FACTUAL PASSAGE - 4

Read the following passage carefully. On the basis of your reading answer the given questions :-

(1x8=8)

1. Madhubani painting originated in a region, known as Mithila. In the state of Bihar. Initially, the womenfolk of the village made the paintings on the walls of their home, as an illustration of their thoughts, hopes and dreams. With time, the paintings started becoming a part of festivities and special events such as birth, marriage festivals etc.
2. The traditional base of freshly plastered mud wall of huts has now been replaced by cloth, handmade paper and canvas. Since the paintings have been confined to a limited geographical range, the themes as well as the style are, more or less, the same. Mithila paintings make use of three-dimensional images and the colors that are used are derived mainly from plants.
3. Themes of the Mithila painting of Bihar revolve around Hindu mythology and nature. One can also find paintings based on scenes from the royal courts and social events, like weddings. If any empty space is left after painting the main theme, it is filled up with the motifs of flowers, animals and birds or geometric designs. The first reference to the Maithili painting of Bihar dates back to the time of Ramayana, when king Janaka ordered the paintings to be created for his daughter, Sita's wedding.
4. The brush used for Madhubani paintings is traditionally, cotton wrapped around a bamboo stick. The artists themselves prepare the colors that are use for the paintings. Black color is made by adding soot to cow dung; yellow by combining turmeric (or pollen or lime) with the milk of banyan leaves, blue from indigo; red from the kusam flower juice or red sandalwood; green from the leaves of the wood apple tree; white from rice powder and orange from palash flowers. There is no shading in the application of colors. A double line is drawn for outlines and the gap is filled with either cross or tiny straight lines. The linear Maithili paintings do not even require application of colours; only the outlines are drawn.

a) The Mithila paintings generally illustrate __________________________

b) The Madhubani paintings are an integral part of ______________________

Laughter Yoga
(Un Solved)

1. The most important principle behind laughter yoga or the most significant driving force is the theory that motion creates Emotion. Quite a few people wonder how a person can laugh when he is in no mood to laugh or when one doesn’t have any reason to laugh. However, the answer is very simple. For, there is a well established link between the body and the mind. Whatever happens to the mind happens to the body as well. I remember my father once telling me, “Son, if you are sad or feeling a bit low, don’t sit idle. Keep doing some physical work or go for a walk or do some jogging or go out to play some cricket or football. You’ll feel better”.

2. Laughter yoga aims to use the two way body mind link to change the state of mind through voluntary physical gestures which include repetitive clapping, chanting, specific body movement along with laughter and breathing exercises.

3. Laughter is all about playfulness. Have you ever wondered why children laugh 300 to 400 times a day whereas adults would consider themselves very fortunate if they manage laughter 10 to 15 times a day? This is because of the seriously wicked tool called the brain! Adults use their brains first to comprehend humour and then decide if they have to laugh.

4. Whereas the laughter of the children comes straight from the body and happily they don’t make use of intellectual capacity of the brain for it.
Laughter Yoga is a new twist to an ancient practice. Not only does it increase happiness, but it also strengthens the immune system, reduces pain and lowers stress. More contagious than a cough or sneeze, laughter relaxes the whole body. It triggers the release of endorphins, promoting an overall sense of well being.

So laugh voluntarily and beat stress.

1. Millions of people are unwillingly pouring hundreds of tonnes of tiny plastic beads down the drain. These can persist in the environment for more than 100 years. and have been found to contaminate a wide variety of fresh water and marine wildlife.

2. Few consumers realize, that many cosmetic products, such as facial scrubs toothpastes and shower gels, contain thousands of micro plastic beads which have been deliberately added by the manufacturers of consumer products over the past two decades.

3. Plastic microbeads, which are typically less than a millimetre wide and are too small to be filtered by sewage treatment plants are able to carry deadly toxins into the animals that ingest them, including those in the human food chain such as fish, mussels and crabs.

4. While many people have tried to recycle their plastic waste, Cosmetic companies have at the same time been quietly adding hundreds of cubic metres of plastic such as polyethylene to products. One estimate suggests that in the U.S. alone, upto 1200 cubic metres of micro plastic beads are washed down to the drains each year.

5. Scientists and environmentalists have started lobbying against the industry to stop using plastic microbeads in exfoliant skin creams and washes (handwash, face wash etc.), but with a limited success- relatively small number of firms have publically agreed to phase them out. Britain, along with the rest of the EU is being urged to follow the lead of New York state, which last week became the first place to prohibit the use of plastic microbeads in cosmetic products after a failure by the personal care companies to agree to an immediate voluntary ban.

6. The New York State Assembly decided to act after the scientists found the disturbing levels of plastic microbeads in the great Lakes of North America. The researchers said that the microbeads arrived in waste water contaminated with the micro plastic residues of more than 100 consumer products including facial scrubs, soaps, shampoos and toothpaste.

7. “People are unwilling to sacrifice water quality just to continue using products with microbeads. I never met anyone who has wanted plastic on their face or in their fish”, said Robert Sweeny, chairperson of the Assembly Conservation Committee, after last week’s unanimous vote to ban the use of micro-beads in personal care products.

8. The U.K’s House of Commons Science and Technology Committee last year, heard evidence of the impact that microplastic waster could be having on aquatic environment. Some panel members now want tougher laws against the cosmetic firms which continue to use them.

Global Warming
Passage-9

Global warming is the term used to describe a gradual increase in the average temperature of the Earth's atmosphere and its oceans, a change that is believed to be permanently changing the Earth's climate. There is great debate among many people, and sometimes in the news, on whether global warming is real (some call it a hoax). But climate scientists looking at the data and facts agree the planet is warming. While many view the effects of global warming to be more substantial and more rapidly occurring than others do, the scientific consensus on climatic changes related to global warming is that the average temperature of the Earth has risen between 0.4 and 0.8 °C over the past 100 years. The increased volumes of carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases released by the burning of fossil fuels, land clearing, agriculture, and other human activities, are believed to be the primary sources of the global warming that has occurred over the past 50 years. Scientists from the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate carrying out global warming research have recently predicted that average global temperatures could increase between 1.4 and 5.8 °C by the year 2100. Changes resulting from global warming may include rising sea levels due to the melting of the polar ice caps, as well as an increase in occurrence and severity of storms and other severe weather events.

Questions:
1. Global Warming can be described as ___________.
2. Climate scientists agree that ________________.
3. The temperature of the earth has risen between ____________.
4. Primary sources of global warming are _____________.
5. Green house gases are released due to ____________.
6. Scientists from the Intergovernmental panel on climate carrying out global warming research have predicted ___________.
7. The possible consequences of global warming could be _______.
8. In the next 90 years the temperature on the surface of the Earth _____.
9. Which word in the passage means the same as 'agreement' Para I. The sea levels may rise because _____________.

Passage - 10

Read the passage carefully and answer the question that follow:-

1. Research has shown that the human mind can process words at the rate of about 500 per minute, whereas a speaker speaks at the rate of about 150 words a minute. The difference between the two at 350 is quite large. So a speaker must make every effort to retain the attention of the audience and the listener should also be careful not to let his mind wander. Good communication calls for good listening skills. A good speaker must necessarily be a good listener.

2. Listening starts with hearing but goes beyond . Hearing in other words is necessary but not a sufficient condition for listening. Listening involves hearing with attention. Listening is a process that calls for attention and concentration. While listening one should be observant. In other words, listening has to do with the ears as well as with the eyes and the mind. It calls for participation and involvement. It is quite often a dialogue rather than a monologue. It is necessary to make it abundantly clear that one is interested in knowing what the other person has to say.

3. Good Listening is an art that can be cultivated. A good listener knows the art of getting much more than what the speaker is trying to convey. He knows how to prompt, persuade but not to cut off or interrupt what the other person has to say. At times, the speaker may or may not be coherent, articulate and well-organised in his thoughts and expressions. He may have it in his mind yet he fails to marshal the right words while communicating his thoughts. Nevertheless, a good listener puts him at ease, helps him articulate and facilitates him for listening to be effective, it is also necessary that barriers to listening are removed. Such barriers can be both physical and psychological. Physical barriers generally relate to hindrances to proper hearing whereas psychological barriers are more fundamental and relate to interpretation and evaluation of the speaker and the message.

Discursive Passage (Solved) Discipline

Read the passage

1. What is discipline? Is it absolute freedom to do what a person wants? Is freedom regardless of consequences? Does it mean corrective action after a problem occurs or a wrong is done? Is it imposition? Is it abuse? Does it take away freedom?

2. The answer is none of the above. Discipline does not mean that a person takes a belt and beats up kids. That is madness, discipline is loving firmness. It is direction. It is prevention before a problem arises. It is harnessing and channeling energy for great performance. Discipline is not something you do to yourself but you do for those you care about.

3. Discipline is an act of love. Sometimes you have to be unkind to be kind. Not all medicines are sweet, not all surgeries are painless, but we have to take them. We need to learn from nature. We are all familiar with that big animal, the giraffe. A mama giraffe gives birth to a baby giraffe standing. All of a sudden the baby falls on a ground from the cushion of Mama’s womb and sits on the ground. The first thing mama does is to get behind the baby and give him a hard kick. The baby gets up but sits down again. Mama keeps kicking till the baby gets on its feet and starts moving. Why? Because mama knows that the only chance of survival for the baby in the jungle is on its feet. Otherwise it will be eaten up by wild cats and become dead meat.
Children brought up in a loving, disciplined, environment end up respecting their parents more and become law abiding citizens. The reverse is just as true. Good parents are not afraid of momentary dislike by children to enforce the subject. Allowing a child to eat a box of chocolate could lead to sickness. At the same time, the discipline of eating one or two pieces a day can be an enjoyable experience for a longer time. Our instinct makes us do whatever we want regardless of consequences. Freedom is not procured by a full enjoyment of what is desired but the controlling of the desire.

Dramatic Growth
(Unsolved) - II

Read the passage given below if can their.

1. Drama is an artistic activity and is taught in schools to help in the holistic growth of children and is an effective tool to enhance personality.

2. Theatre classes provide an opportunity for self-activity so that students become active partners in their development. Children engaged in regular acting activities gain confidence Choral recitation sessions in a drama class can help discard diffidence and build confidence. Training in voice modulation, good pronunciation, articulated speech and appropriate body language enables students to measure the art of public speaking and effective communication.

3. Activities such as dialogue writing, script writing and role-play work miracles in honing communication skills. Children of the age group of 10 to 12 are often clumsy in their physical movements and posture. Through acting children learn to be aware of and respect each other’s space. Through controlled and studied movements of the body, self discipline, restraint, grace and poise are acquired. By flinging arms up above one’s head, sheer joy or utter despair can be expressed.

5. Children in a drama class learn to appreciate theatre as a living art and an expression of culture. School productions and annual day plays provide an opportunity to create cultural awareness. After all children should not be deprived of the most exciting and enjoyable aspect of theatre like the fun-filled rehearsals, the donning of costumes, make up and acting.

6. Production work is the time when children can learn about the nuances and technicalities of staging a play. It is amazing how they can improvise on snack boxes for sound effects and use an emergency lamp for lighting. Rehearsals also help children develop a spirit of teamwork where individuals, while striving for excellence, sacrifice themselves for the good of the team.

iii) submissive  iv) narrow
Read the passage given below:

1. It is not unusual to see enticing queries on Facebook– "which celebrity–do I most resemble", "How long will you live’ or "Who hates you most on F.B. list".

2. When you give access to third party websites by signing in via Facebook, the websites collect data to measure your popularity by counting the number of likes you get from each person. This gives them access to their profiles and this information, in turn, is sold to e-commerce players looking for commerce insights, or on the dark web.

"An equally popular method is online contests. Many times your screen flashes a message – "Take a simple survey and win a chance to get an I phone 10" – and the site asks for a payment of $1, which is immediately reversed to your account. This makes you think the site is credible. But the real reason is that they want your bank details as overseas payments require only card number and CVV (single factor authentication) "Most frauds come from e-commerce players, and no longer ATM or print of safe machine related skimming" said Loney Antony, managing director, Hitachi Payments.

Facebook says it cannot he held liable for third party websites when a link carries the user outside of Facebook's platform.

3. For frauds on its platform, a Facebook spokes-person said "Our computer models' analyse hundreds of details of every payment to help our specialists block fraud and recognise when payment information has been stolen. In rare cases of fraud on a users account, we'll work with the user to secure the account again and help her take steps to remove the fraudulent charge."

4. Nitin Bhatnagar, a vice president at global payment security specialty SISA information security said when customers pay for chips to play games on the international websites, they store your card number, expiry date and CVV without seeking your permission.

5. "I would advise people to regularly monitor the privacy settings on social media accounts. Many websites can be accessed via Google or FB and many of them tend to skip registration. Check privacy settings and revoke the access given to various sites even if you logged onto it just once as it can still be getting data streamed from your feed." Bhatnagar added.

So the fun that you first had at the click of a key may land you into deep trouble. Be careful!

Peer Pressure

1. Peer pressure is a phenomenon wherein we tend to get influenced by the lifestyle and the ways of thinking of our peers. Peer pressure can prove beneficial but it is most often observed to have negative effects.

2. The thought, behaviour and taste in fashion, music, television and other walks of life of the masses are often seen to have a deep impact on society. We tend to get influenced by the lifestyle of our peer group. The changing ways of life of our peers often force us to change our ways of looking at life and leading it. It is a human tendency to do what the crowd does. Few have the courage to resist the peer pressure and be their own selves rather than being one among the lot. Peer pressure is bound to affect most of us both positively and negatively. The distinction between positive and negative peer pressure lies in a thoughtful analysis of the views of the masses. Following your peers blindly leaves a negative impact on your life while an analytical approach of looking at peer behaviour can help you act positively. Peer pressure is not always bad. It can help you analyze yourself and contemplate on your ways of life. Some of the practices that the masses follow may actually teach you the way of living. You may be able to change yourself for the better. Looking at what others do, can help you bring about a positive change in your way of thinking. If you can pick selectively, peer pressure can actually result in a positive change in your way of life.

3. Teenage is that phase of life when you are exposed to the world outside. These are the years when you spend most of your time with your friends. Teenage is the phase of beginning to become independent in life, the years of forming your ideals and principles, the years that shape your personality and the years that introduce you to your own self. As adolescents you often spend most of your daily time with friends and owing to this, you tend to imitate your friends. The people around you are bound to influence you. However, the effect of the influences of the masses is greater during your teen years. Parents have a vital role to play during this phase of your life. Parents and teachers need to be careful while dealing with teenagers, as they are most susceptible to succumb to peer pressure during these years of their life. Teenage individuals need to be taught to distinguish between the good and the bad, the right and the wrong and should be taught to be thoughtful in life.

3. A strong support from family, an ability to differentiate between positive and the negative and a skill to choose friends from among the peers - this pronged strategy is the best way to keep away from negative peer pressure.

2.1 Attempt any four of the following questions on the basis of the passage you have read in 30-40 words each— (2×4=8)

   b. What needs courage ?
   c. Name any two factors which can help you gain from peer pressure.
   d. State any two characteristics of teenage.

1. A large variety of materials go into the making of a launch vehicle—both metallic and non-metallic, which include composites and ceramics. In metals, different types of stainless steel, alloys of aluminium, magnesium, titanium, copper, beryllium, tungsten and molybdenum are used.

2. Composite materials are composed of a mixture or combination of two or more constituents which differ in form and material composition and which are essentially insoluble in one another. The materials which combine may be metallic, organic or inorganic. While other material combinations possible are virtually unlimited, the most typical composites in launch vehicles are made of structural constituents, embedded in a matrix. We used a large variety of glass fiber reinforced plastic composites and opened avenues for the entry of Kevlar, polyamides and carbon-carbon composites. Ceramics are special types of baked clay used for microwave transparent enclosures. We considered using ceramics, but had to reject the idea then due to technological limitations.

3. Through mechanical engineering, these materials are transformed into hardware. In fact, of all the engineering disciplines which feed directly into the development of rocketry, mechanical engineering is perhaps the most intrinsic one. Be it a sophisticated system like a liquid engine or a piece of hardware as simple as a fastener, its ultimate fabrication calls for expert mechanical engineers and precision machine tools. We decided to develop important technologies like welding techniques for low-alloy stainless steel, electroforming techniques, and ultra-precision process tooling. We also decided to make some important machines in house, like the 254-litre vertical mixer and the groove machining facility for our third and fourth stages. Many of our subsystems were so massive and complex that they implied sizeable financial outlays.

4. Without any hesitation, we approached industries in the private sector and developed contract management plans which later became blueprints for many government-run science and technology business organizations.

DISCURSIVE PASSAGE - 6

Read the passage given below:

Stories for Children

1. Parents are changing the plots of classic fairy-tales when reading them aloud because of violence and political incorrectness, a new survey has found. Traditional fables such as 'Little Red Riding Hood', 'The Ginger Bread man and 'The three little pigs'' were deemed the worst offenders, with parents linking some of their endings to horror films.

2. The poll which was commissioned by Music Magpie included 2000 parents and revealed that one in four took creative liberties when sharing fairytales with their children to suit their beliefs and ideologies. Meanwhile, another 16% confessed to banning them altogether.

3. While these classic tales might seem playful and innocent on the surface, a closer look at the plot, lines and characters reveals some problematic traits. For examples, in "Little Red Riding Hood, 'The child is eaten alive by a wolf, only to be saved by a hunter who cuts her out of the animal's stomach with an axe. "The three little pigs also reaches a rather gory conclusion with the pigs murdering a wolf and eating it. Lest we forget 'The Gingerbread Man, whose protagonist is also eaten by a fox. It is an ending that's hard for parents to swallow, with one of them labelling it as 'too cruel' in the survey.

4. However, deeper analysis into some of the nations most popular tales unveiled even further issues with regards to political correctness. One in four parents found it inappropriate that 'Cindrella has to do all of the cleaning in her home while another 25% argued that 'sleeping beauty' poses a consent issue, given that prince charming kisses the princess while she is asleep. Mean while 27% believe that 'Pinocchio' encourages children to tell lies lines while one in four claim that 'The Ugly Duckling' in which an abused duckling is only accepted by society after he has grown into a swan, advocates body shaming.
5. "Some of these stories have been around for generations. But times have charged and there are elements to these classics which for some don't really fit into society as they once did. We all agree that stories play a vital role in the growth and development of children. The books they read and the characters they get to know can become like friends. Reading stories also helps children with their confidence levels, coping with emotions and language learning.

6. So stories are a great way to learn in a natural way as there is no teaching involved in it. The learners learn from simply reading the story. The choice of stories must be judicious. The reading appropriate.

DISCURSIVE PASSAGE - 7

Read the passage given below:

1. After a long day out in the scorching sun at Nizamuddin Railway Station, having checked out every bit of garbage disposed off train, a group of rag pickers gathered for a chat in a rain swept shelter. This was not regular gathering for them. It was a mother's day gathering.

2. Most children had never heard the word but grew emotional once they got to know what the day signified. Gifts for their mothers ranged from promises of not running away, to earning enough to assure their mothers of some comfort some day.

3. When it came to actual celebration for the day, a group of boys at centre run by Chetna, an NGO, near the station, surrounded Manjula Rai. Some even pulled her hair and the rowdy one calmed down after a stern glance from her: For many boys and girls, this 47 years old social worker is a face recognized as a help at hand. For quite a few of them, Manjula is the 'mother' who influences them.

4. When they settled down to talk, the children at Chetna, related their aspirations with thoughtful intent. Vikas Kumar, who felt shy to pronounce the word 'Mother's Day' said he was determined to secure some day, quality life for his mother, who was a domestic worker. His promise to his mother on Mother's Day was to take out his mother from a rented house and to give her a home with a better life, some day.

5. Vikas left school when he was just 9, but is now a motivator for other boys to break free of ragpicking and study through the open school system. Today, Vikas who is a class VII student is a pride of the centre and Manjula has been a part of his journey all through. She

Read the passage carefully. On the basis of your reading, answer the given questions:

1. An escalating epidemic of overweight and obesity is affecting many countries in the world. More than 300 people are overweight or obese. Obesity could be reason specific. In India, the Marwaris tend to be overweight because of their high calorie diet and lack of physical activities. In the United States, obesity is more prevalent in lower economic groups.

2. Obesity is now well recognized as a disease in its own right. Thought obesity commonly means very overweight, it is defined as an excess amount of body weight that includes muscle, bone, fat and water. "Obesity" specifically refers to an excess amount of body fat. Some people, such as body builders or other athletes with a lot of muscle, can be overweight without being obese.

3. A certain amount of body fat is needed for stored energy, heat-insulation, shock absorption and other functions. Generally, women have more body fat than men. Usually men with more than 20% body fat and women with more 30% body fat are regarded as obese.

4. Obesity occurs when a person consumes more calories than he or she burns. Genetic, environmental, psychological and other factors may all play a part in causing this imbalance.

5. Obesity tends to run in families, suggesting a genetic cause. Environmental factors mean lifestyle behaviours such as what a person eats and his or her level of physical activity. Although you cannot change your genetic makeup, you can change your eating habits and levels of activity. You can learn how to choose more nutritious meals which are low in fats and become more active.

6. Then there are the psychological factors. Negative emotions such as boredom, sadness or anger are factors due to which people overeat. There is also binge eating when people eat large amounts of food thinking that they cannot control how much they are eating. Those with the most severe binge eating problems are also likely to have symptoms of depression and low self esteem. These people may have more difficulty in losing weight and keeping it off than people without binge eating problems.

7. Obesity is more than a cosmetic problem; it is a health hazard. Several serious medical conditions have been linked to obesity, including type two diabetes, heart disease, high blood pressure and stroke. Obesity is also linked to higher rates of certain types of cancer. Other disease and health problems linked to obesity include gall bladder disease and gallstones, liver disease, osteoarthritis which leads to deterioration of joints, gout which also affects the joints and reproductive problems in women.

8. Studying a large, diverse group of children in the US, researchers found that rapid weight gain during the first four months of life was associated with an increased risk of being overweight at age seven, regardless of birth weight and weight at one year.

9. As the trend is to equate attractiveness with slimness, especially for women, obesity makes people feel unattractive. The method of treatment depends on the level of obesity, overall health condition and motivation to lose weight. Treatment may include a combination of diet, exercise, behavior modification and sometimes weight-loss drugs.

10. The benefits of exercise are much more than any other way of losing weight. Not only does exercise help you lose weight but it also improves your fitness and flexibility and improves skin texture. Exercise is also free from the harmful side effects of crash dieting, slimming capsules and the heat treatment used by slimming centres.
2.1 Answer the following questions briefly. 2×4=8

a. What is obesity? Mention any two psychological factors that cause obesity.

b. Why is obesity considered a health hazard?

c. What are the possible methods of treatment for obesity?

d. How is exercise the best method of losing weight?

e. Mention two environmental factors that cause obesity.

a. increasing (para i)

(i) prevalent (ii) tend

(iii) escalating (iv) overweight

b. concerning outward appearance (para vii)

(i) deterioration (ii) hazard

(iii) reproductive (iv) cosmetic

Read the passage given below:

1. A youngster quit Facebook in December after spending over three years on social networking site. With that one act, he bid a silent adieu to more than 300 contacts that he had added to his account during the period. Last week a new feature on Facebook called timeline forced him to reconsider the pros and cons of being on the networking site.

2. "Everyone has some skeletons in their closet and I am just not comfortable with Facebook digging out and displaying all the facts of my life on a bulletin board", says this youngster who joined the network in July 2013 while he was in class - XI.

3. Facebook, you see, had compressed the time, he spent on the site and arranged it in chronological order. And while he initially liked the new neatly organised scrapbook like feature, he wasn't happy to reveal posts from the past, those that, until recently, were hidden under layers and layers of recent updates. Just clicking on a date on the timeline could transport his friends back in time and enable them to view every embarrassing comment, link or photo he had posted on his profile.

4. "I think it's a recipe for disaster," he says. "In 2013, I had some wall posts, which seemed appropriate at a time, but now after a lapse of four years, I have moved on and don't want them to be openly displayed for all to see."

5. And he is not alone. Many users, worried about how Facebook activity could possibly effect their offline lives, are choosing to commit 'Facebook Suicide'. While some have privacy concerns, others feel that, the site that was meant to bring them closer to their friends actually does the opposite - it reduces their friendship to something superficial.
6. "Poking and liking are not enough to keep a friendship going", says a business analyst. Having quit Facebook three years ago, she prefers meeting her 'real' friends face to face, instead of reading their trite posts online. "On Facebook, people hype everyday issues including what they ate and where they went on daily basis", says this analyst who continues to use twitter.

7. "Facebook has become a time sink and it could not justify the time I spent on it, "he says, "I spend more time calling up friends or relatives over the phone now......I also go out and meet people whenever possible and have a good offline life. I do not regret the change." Today, Facebook has 800 million users of which 37 million are Indians. The site has become an online identity for most, and many of those who decided to quit cannot overcome the withdrawal symptoms and return. Facebook, fully aware of its addictive powers, facilitates this return by allowing users to 'deactivate' their accounts but continues to store information on its servers so that they can return from their 'break', whenever they wish.

2.1 On the basis of your reading of the passage, answer any four of the following in about 30-40 words each.

a. What did the youngster do with his Facebook account and why?

b. Why are people generally not comfortable about their past being revealed?

c. Why is Facebook called 'A recipe for disaster'?

d. What is meant by 'Facebook suicide'?

e. How does Facebook take the advantage of its addictive power among the users?

c. In Para 3, Antonym of the word 'reveal' is ...............

   (iv) will have no effect

e. Find the phrase in Para 1 which means same as "The advantages and disadvantages"
DISCURSIVE PASSAGE - 10

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follows:

How my life changed its Course

1. Ever since I can remember, I always felt I was stupid, really stupid. I lost my father when I was three. Since I was a sick child, a polio victim, I lived with my grandmother in Mumbai so I could avail of the metro's advanced medical facilities. I remember being on the streets all day, playing or lazing around.

2. When I turned ten, my mother and my sister came to live in Mumbai too. My sister was a bright student, always securing high grades. She and my mother encouraged me to study, but I just could not bring myself to concentrate on any subject. I would get bored and feel sleepy when forced to open my books. After innumerable lectures on the importance of studying had failed, mother tried threats as well, but nothing worked, I truly believed I was stupid; no matter how much I worked, it would not help.

3. One afternoon, as always, I was sitting under a tree in the school premises eating potato wafers when I saw a former classmate approaching me. Aditi and I had been in the same class the year before. I had failed sixth grade and had to repeat the year; Aditi had topped the class and was the brightest student of the seventh grade too. I finched much as soon as I saw her walk towards me. 'Hi,' she said. 'Hi' I replied, but not with much enthusiasm; I wanted her to leave. I continued to eat my chips. Ignoring my coldness, she sat down next to me. For five minutes neither of us spoke and then she asked, 'Is Devika your real sister?' Yes, she is, I answered.

4. So how come she does not teach you so that you too can do well? She asked. I peered at her, wondering if she was making fun of me, but all I could see on her face was earnestness. No, she is not trying to tease me, I decided. This time I answered a little more warmly, "She tries to, but I don't like studying. Why not? I am sure you can get good grades too", she said emphatically. 'No, I can't I have no brains. God forgot to give me brain, health or beauty. He gave me nothing.'

5. "That's not true. And anyway, health and beauty can't be helped, but God has given brains to everyone, we only have to learn to use it.' I shook my head, 'No, I have difficulty in concentrating, and books bore me; there me; there is no hope for me. Please leave me alone. I am stupid, and always will be.' With the gentlest tone that she could muster she said, "I can prove it to you that you are not stupid. Give me one chance, I will teach you to study.'

6. Though I was softening from inside, I still held on to my low self-esteem. You'll be wasting your time. I cannot study, I am not as bright as you and not lucky as my sister," I said 'Let me try and help you, please. I will show you the right way to study. You just have to cooperate with me. Will you try?' Her belief in me proved more powerful than my doubts about myself. She won and I relented.

2.1 On the basis of your reading of the passage, answer any four of the following in about 30-40 words each. 2×4=8

b. The writer lacked interest in her studies. Why?
c. Why was the writer not a very confident or assertive girl?
d. How does God help everyone in life?
e. Why did the writer not study even while her sister Devika tried to help not study her?

2.2. On the basis of your reading of the passage, answer any four of the following: 1×4=4

a) From the passage find one word which means the same as "Make a sudden movement as a result of pain, fear, surprise etc". (para-3)

e) With the .... tone that she could muster she said, "I can prove it to you'.

An effective Article should include the following:

A Title — It is the heading – could be a word, phrase of sentence.

A Body — The body may consist of several paragraphs and is usually structured in three parts.

(i) WHAT: ‘What’ is the Article all about........... . The topic can be explained and elaborated upon in this para. The verbal Input /Visual Input may be used but one should not lift sentences directly from it. It must be the writers interpretation of the input since this is the beginning of the Article/write up, the following sentences may help.

- As we move ahead in the 21st century we are confronted with problems like ............ (connect the topic)
- It is deplorable that ............. .
- (Topic) ............ has grown like a tumour. It has strengthened its foot hold on the Indian Scenario.

• It is a slur on civilization.

(ii) SO WHAT: ‘So What’ as the phrase suggests are the ill effects/repurcussions of what has been talked about in para one. So it would list how affected we are. The following lines may be of use to write this para. State the effect taking help from the verbal Input and add..........

• Warning bells are ringing aloud. We are heading towards an undreamed disaster.

• Something needs to be done otherwise it shall be too late to repair the loss.

• We need to pause and ponder.

(iii) NOW WHAT: or the conclusion with viable solutions. Lines which could be used to develop this last para.

• Since the problem is man made the solution lies with the individual.

• We must remember the importance of the fact that ‘charity’ begins at home.

• Rules and laws need to be implemented.

• The menace must be nipped in the bud.

• It is now or never.

• We share because we care.

• Every dark cloud has a silver line.

• We have to be the torch bearers of a better tomorrow.

Following this pattern ensures a correct sequence and makes the Article well organised avoiding repetition of thought
As we move ahead in the 21st Century we are confronted with a problem which is increasing rapidly - man is becoming prone to diseases. There is so much illness all around. The reason behind this is that our lifestyle is governed by factors which are hazardous to health. People are sleeping late, getting up late. They do not exercise. Fast food has become so popular. There is so much stress in life to achieve more and more. Everyone seems to be in a race. The food that we eat is adultrated and the air we breathe is poisonous.

It seems that we are not living but spending life. There is so much disease and ill health. Warning Bells Are Ringing aloud

We are heading towards an undreamed disaster.

Some thing needs to be done -

We need to pause and ponder.

Since the problem is man made, the solution lies with the individual. It is our duty to safeguard our health. The ill effects of modern lifestyles must go. Yoga, Exercise, Meditation, eating healthy food and drinking lots of water has become the need of the hour.

We need to remember that we must add life to years rather than years to life otherwise we shall cease to exist.
1. Computers are indispensable for today’s youth.

As we move ahead in the 21st Century we realize that Computers have brought about a revolution in everyone’s life. What would offices, banks, factories, airport, commercial establishments do if computers failed to function there. Well there would be utter confusion all over: There will be huge damage in terms of business lost, services not provided and opportunities foregone.

By learning computers today’s youth has become a part of the globalised world. Distances have over night become a thing of the past, internet has brought about a big revolution as information is available cheaply or freely at all times at the mere click of a mouse. E-books enable today’s youth to have access to thousands of books at a minimal cost which was something unimaginable a few years ago.

The youth of today is more upto date, literate and techno-savvy than the youth ten years ago. Today’s youth is keen to learn MS Office, Corel Draw, Graphics, Animation and use this knowledge to earn a good amount of money. It is a common sight to see upwardly mobile youth making extensive use of laptops in cars, aircrafts and offices. They have also ventured to set up commercial units providing a vast array of services in the field of computers.

No doubt computers have brought about a drastic change in a youngsters’ life. It’s time that those who have missed out learning about computers, soon take the plunge and go for computer courses to know the vast spectrum of business avenues lying open to them.

Computers are a harbinger of a silent revolution.

* After a slight hesitation & beating about the bush Lomov speaks the reason that he has come to ask the hand of Natalya in marriage.

* The proposal makes the father extremely happy. He affirms that Natalya will like the proposal.

* Lomov is on cloud nine. He starts jumping & behaving joyfully with the thought that Natalya is very beautiful and will be an excellent home maker.

* Natalaya also comes in. The conversation with Natalaya begins. Lomov anxiously waits for the moment to tell her directly about his proposal.

* After sometime the conversation drifts toward a patch of land ‘Oxen Meadows’. Natalya claims the land is theirs which is refuted by Lomov.

* Discussion turns to an ugly heated argument. The noise invites Chubukov back. He also joins the spat over ownership.
* Suddenly Chubukov & Lomov start abusing & accusing each other very indecently.
* Lomov feels pulls & palpitations. He leaves the place in huff.
* After Lomov’s departure, Chubukov tells his daughter about Lomov’s proposal for Natalya.
* At this she starts crying and insists her father to bring Lomov back.
* Lomov comes back, They apologize to each other and resume simple talk.
* Natalya internally is desperate to listen to the proposal. This time again their talk gets stuck over the superiority of their dogs.
* Natalya says her Sqeezer is far better than Lomov’s Guess. That is totally unacceptable to him. He claims his Guess is the best.
* Chubukov again comes & jumps into the ring of verbal fight. Again we notice the mean exchanges of abuses & accusations.
* Then suddenly Lomovs falls down nervously and becomes unconscious. Fearing that he is dead, Natalya starts wailing. Chubukov appears quite disturbed.
* Chubukov fumbles & mumbles over his destiny of being the father of a young girl.
* But after sometime Lomov regains his consciousness & asks for water.
* Chubukov puts Lomov’s hands into Natalya’s hands & asks them to kiss each other.
* Chubukov blesses them & feels relaxed.
* This way Lomov and Natalya begin their conjugal life.
* Thus there is a happy ending of the drama “The Proposal”

Q.2. What is the relevance of 'tokens' in the poem 'Animals'? Who brings them to the poet?

Ans. Animals show tokens of goodness. They are self-contained, peaceful, thankful and happy creatures. Animals are not unhappy and indeed, bring out tokens of man's good nature lost long ago. Animals do not grumble about their lives.
Q. 3. Write the central idea of the poem 'Animals'.

Q.4. How are animals better than humans, according to the poet?

Long Answer Type of Questions

Q.1. "Human being are called the most civilised species in the entire world, But sometimes they lack the values which are better exhibited by the animals." Elucidate the statement with reference to the poem, 'Animals'.

Ans. Human beings are called the most civilised species in the entire world. But sometimes, they lack the values which are better exhibited by the animals. Human beings lack the qualities of being respectable, happy, contented and peace-loving, which is still reflected in animals. Animals do not grumble about their lives, lie awake at night, cry over their sins or discuss their duty towards God as humans do. Animals do not have a mania for 'owning things', nor do they kneel before others like humans. Moreover, the tokens of goodness, love, respect and happiness have ben dropped by human beings.

Ans. Humans can be described as selfish, jealous, restless, unhappy, cribbing, and grumbling creatures. In contrast, animals are peaceful, self-contained, thankful and happy creatures. They do not grumble about their lives, lie awake at night, cry over their sins or discuss their duty towards God as humans do. Also, they do not have a mania for 'owning things', nor do they kneel before others. Animals, on the whole, are not unhappy and indeed bring out tokens of man's good nature lost long ago, when he possessed qualities like love, respect, contentment and happiness.

Q.3. "The more I know of humans the more I love my pet." With reference to the poem, 'Animals', elaborate the statement.

   iii) long essays iv) All of the above
b) The poet does not mention the departure of the forest from the house because _______

c) The speaker is ___________

d) She is sitting at a place where she could _______

Short Answer Type of Questions

Q.1. What is the central idea of the poem "The Trees"?

Ans. The central idea of the poem is the conflict between man and nature. A plant is bought inside the house when it is a sapling. But as it grows into a tree. It gets suffocated with the limited space available. So it departs to feel free. The tree is thus moving out to occupy the now empty forest, made so by man's indiscriminate felling of trees. Humans must understand the negative impact of their actions on nature and mend their ways before it is too late.

Q.2. Where are the trees at present? What do their roots, and leaves do?

Ans. The trees are in the house. The roots try to free themselves from the cracks of the veranda floor, and the leaves make efforts to move towards the glass perhaps in search of light. The small branches become stiff as they try to pull themselves towards the light.

Q.3. Why is the description of the moon different in the beginning and at the end of the third stanza?

Ans. At the beginning of the third stanza, the poet says that one can see the whole moon shining in the open sky but in the end, the moon seems to be broken like a mirror and its pieces shine in the crown of the tallest oak tree. The change is caused by the shifting of the trees outside.

Q.4. Justify the revolt of the trees and state two values which the man should possess to stop the revolt.
Long Answer Type of Questions

Q. 1. ‘Departure is painful’. So is the departure of the trees painful for the poetess. What will happen after their departure?

Ans. Just like the departure of someone close to us is painful, so also is the departure of a tree. When they are planted as a sapling they look nice and enhance the beauty of our surroundings. But as they grow and spread out their branches, they look wild and require more space for their growth. The roots create cracks in the floor and the leaves stretch out as if to move towards the glass, perhaps in need of sunlight. The soft twigs become strong and stiff. So the trees breathe and they are welcomed by the wind. The moon resembles a broken mirror, reflecting off the leaves. The poetess reveals that she will feel lonely after the trees departure.

Q. 2. How does the poem "The Trees" make a strong plea against deforestation?

Q. 3. How does Adrienne Rich use trees as a metaphor for men? Is not the struggle of the trees to free themselves and go to the forest is the struggle of crushed men, particularly of women against the powerful and atrocious men?

d) moves away silently

Short Answer Type of Questions

Q.1. The poet actually says that the fog is like a cat, with reference to the poem, "Fog" explain this statement

Or

Think of any other animal that can best replace the cat in the poem, 'Fog'. Write a few lines that would tell us about the resemblance of Fog with that animal.

Ans. The fog is compared to a cat. He says a cat does not make a sound when it walks so also is the fog. But its presence is apparent. Its 'Silence' is very much like that of a cat moving on its little feet. The way the fog sits is very much like a cat sitting on its haunches, looking here and there.

Q.2. How does the poet make the fog like a living creature?

Ans. The poet describes the fog as a cat. He does so through a metaphor. The fog is the cat itself. As a cat jumps and lights on its soft silently, the fog also comes down noiselessly. Then it moves on like a cat.

Q.3. How is the fog like a cat? What three things suggest it?

Ans. Three things suggest that the fog is like a cat. Like a cat, the fog comes silently. The fog is looking over the harbour and the city like a cat does so sitting on its haunches. Thirdly, it moves as the cat moves.

Q.4. How does the poet describe the fog's movements?

Long Answer Type of Questions

Q.1. What metaphor has the poet used in the poem 'Fog'? Do you think it is appropriate?

Ans. In the poem 'Fog' Carl Sandburg has metaphorically compared the fog to a cat. The first strange thing about the metaphor is the comparison of a phenomenon with a living animal. Perhaps the poet wants to emphasize the silent nature and mysterious ways of the fog, so he has compared the fog to a cat. A cat does not make a sound when it walks. So also is the fog, but its presence is apparent. Its "silence" is very much like that of a cat moving on its little feet. Then the fog stays in its place looking over the harbour and city which creates a hazy atmosphere all around. The way it sits is very much like a cat sitting on its haunches, looking here and there before it makes a move. This is as if the fog remains a silent spectator of the happenings in the city. Whatever the purpose may be, both the fog as well as a cat make their impression and make their presence felt. The comparison of the fog to a cat seems very appropriate because, reading the poem, one feels that truly, the fog approaches stealthily, just like a cat.

Q.2. How does Carl Sandburg describe the arrival, stay and departure of the fog through the image of a metaphorical cat?

Short Answer Type questions
Q.1. What made James Herriot expect a call from Mrs. Pumphrey?
Ans. James Herriot's encounter with Mrs. Pumphrey and Tricki made him expect a call for help. He was sure that the extra diet and no physical activity would soon put Tricki's health in danger. And just as anticipated, Mrs Pumphrey called the vet a few days afterwards.

Q.2. What extra did Mrs Pumphrey start to give Tricki and why?
Ans. Mrs Pumphrey thought that Tricki was suffering from malnutrition, as he was weak and listless. So, she started to give him extra snacks like cod-liver oil and malt between the main meals and Horlicks after dinner to make him stronger. She also continued his cream cakes and chocolates.

Q.3. What made Mrs Pumphrey call the vet?
Ans. Tricki's condition made Mr. Pumphrey call the vet for help. Tricki had become fat and lazy. He just used to lie on his rug and pant. He also refused to eat food, even his favourite dishes. His bouts of vomiting added to Mrs Pumphrey's worry. That is why, she called James Herriot.

Q.4. How can you say that it was hard for Mrs Pumphrey to part with her doting pet?

Long Answer Type of Questions

Q.1. Dr James Herriot was a competent veterinary surgeon. His practical approach and common sense helped in the rapid recovery of Tricki. Comment.

Or

Give a character sketch of Dr James Herriot.

Ans. Dr James Herriot, no doubt, was a competent veterinary surgeon. He was really worried about Tricki. He understood that the real fault of the dog was his greed for food. He never refused food. The dog had become hugely fat and listless. Dr Herriot instructed Mrs Pumphrey to keep Tricki on a very strict diet. He also asked her to give him a lot of exercises. Dr Herriot also suggested to cut down sweets to him. He advised her that Tricki must be hospitalised for a fortnight under his observation.

Dr. James Herriot was practical and pragmatic. He did not give any medical treatment to the dog. The dog was not given food any but lots of water. His method worked. Tricki's recovery was surprisingly rapid. Tricki was transformed into a flexible and hard-muscled dog. He was not only out of danger but was soon handed over to his mistress. The grateful mistress thanked Dr Herriot and called his feat "a triumph of surgery!" Dr James was clever enough to enjoy the best of both the worlds. He was tempted to keep Tricki on as a permanent guest. It was a happy period for Dr Herriot and his friends. He enjoyed eggs for breakfast, and wind and brandy for lunch.

Q.2. Why did Mrs Pumphrey, the mistress of Tricki, make a frantic call to the noted veterinary surgeon, Dr James Herriot? How did Dr James Herriot succeed in curing Tricki?

Ans. Mrs Pumphrey, the mistress of Tricki was an overindulgent lady. She pampered and even spoiled her pet dog. Dr Herriot instructed her to keep Tricki on a very strict diet and give him a lot of exercises. She ignored him. It was very difficult for her to deny Tricki sweets, cakes and chocolates. She gave a frantic call to Dr James Herriot only when Tricki's condition worsened. Tricki lost his appetite and started vomiting. Dr Herriot advised that the dog be hospitalised under his observation for a fortnight. It was difficult for Mrs Pumphrey to accept it but she accepted it only to save Tricki's life. Dr James Herriot knew that Tricki's only fault was his greed for food. He did not give him medical treatment. He did not give Tricki food but a lot of water for a few days. His method worked. Within a few days, Tricki was out of danger. His recovery was rather rapid. He started taking interest in his surroundings. His appetite came back, and the ran along with the other dogs in the garden. Dr Herriot informed Mrs Pumphrey that Tricki was completely cured and she could collect him. The grateful mistress thanked the doctor and called his feat a triumph of surgery!

Q.3. Why did Dr James Herriot say that he was tempted to keep Tricki on as a permanent guest? Give a reasoned answer.

d) The word 'deserted' mean ________

3. reclaim 4. regain

Short Answer Type Questionss

Q.1. Why did Hari Singh approach Anil?

Ans. Hari Singh was a thief who had not much luck in his work recently. So he approached Anil with the intention of robbing him, as he seemed to be an easy-going and simple man. According to Hari, winning Anil's confidence was an easy task.

Q.2. Anil walked away. I followed casually'. Why do you think the narrator followed Anil?

Ans. The narrator's purpose of robbing Anil had not yet been served. He followed Anil to gain his trust and look for an opportunity that may help him give shape to his plans.

Q.3. The narrator's purpose of robbing Anil? Was Anil the only one who was robbed or did Hari also rob himself of something?
Ans. Yes, Hari Singh was successful in robbing Anil. But Anil was not the only one who was robbed at that time. Hari had robbed himself as well. He had lost the chance of receiving education and being literate. He had robbed Anil monetarily but he had robbed himself of the chance for a better and brighter future, which was much more valuable.

Q.4. What did Anil and Hari agree upon to be the mode of payment?

Long Answer Type of Questions

Q.1. Money can't make a man as much as education can. Elucidate the statement.

Ans. The statement stands true in almost all the aspects of life. Money may buy us all the luxuries and fulfil our needs but it cannot buy us knowledge, civilized thinking, skills and abilities to achieve our dreams. Education lays the platform for all to act upon our goals according to our abilities. Education enables us to keep up with the fast moving world. It opens the door to opportunities we do not know even exist. Money, on the other hand, can assist us to a certain level. It can buy us a plan but education gives us the knowledge of its execution. Just as in the story "A Thief's Story", Hari Singh prioritized the chance of being literate over a few hundred rupees, we must understand that education can help us to achieve whatever we desire.

Q.2. Love, human sympathy and education can transform even a thief. How could Anil bring such a change in Hari Singh?

The making of a Scientist by
- Robert W. Peterson

Summary Points to Nutshell
* An only child, Ebright grew up North of Reading, Pennsylvania.
* At the age of twenty two, a former 'scout of the year' excited the scientific world with a new theory on how cells work.
* In K.G. Ebright collected butterflies with the same determination that has marked all his activities
* He also collected rocks, fossils, and coins. He became an eager astronomer too.
* His mother encouraged his interest in learning.
* She took him on trips, bought him telescopes, microscopes, cameras, mounting materials, and other equipment and helped him in many other ways.
* He earned top grades in school.
* In the second grade, Ebright had collected all twenty five species of butterflies found around his hometown.
* His butterfly collecting would have ended if his mother not got him a children's book called 'The Travels of Monarch X'.
* That book, which told how monarch butterflies migrate to Central America, opened the world of science to the eager young collector.
* At the end of the book, readers were invited to help study butterfly migrations. They were asked to tag butterflies for research by Dr. Frederick.
* Soon Ebright was attaching light adhesive tags to the wings of monarchs.
But he began to lose interest in tagging butterflies. It was tedious and there was not much feedback."

In the seventh grade he got a hint of what real science is when he entered a county science fair and lost.

In Eighth grade project, Ebright tried to find the causes of a viral disease that kills nearly all monarch caterpillars every few years.

Ebright thought the disease might be carried by a beetle. He tried raising caterpillars in the presence of beetles.

Ebright’s project was to see whether, in fact, birds would eat monarchs. He found that a starling would not eat ordinary bird food. It would eat all the monarch it could get.

This project was placed first in the zoology division and third overall in the country science fair.

In his second year in high school, Richard Ebright began the research that led to his discovery of an unknown insect hormone. Indirectly, it also led to his new theory on the life of cells.

What is the purpose of the twelve tiny gold spots on a monarch pupa? “Everyone assumed the sports were just ornamental.”

Ebright and another excellent science student first had to build a device that showed that the sports were producing a hormone necessary for the butterfly’s full development.

This project won Ebright first place in the country fair and entry into the international Science and Engineering Fair. There he won third place for zoology.

As a high school junior, Richard Ebright continued his advanced experiments on the monarch pupa. That year his project won first place at the International Science Fair and gave him another chance to work in the army laboratory during the summer.

In his senior year, he went a step further. He grew cells from a monarch’s wing in a culture and showed that the cells would divide and develop into normal butterfly wing scales only if they were fed the hormone from the gold spots. That project won first place for zoology at the International Fair.

* DNA is the substance in the nucleus of a cell that controls heredity. It determines the form and function of the cell. Thus DNA is the blueprint for life.

* Mr. Weiherer said, “What pleased me was, here was this person who put in three or four hours at night doing debate research besides doing all his research with butterflies and his other interests.

* Mr. Weiherer - “Richard was competitive. Richard wasn’t interested in winning for winning’s sake or winning to get a prize. Rather, he was winning because he wanted to do the best job he could. For the right reasons, he wants to be the best.”

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

1. The marking scheme provides general guidelines to reduce subjectivity in the process of evaluation. The answers given in the marking scheme are the suggested answers. The content is thus indicative. If the answer given by a student is different from the one given in the Marking Scheme, ‘but conveys the correct meaning, such answer should also be given full weightage.

2. Evaluation is to be done as per the instructions provided in the marking scheme. It should not be done according to one’s own interpretation or any other considerations. Marking scheme should be strictly adhered to and religiously followed.

3. If a question has parts, please award marks on the right hand side for each part, marks awarded to the different parts of the question should then be totalled up and written on the left hand margin and circled.

4. If a question does not have any parts, marks may be awarded on the left hand margin.

5. If a candidate has attempted any extra question or part, marks obtained in the best question/part should be retained and the other answer should be scored out.

6. Short type answers asking for 2 features / characteristics / points. There is a candidate who writes 2 points as directed and that too correctly whereas the other lists 5 points of which first is correct, second is incorrect, the third correct and remaining incorrect. If the suggested value points are there in a 2 marks question it should be awarded the due marks.

7. In-the marking scheme, a slash (/) indicates alternative answers; anyone such answer is counted as correct.
8. Brackets ( ) indicate optional information; Marks may be awarded whether the part in brackets is included or not.

9. Candidates should not be penalized if they do not follow the order of the sections/questions while answering.

10. In questions requiring word limit, no marks are to be deducted for exceeding the word limit.

11. Q.1, Q.2 and Q.8 are meant to test the comprehension of the candidates and not the ability of expression. Full credit should be given for the correct value points, even if the answer is not given in a full sentence.

12. In questions consisting two or more than two marks, break up of marks should be shown separately (as suggested in the marking scheme) and then totalled.

13. Tendency to be over sympathetic / over strict in marking - in the first instance, a[candidate who should have got just 30 at the most, is ‘awarded 33 so that he/she passes in the ‘said subject. On the other hand, marks are deducted not because answers are not up to the mark, but simply because these should not be awarded. It is to be remembered that the evaluators are expected to use 101 point scale. This is the principle of evaluation which evaluators should not lose sight of in actual practice.

14. As per orders of the Hon’ble Supreme Court, the candidates would now be permitted to obtain photocopy of the Answer Book on request on payment of the prescribed fee. All Examiners / Head Examiners are once again reminded that they must ensure that the evaluation is carried out strictly as per value points for each answer as given in the Marking Scheme.

15. All the Head Examiners / Examiners are instructed that while evaluating the answer scripts, if answer is found to be totally incorrect, the (x) should be marked on the incorrect answer and awarded ‘0’ marks.
