on Saturday.

   Two people, including an old woman, were also killed and seven others were injured when a newly constructed building collapsed due to incessant rains at Maihar in Satna district. A jeep carrying two persons was swept away in the swollen Betwa river as it attempted to cross a bridge in Raisen district. Three bodies were recovered from a nullah on Saturday in Chhatarpur district. The victims were travelling in a car that was washed away off a bridge on the flooded nullah on Friday.

   In Rajasthan, five people were killed when their house collapsed in Phool Baroda village in Baran district due to incessant rains since Saturday morning that created a flood like situation in several parts of the state. Several people are feared stranded in Chabra, Chipabarode, Kawai, Harnavadashahaji areas as the Parvan, Parwati, Ujjad and other rivers are overflowing after the rains.

Seven members of a family were killed when their house was razed to the ground by huge boulders that rolled down the hill following a cloudburst in Pauri district of Uttarakhand on Saturday. The Army was called in to the flood affected areas of Saran district as senior officials also rushed to the spot. At least 24 people were airlifted in Baran district and nearby areas. Several villages remained inundated after water entered buildings, houses and a private power plant in Baran.

Q.2. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow.
(2x4+1x4=12 marks)

One more Olympics has gone by. A total of 974 medals were won by 87 countries; 54 countries won at least one Gold. The U.S. flew home with the best medal tally of all times for that country with 121 medals. Notwithstanding the individual brilliance and the face-saving medals of P.V.Sindhu and Sakshi Malik, India's performance is the poorest among all big countries.

The discourse on this is an unhappy one: there has been a lot of hand-wringing, blame on the Sports Ministry and sports administrators, complaints about lack of facilities, grumbles about corruption being the villain, and so on. India says the same things, once in four years, during and after every Olympics. It should instead look for simple lessons, develop a strategy to win medals and execute it diligently. No, I don't believe that India should be planning for the Olympics scheduled eight or twelve years from now. While long-term thinking is good, any leader will tell you that it is too slow. We should aim to win a lot more medals in Tokyo in 2020. But how?

The final medals tally by country tells all sorts of stories. The top 22 countries — those with a double-digit medals tally with a minimum of three gold medals — took home a total of 702 medals, or 72 per cent of all medals. The top ten suggests that only the established West (the U.S., Great Britain, Germany, France, Italy and Australia) along with Russia, Japan and South Korea will continue to dominate. The emergence of China is explained as "you know the Chinese can dictate anything, so they are not comparable." It is often implied that wealth and size are the reasons for the success of these countries. They have the facilities and programmes in place. They are bound to win. So goes the argument and acceptance.

This logic should be probed further. Olympics medals are won by people between the ages of 15 to 29, with a few exceptions on either side of this age band. I looked at the number of medal wins in relation to the population in the age group 15 to 29 in each country, for which data is available. This was juxtaposed with medals won, to calculate the numbers of medals won per lakh of population in this age group. The story changes dramatically.

(a) What was the result of Olympics?
(b) How can India stand at a strong position in Olympics?
(c) How do the other countries dominate in Olympics?
(d) What are the short comings for the poor position in Olympics?
(e) Identify the word which means the same as 'a plan of action' (Para2)

Solved Sample Question Paper No.2
English (Language & Literature)
Class : IX

Time : 3 Hrs. M. M. : 80

General Instructions:
(i) The question paper has been divided into three sections:
   Sections A: Reading 20 marks
   Sections B: Writing & Grammar 30 marks
   Section C: Literature/Textbooks 30 marks
(ii) All questions are compulsory.
(iii) Marks are indicated against each question.

SECTION 'A' : READING (20 MARKS)

1. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow. 1 x 8 = 8

1. Necessity is indeed the mother of invention. When areas in and around Leh began to experience water shortages, life didn’t grind to a halt. Why? Because Chewang Norphel, a retired civil engineer in the Jammu and Kashmir government came up with the idea of artificial glaciers.

2. Ladakh, a cold desert at an altitude of 3,000-3,500 metres above sea level, has a low average annual rainfall rate of 50mm. Glaciers have always been the only source of water. Agriculture is completely dependent on glacier melt unlike the rest of river/monsoon-fed India. But over the years with increasing effects of climate change, rainfall and snowfall patterns have been changing, resulting in severe shortage and drought situations. Given the severe winter conditions, the window for farming is usually limited to one harvest season.

3. It is located between the natural glacier above and the village below. The one closer to the village and lowest in altitude melts first, providing water during April/May, the crucial sowing season. Further layers of ice above melt with increasing temperature thus ensuring continuous supply to the fields. Thus, farmers have been able to manage two crops instead of one. It costs about Rs.1,50,000 and above to create one.

4. Fondly called the "glacier man", Mr. Norphel has designed over 15 artificial glaciers in and around Leh since 1987. In recognition of his pioneering effort, he was conferred the Padma Shri by President Pranab Mukherjee, in 2015.

5. There are a few basic steps followed in creating the artificial glacier.

6. River or stream water at higher altitude is diverted to a shaded area of the hill, facing north, where the winter sun is blocked by a ridge or a mountain range. At the start of winter/November, the diverted water is made to flow onto sloping hill through distribution channels. Stone embankments are built at regular intervals which impede the flow of water, making shallow pools and freeze, forming a cascade of ice along the slope. Ice formation continues for 3-4 months resulting in a large accumulation of ice which is referred to as an "artificial glacier". (349 words)

1.1 Attempt any eight of the following questions on the basis of the passage: (1x8=8Marks)

i. Who was Chewang Norphel?

ii. What kind of land form is Ladakh?

iii. Have been the only source of water for Ladakh?

iv. The pattern of snowfall and rainfall has changed because ..........

v. Glaciers are significant for irrigation because .............

vi. Farmers manage to grow two crops instead of one as .................

vii. In which year did President Pranab Mukherjee confer Padma Shri to Mr. Norphel?

viii. How many months does the ice formation continue for?

   a) 2-3  n) 1-2  c) 3-4  d) 4-5

ix. Find the word in the passage 6 which means the same as 'gathering'?

   a) distribution  b) continues  c) blocked  d) accumulation

Q2. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow:

1. Have you ever failed at something so miserably that the thought of attempting to do it again was the last thing you wanted to do?

2. If your answer is yes, then you are "not a robot." Unlike robots, we human beings have feelings, emotions, and dreams. We are all meant to grow and stretch despite our circumstances and our limitations. Flourishing and trying to make our dreams come true is great when life is going our way. But what happens when it's not? What happens when you fail despite all of your hard work? Do you stay down and accept the defeat or do you get up again and again until you are satisfied? If you have a tendency to persevere and keep going then you have what experts call, grit.

3. Falling down or failing is one of the most agonizing, embarrassing, and scariest human experiences. But it is also one of the most educational, empowering, and essential parts of living a successful and fulfilling life. Did you know that perseverance (grit) is one of the seven qualities that have been described as the keys to personal success and betterment in society? The other six are: curiosity, gratitude, optimism, self-control, social intelligence, and zest. Thomas Edison is a model for grit for trying 1,000 plus times to invent the light bulb. If you are reading this with the lights on in your room, you know well he succeeded. When asked why he kept going despite his hundreds of failures, he merely stated that what he had gone though are not failures. They were hundreds of ways not to create a light bulb. This statement not only revealed his grit but also his optimism for looking at the bright side.

4. Grit can be learned to help you become more successful. One of the techniques that helps is mindfulness. Mindfulness is a practice that helps the individual stay in the moment by bringing awareness of his or her experience without judgement. This practice has been used to quiet the noise of their fears and doubts. Through this simple practice of mindfulness, individuals have the ability to stop the self-sabotaging downward spiral of hopelessness, despair, and frustration.

5. What did you do to overcome the negative and self-sabotaging feelings of failure? Reflect on what you did, and try to use those same powerful resources to help you today.

2.1 On the basis of your reading of the passage, answer the following questions in about 30-40 words each. (2x4=8)

i. According to the passage, what are the attributes of a human?

ii. What is perceived as grit?

iii. How is 'failing' an educational and empowering part of human life?

iv. How does mindfulness help?

2.2 On the basis of your reading of the passage, answer the following: 1x4=4

i. While inventing the light bulb, Thomas Edison had failed_____
a. 1000 plus times   b. 10000 plus times \\

1. Read the passage given below and complete the sentence that follow :

There is a story about a lioness, who was big and young going about in search of pray. Seeing a flock of sheep, she jumped upon them. She died in this and a little baby lion was born, motherless. It was taken care of by the sheep. The sheep brought it up. It grew up with them, ate grass and bleated like sheep. And in time it became a big full grown lion, thinking it to be a sheep.

One day another lion came in search of prey and was astonished to find that in the midst of this flock of sheep was a lion, bleating like sheep at the approach of danger. He tried to get near the sheep lion to tell it that it was not a sheep but a lion, but the poor animal fled at this approach. However he watched for his opportunity and one day found the sheep-lion sleeping. He approached it and said."You are a lion." "I am a sheep," cried the other lion and could not believe the contrary, but bleated. The Lion dragged him towards a lake and said, "Look here, here is my reflection and yours." Then came the comparison. He looked at the lion and then at his own reflection and in a moment came the idea that he was a lion. The lion roared, the bleating was gone.

Q.2 Read the passage given below:

Cardamom, the queen of all spices, has a history as old as the human race. It is the dried fruits of a herbaceous perennial plant. Warm humid climate, loamy soil rich in organic matter, distributed rainfall and special cultivation and processing methods all combine to make Indian cardamom truly unique in aroma, flavour, size and it has a parrot green colour.

Two types of cardamom are produced in India. The first type is the large one, which has not much significance as it is not traded in the future market. It is cultivated in North-Eastern area of the country. The second type is produced in the Southern states and these are traded in the future market. These are mainly cultivated in Kerala, Tamilnadu and Karnataka. As per the future market rules, only 7mm quality was previously traded in exchanges. But later, it relaxed its norms, and now 6mm quality is also traded in the exchange.

Cardamom is an expensive spice, second only to saffron. Indian cardamom is known in two main varieties: Malabar cardamon and Mysore Cardamon. The Mysore variety contains levels of cineol and limonene and hence is more aromatic.

India was the world's largest producer and exporter of cardamon till the 1980s. By 1990s Guatemala emerged as the leading producer and exporter of cardamon.

The main harvest season of cardamon in India between August-February. Cardamon reaches yielding stage two years after planting. The primary physical markets of cardamon are kumily, Vandenmodu, Jhekkady, Puliyarmala in Kerala and Bodynaikkkanur and Cumbum in Tamil Nadu.

Kerala is the main producer of cardamon and contributes up to 60% in total production. Karnataka produces around 25% cardamom of the total production. Ooty is the main producer of cardamom in Tamil Nadu and contributes around 10-15% of the total production.

Besides India, Guatemala also produces around 2,200 ton cardamom. On the other hand India produces nearly 1,000 - 2,000 ton cardamom per year. Due to low quality of cardamom from Guatemala, it remains available at cheaper rates.

On the basis of your reading of the above passage answer the following questions :-

(a) Why is Indian Cardamon unique?
(b) What is the special about the Mysore quality of cardamon?
(c) What role does Guatemala play in the Indian market?
