PREFACE

It gives me immense pleasure to present the Support Material for various subjects. The material prepared for students of classes IX to XII has been conceived and developed by a team comprising of the Subject Experts, Members of the Academic Core Unit and teachers of the Directorate of Education.

The subject-wise Support Material is developed for the betterment and enhancement of the academic performance of the students. It will give them an insight into the subject leading to complete understanding. It is hoped that the teachers and students will make optimum use of this material. This will help us achieve academic excellence.

I commend the efforts of the team who have worked with complete dedication to develop this matter well within time. This is another endeavor of the Directorate to give complete support to the learners all over Delhi.
DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Students,

Through this Support Material, I am getting an opportunity to communicate directly with you and I want to take full advantage of this opportunity.

In Delhi, there are approximately 1020 other government schools like yours, which are run by Directorate of Education. The Head Quarters of Directorate of Education is situated at Old Secretariat, Delhi-54.

All the teachers in your school and officers in the Directorate work day and night so that the standard of our govt. schools may be uplifted and the teachers may adopt new methods and techniques to teach in order to ensure a bright future for the students.

Dear students, the book in your hand is also one such initiative of your Directorate. This material has been prepared specially for you by the subject experts. A huge amount of money and time has been spent to prepare this material. Moreover, every year, this material is reviewed and updated as per the CBSE syllabus so that the students can be updated for the annual examination.

Last, but not the least, this is the perfect time for you to build the foundation of your future. I have full faith in you and the capabilities of your teachers. Please make the fullest and best use of this Support Material.
It gives me immense pleasure and a sense of satisfaction to forward the support material for classes IX to XII in all subjects. The support material is continuously revised, redesigned and updated by a team of subject experts, members of Core Academic Unit and teachers from various schools of DOE.

Consistent use of support material by the students and teachers will make the year long journey seamless and enjoyable. The purpose of providing support material has always been to make available ready to use material which is matchless and most appropriate.

My commendation for all the team members for their valuable contribution.

CHAPTER 2

THE DEMOGRAPHIC STRUCTURE OF THE INDIAN SOCIETY

KEY POINTS

1. Demography

- Demography, a systematic study of population, is a Greek term derived from two words, ‘demos’ (people) and graphein (describe) description of people.

- It studies births, migration, sex composition etc

- Demography is broadly of two types:-
  - Formal demography which is concened with quantitative measurement and analysis of population change.
  - Social demography which deals with social, economic and political aspects of population.

- Two processes which happened to take place at roughly the same time in Europe during the latter half of the 18th century.
  - The formation of nation-states as the principal form of political organisation.
  - The beginnings of the modern science of statistics.

- Since, before Independence India has conducted a ten yearly (decinnaeal) census. So, far, seven decennial censuses has been conducted since 1951 and the most recent one being 2011.

- The demographic data collected is essential for the planning and implementation of state policies, for economic development and public welfare.
2. Theories of population

A. Thomas Robert Malthus (1766-1834) states the fact that-

- Population increases at a much faster rate than the means of subsistence, (food, Clothing).
- Population rises in geometric progression (ie 2, 4, 8, 16, 32 etc.) at much faster rate than the means of human subsistence / agricultural production which grows in arithmetic progression (ie 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 etc.)
- Prosperity can be achieved by controlling growth of population through preventive checks - postponing marriage, sexual abstinence, celibacy etc. and positive checks - through famines and diseases.

Criticism of Malthus’s theory:

- Malthus was ‘criticised
  (a) Food production and standards of living rise despite rapid population growth as seen in the historical experience of European countries.
  (b) Poverty, and starvation is caused not due to rise in population but due to unequal distribution of economic resources (Liberal and Marxists).

B. Theory of Demographic Transition

- This theory highlights three stages of population growth from an underdeveloped & technologically backward stage to a developed technologically advanced stage.

STAGES OF SOCIETY: LEVEL OF DEVELOPMENT GROWTH RATE (GR)

1. Underdevelopment, Technologically Backward High BR + High DR = High GR
2. Transition Movement from backward BR high + Low DR Population to advance = increase in GR Explosion
3. Advanced Technologically advanced Low BR+ Low DR = Low GR
“Population explosion” occurs in transitional stage with death rate being lowered through disease control; better health and nutrition facility and unchanged reproductive behaviour.

3. Common concepts

a. Birth rate: number of live births in a given area during a given time per 1000 population.

b. Death rate: number of deaths in given area during a given time per 1000 population.

c. Growth rate/rate to natural increases: difference between birth rate and death rate.

d. Fertility rate: number of live birth per 1000 women in the child bearing age group of 15-49 years.

e. Infant mortality rate: number of death of babies before the age of one year per 1000 live births.

f. Maternal mortality: number of women dying in child birth per 1000 live birth.

g. Sex ratio: number of females per 1000 males in a given area at a specified time period.

h. Age structure of population - proportions of persons in different age groups relative to total population.

i. Dependency ratio: proportion of dependents (elderly people and children) with working age group (i.e. 15 - 64 years)

- A rising dependency ratio is a cause for worry in countries that are facing an aging population, since it becomes difficult for a relatively smaller proportion of working-age people to carry the burden of providing for a relatively larger proportion of dependents.

- Falling dependency ratio can be a source of economic growth and prosperity due to the larger proportion of workers relative to non-workers. It is also referred to as ‘demographic dividend’

j. When the difference is zero (or, in practice, very small) then we say that the population has ‘stabilised’, or has reached the ‘replacement level’ which is the rate of growth required for new generations to replace the older ones that are dying out.

k. Life expectancy: it refers to the estimated number of year that an average person is expected to survive.

m. Sonogram: an x-ray like diagnostic device based on ultra-sound technology; sometime misused to determine the sex of the unborn child in mother's womb.

4. Famines are caused by high level of continuing poverty and malnutrition in an agro climatic environment that is effected by variations in rainfall, lack of adequate means of transportation and communication as well as inadequate efforts on the part of the state.

5. Several factors may be held responsible for the decline in the child sex ratio including-

- Severe neglect of girl babies in infancy, leading to higher death rates;
- sex specific abortions that prevent girl babies from being born;
- And female infanticide (or the killing of girl babies due to religious or cultural beliefs).

6. There are regional variations of low child sex ratio in India.

- The regional pattern of low child sex ratios, in India, is that the lowest child sex ratios are found in the most prosperous regions of India.
- Punjab, Haryana, Chandigarh, Delhi, Gujrat and Maharashtra are among the richest states in India in terms of per capita incomes, and they are also the states with the lowest child sex ratio.
- So, the problem of selective abortions in not due to poverty or ignorance or lack of resources. Economically prosperous families decide to have fewer children and they may wish to choose the sex of their child.

7. Role of literacy in population growth

- Literacy is a prerequisite to education.
- Literacy is an instrument of empowerment.
- The more literate the population the greater the consciousness of career options, as well as participation in the knowledge economy.

- Literacy can lead to health awareness and fuller participation in the cultural and economic wellbeing of the community.
- Literacy varies considerably across gender, across regions & social groups.
- Literacy rates also vary by social group: historically disadvantaged communities like the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes have lower rates of literacy and rates of female literacy within these groups are even lower.
- Regional variations are still very wide, with states like Kerala approaching universal literacy, while states like Bihar are lagging far behind.

8. Epidemic has been controlled due to mass vaccination, better sanitation. But malaria. TB, diarrhoea and dysentery kill people even today.

9. Birth rate is slow to change due to socio cultural phenomenon. Low TFR's in Kerala. Tamil Nadu Himachal Pradesh. West Bengal, Karnataka, Maharashtra; high TFR's States – Bihar, MP, Rajasthan & UP.

10. Rural-urban differences also exist with respect to the vast majority of the population.

- It is the mass media & communication channels that are gradually bringing in images of urban life styles & patterns of consumption into the rural villages, this bridges the gap between rural & urban.
- The rapid growth in urbanization (town or city) has been attracting the rural population.
- Those who cannot find work (or sufficient work) in the rural areas go to the city in search of work.
- This flow of rural-to-urban migration has also been accelerated by the continuous decline of common property resources like ponds, forests and grazing lands.
- Now, these resources have been turned into private property, or they are exhausted. (Ponds may run dry or no longer provide enough fish; forests may have been cut down and have vanished...)
- People no longer have access to these resources, but on the other hand have to buy many things in the market that they used to get free. The opportunities for earning income are limited in the villages.

- The city also may be preferred for social reasons, specially the relative anonymity it offers.

- The fact that urban life involves interaction with strangers can be an advantage for different reasons. For the socially oppressed groups like the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, this may offer some partial protection from the daily humiliation, they may suffer in the village where everyone knows their caste identity. The anonymity of the city also allows the poorer sections of the socially dominant rural groups to engage in low status work that they would not be able to do in the village.

- All these reasons make the city an attractive destination for the villagers.

11. National family planning programme

- It was introduced with the objective of slowing down the rate & pattern of population growth, through birth-control methods and improve public health standards. Other coercive measures was introduced during the Emergency Period (1975-1976)

- With the coming of a new Govt. the program was renamed as National Family Welfare Program with new set of guidelines to achieve the objectives.

12. Success and failures of the family planning programme.

Success

- The growth rate of population has decreased.

- People have started appreciating small family norms.

- The infant mortality rate and maternal mortality rate has been brought down.

- Life expectancy has increased.

- Achieved nearly universal awareness of the need for and methods of family planning.
Failures

- The growth rate still continues to be high as compared to developed nations.
- Coercive family planning programme has been opposed by people (Vasectomy for men & Tubectomy for women). Mostly poor and powerless people were the victims.
- Lack of availability of reliable family planning methods.

13. Age structure of India's population.

- India is one of the youngest countries in the world—majority of Indians tend to be young.
- The average age is also less than that for most other countries.
- The share of the 15-60 age group has increased slightly, while the share of the 60+ age group is very small.
- The present trend indicates that 0-14 age group will reduce, thus the changing age structure could offer a demographic dividend for India. These potential can be converted into actual growth with the increase level of education and employment.
- There are wide regional variations in the age structure. While a state like Kerala is beginning to acquire an age structure like that of the developed countries, some states like Uttar Pradesh have high proportions in the younger age groups and relatively low proportions among the aged.

2 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. What is "Demography"?
2. Differentiate between formal demography and social demography.
3. What is infant mortality rate?
4. Why is rising dependency ratio a cause for worry in countries that are facing an aging population?
5. Why is falling dependency ratio a source of economic growth and prosperity?
6. What are the cause of famines?
7. Name the states which still have very high TFRS.
8. State the importance of demographic data.
9. How does India benefit from a 'demographic dividend'?
10. Name the technique used to determine the sex of a child.
11. What is 'Replacement Level'?
12. What is "Sex Ratio"?

4 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. State & critically analyze the Malthusian theory of population change.
2. Mention the features responsible for the decline in the child sex ratio.
3. Explain the regional variation of low child sex ratio in India.

6 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. Discuss the theory of demographic transition.
2. Why are cities a preferred destination for rural people?
3. Discuss India's demographic achievement.
4. Analyze the success & failures of the family planning program.
5. Discuss the national social demographic goals for 2010 (State any six points).
6. Which State in India have reached or are very near the replacement levels of population growth? Which ones still have very high rates of population growth? In your opinion what can be some of the reasons for these regional differences.
7. What is meant by the age structure of the population? Why is it relevant for economic development and growth?
8. What is meant by sex ratio? What are some of the implications of a declining sex ratio? Do you feel that parents still prefer to have sons rather than daughters? What is your opinion, could be some of the reasons for this preference.
9. State the reasons for the failure of the family programme during the National emergency (1975-76) period.
10. Discuss the age structure of India's population.
CHAPTER 3

SOCIAL INSTITUTIONS; CONTINUITY AND CHANGE

Caste and The Caste System

- A population is made up of inter-related classes and communities. These are sustained and regulated by social institutions and social relationships.
- Three institutions Caste, Tribe and Family are central to Indian Society.
- "Caste" is a social institution that has been in existence for thousands of years.

Definitions of Caste:

- "Caste", an English word is derived from a Portuguese word "Casta", meaning pure breed. In Indian language it is referred to two distinct terms, Varna and Jati.

Varna & Jati

- Varna which literally means 'colour' refers is a fourfold division of society into hierarchical order Brahmana, Kshatriya, Vaishya and Shudra. It is an all India aggregative classification.
- Jati, is a regional or local sub-classification terms consisting of hundred or thousands of castes and sub castes. (It is generic term referring species or kinds of anything ranging from inanimate objects to plants, animals & human beings.)

Vedic & post Vedic period

- During the Vedic period the caste system was elaborate, very rigid or determined by birth.
- But, in post Vedic period it became very rigid with certain defining features such as caste being determined by birth, membership of caste adhering to strict rules of marriage, rules regarding food & food sharing, caste being traditionally linked to occupations and it being arranged in a hierarchy of rank and status.

Features of caste

- Caste is determined by birth. A child is born into the caste of its parents. Caste is never a matter of choice.

- Membership in a caste involves strict rules about marriage. Caste groups are "endogamous", i.e., marriage is restricted to members of the group.

- Caste membership also involves rules about food and food-sharing. Kinds of food may or may not be eaten is prescribed.

- Caste involves a system consisting many castes arranged in a hierarchy of rank and status.

- Castes also involve sub-divisions within themselves. This is referred to as a segmental orginsation.

- Caste were traditionally linked to occupations. A person born into a caste could only practice the occupation associated with that caste.

Theoretical interpretation of caste

- Caste is a combination of two sets of principles —

- (1) Difference and separation. The scriptual rules ranging from marriage, food sharing to occupation prevents the mixing of castes.

- (2) Wholism and hierarchy: the hierarchical division of caste, on the other hand is based on the distinction between "purity and pollution."

In the caste system, Endogamy is the practice of marrying within the caste. Exogamy is the practice of marrying outside the clan or gotra.

A proprietary caste group is a group that owns most of the resources and can command labor to work for them.

Caste panchayats are panchayats which are controlled by the dominant group and represent their interests, needs & demands. Primarily decision making is controlled by the upper caste, rich landlords and landed peasants.
Colonialism and Caste

- Institution of caste underwent major change during colonial period.
- Caste has been shaped as a result of the influence of the colonial period and changes brought about in independent India.
- The British undertook methodical and intensive surveys of various tribes and castes in order to learn how to govern the country effectively.
- The first such survey was carried out by Herbert Risley in 1901 and thus caste began to be counted and recorded.
- Other institutions like the land revenue settlement gave legal recognition to the customary rights of the upper caste.
- The Govt. India Act of 1935 gave legal recognition to the lists of 'schedules' of castes and tribes.
- Gradually, towards the end of the colonial period the welfare of downtrodden caste was looked after by the administration.

Caste in the Present

In Post Independent India, programs were undertaken for the upliftment of depressed classes. Social reformers like Jyotiba Phule, Periyar etc. worked towards lower caste upliftment, abolition of caste distinctions and other restrictions.

The abolition of caste was explicitly incorporated in the Constitution by the state. During this period some of the steps undertaken were reservation of seats for SC & ST’s no caste rules in the jobs created in the modern industry, urbanization & collective living in cities and stress on meritocracy.

In the cultural & domestic spheres, caste has remained unaffected by modernization and change while in the sphere of politics it has been deeply conditioned by caste as formation of caste based political parties.

New concepts were coined to understand the process of change. The terms were sanskritization and dominant caste by M.N. Srinivas.

Sanskritization is a process whereby members of a caste (usually middle a lower) attempt to raise their social status by adopting the rituals & social practices of the higher caste.
Dominant caste was those which had a large population and were granted landrights. They were politically, socially and economically dominant in their regions for example: the Yadavs of Bihar and Uttar Pradesh, and Vokkaligas of Karnataka, the Reddys and Khammas of Andhra Pradesh, the Marathas of Maharashtra, of Jats of Punjab, Haryana, and Western Uttar Pradesh and the Patidars of Gujarat.

In the contemporary period caste has tended to become invisible for the upper caste, urban middle and upper classes and more visible for the lower caste.

- Upper caste Groups have benefitted the most from the development policies of the post colonial era.
- Took full advantage of the opportunities offered by rapid development and able to take advantage of the expansion of the state sector jobs, immediately after Independence.
- The did no face any competition and their privileged status got consolidated in the second and the third generations.
- For this group, caste plays no part in their public lives. Whereas for the SC, STs and backward castes—opposite happened.
- Caste has become too visible.
- They have no inherited educational and social capital.
- Moreover, they have to compete with the already established upper caste group. They cannot afford to abandon their caste identity.

TRIBAL COMMUNITIES

Definition of tribes

- The oldest inhabitants of the sub-continent.
- Tribes were communities that did not practice a religion with a written text.
- did not have a state or political form of the formal kind;
- did not have sharp class divisions; and
- they did not have caste distinctions
Classification of Tribal Societies

Tribe-caste distinction

Caste
- Based on the notion of purity and pollution
- Believes in Religion (oral and written)
- Hierarchical system.

Tribe
- Kinship based mode of social organization
- Do not practice text a religion with a written text.
- Egalitarian system.

Tribes and not primitive communities living isolated lives.
- Tribes are seen as secondary phenomenon arising out of the exploitative and colonialist contacts.
- There are several Gond kingdom in central India such as that of Garha Mandala.
• Many of the Rajput kingdoms of central and western India emerged through a process of stratification among Adivasi community themselves.

• Adivasi often exercise dominance over plains.

• Occupied a special trade niche-trading forest produce, salt and elephants.

• Capitalist economic drive the exploit forest resources and minerals and to recruit cheap labour brought Tribal societies into the mainstream.

• Capitalist economic drive exploited the Tribals.

The 'isolation' and 'Intengration' debate on tribes is based upon tribal societies as isolated wholes. The isolationist believe that tribals needed protection from traders, moneylenders and Hindu and Christian missionaries, all of whom try to reduce tribals' to detribalised landless labour. The integrationists, believe that tribal's are merely backward Hindus, and their problems had to be addressed within the same framework as that of other backward classes.

22. National development involving the building of large dams, factories and mines were undertaken at the expenses of the tribes. Eg. Narmada Bachao Aandolan.

National Development Vs. Tribal Development

• National Development involving the building of large dams, factories and mines were undertaken at the expense of the tribes.

• Tribals have paid disproportionate price for the development of the rest of Indian Society.

• The loss of the forests on which tribal communities depended has been a major blow.

• Coming of private property adversely affected tribals, especially their community based collective ownership, were placed at a disadvantage in the new system.

• Heavy in migration of non-tribals threatens to disrupt their culture.

Tribal identities today. Are centered on idea's of resistance and opposition to the force exercised by the non-tribal world. The formation of Jharkhand and Chhattisgarh has been a result of this assertion of tribal identity but the political system is still not autonomous.

Tribal movements emerged to tackle issues relating to control over vital economic resources, matters of ethnic cultural identity. All this has been made possible due to the gradual emergence of an educated middle class among tribal communities, though the assertion of identity of tribal middle class maybe different from a poor and uneducated one.

23. Family and Kinship

A. Family can be nuclear or extended. Modern family consists of only one set parents and their children unlike extended family where there is more than one couple and often more than two generations living together.

B. Diverse forms of family

Diverse forms of family are:

- Local (residence)
  - Patrilocal (Father's residence)
  - Matrilocal (mother's residence)

- Archal (authority)
  - Patriarchal (Father's authority)
  - Matriarchal (Mother's authority)

- Lineal (descent)
  - Patrilineal (Father's side)
  - Matrilineal (Mother's side)

24. The Khasi matriline highlights the distinction between matriliney and matriarchy.

- There is an inherent disagreement in matrilineal systems. On the one hand, the line of descent and inheritance, where a woman inherits property from her mother and passes it on to her daughter and the other structure of authority and control where a man controls his sister's property and passes on control to his sister's son. The former, which links the mother to the daughter, comes in conflict with the latter; which links the mother's brother to the sister's son.

- Khasi matriliney generates intense role conflict for men. They are torn between responsibilities to their natal house on the one hand, and to their wife and children on the other.
• The tension generated by such role conflict affects Khasi women more intensely. A woman can never be fully assured that her husband does not find his sister's house a more pleasant place than her own.

• The women are more badly affected than men, by the role conflict generated in the Khasi mairilineal system, not only because men wield power and women are deprived of it, but also because the system is more lenient to men.

• Thus, men are the power holders in Khasi society; the only difference is that a man's relatives on his mother's side matter more than his relatives on his father's side.

2 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. What is caste?
2. What is dominant Caste?
3. Distinguish between varna & Jati.
4. Mention any 4 dominant caste.
5. Define Tribes.
6. Mention the isolation and integration debate on tribes.
7. Mention the two broad sets of issues most important in giving rise to tribal movements.
8. Distinguish between Nuclear and Joint Family.
10. Distinguish between Endogamy and Exogamy.

4 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. Discuss the features of caste.
2. Explain the role of caste panchayats.
3. Differentiate between tribe & Caste.
4. Explain the main factors influencing the formation of tribal identity today.
5. Explain the meaning of Sanskritization.
6. What is the role of the ideas of separation and hierarchy in the caste system?
7. What are the rules that the caste system imposes?
8. How have tribes been classified in India?
9. In what ways can change in social structure lead to changes in the family structure.
10. Explain the different forms of family.

6 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. Discuss the theoretical interpretation / or principles of the caste system.
2. Discuss the ways that strengthened the institution of caste in India under colonial rule.
3. Highlight the sources of conflict between national development and tribal development.
4. Write a note on tribal movement with special reference to Jharkhand.
5. Discuss the classification of tribes based on their traits.
6. Discuss the features of the Caste System.
7. Differentiate between Matriliny and matriarchy, in the context of the Khasi matriliny system.
CHAPTER 4

THE MARKET AS A SOCIAL INSTITUTION

1. Market refers to a place where things are bought and sold, gathering of buyers and sellers (weekly vegetable market) or a category of trade or business (market for Cars / readymade clothes).

   - Sociologist view market as social institutions that are constructed in culturally specific ways and are socially 'Embedded' eg weekly tribal haat and traditional business community.

   - Weekly market bring together people from surrounding villages, sell their agricultural produce, buy manufactured goods, attract traders, money lenders, astrologers and other specialist and to meet kin, arrange marriages etc. These periodic markets link different regional and local economies together, and link them to the wider national economy, towns and metropolitan centres.

   - 'Virtual Market' — A market that exists only electronically, and conducts transactions via computers and telecommunication media.

   - The market does not exist in a physical sense, but only in terms of data that are stored electronically.

2. Adam Smith in his book “The Wealth of Nation” talked of an "unseen force" (invisible hand) at work, in the market economy, that converts what is good for each individual into what is good for society. This stimulates the economy and more wealth is created. This can be brought forth through the economic philosophy of laissez faire, a French Phrase, meaning 'leave alone' or 'let it be'.

3. Alfred Gells' Dhorai market (adivasi village market in Bastar) layout symbolizes the hierarchical inter group social relations, going beyond to economic function.
4. Caste and kin networks contribute to the success of a business

A. Pre colonial India had extensive trading network, (India major exporter of handloom cloth, spices etc.) merchant group and banking credit systems (Hundi) or bill of exchange existed eg Nattu Kottai Chettars (Nakarattars) of Tamil Nadu.

B. Among, the Nattukottai Chettars (or caste such as Nakarattars), of Tamil Nadu, banking and trade activities were deeply embedded in the social organisation of the community.

- The structures of caste, kinship and family were oriented towards commercial activity and business activity was carried out within these social structures.

- Nakarattar banks were basically joint family firms, so that the structure of the business firm was the same as that of the family.

- Their extensive caste-based social networks allowed Chettiar merchants to expand their activities into Southeast Asia and Ceylon.

C. The Traditional business communities in India are the Vaisyas, Parsis, Sindhis, Bohras and Jains.

5. A Concept of Colonialism —

- The ideology by which, a country seeks to conquer and colonise (forcibly settle, rule over) another.
The colony becomes a subordinate part of the coloniser's country, and is exploited in various ways for the colonising country's gain.

B. The Advent of colonial rule in India led to the demise of the handloom industry. India became a source of raw material, agricultural products and consumers of manufactured goods.

- It led to the flooding of the market with cheap manufactured textiles from England.
- In the colonial era India began to be more fully linked to the world capitalist economy.
- New groups (especially the Europeans) entered into trade and business, sometimes in alliance with existing merchant communities and in some cases by forcing them out.
- In some cases, new communities emerged to take advantage of the economic power even after Independence.

C. The expansion of market economy brought in new communities taking advantage of available opportunities to control/hold economic power even after independence eg. Marwaris.

- The Marwaris became a successful business community only during the colonial period, when they took advantage of new opportunities in colonial cities such as Calcutta and settled throughout the country to carry out trade and also involve in money lending.
- Like the Nakarattars, the success of the Marwaris rested on their extensive social networks which created the relations of trust necessary to operate their banking system.
- In the late colonial period and after Independence, some Marwari families transformed themselves into modern industrialists, and even today Marwaris control more of India's industry than any other community.

6. Jajmani is an economic system where lower castes performed various functions for upper castes and received gains in return. It is also characterised by an unbroken hereditary relationship-wherein the kameen remains obliged to render services throughout his life to a particular jajman. Due to the permanency of relationship both the jajman and kameen families become mutually dependent on each other.
7. (A) Concept of Capitalism (Karl Marx)

- Is a system of commodity production for the market, through the use of wage labour.
- private property and the market have penetrated in all sectors, converting everything including labour power into a saleable commodity;
- Two main classes exist - a mass of wage labourers who own nothing but their labour power (their capacity to perform labour) and a class of capitalists who, in order to serve as capitalists, must invest their capital and earn increasing profits in a competitive market economy.

(B) Mode of production → relation of production → class structure

(C) Capitalism → Capitalists + Workers → Surplus Value

\[ \text{(Owners/Exploiters) + (Wage Labor/Exploited)} \]

Exploitation

8. A Commodity: A good or service that may be bought or sold in the market.

B. Commoditisation / Commodification: Transformation of a non-commodity into a commodity Eg. Sale of kidney, Labor, Skills, marriage bureau etc.

Commodification occurs when things that were earlier not traded in the market become commodities.

- For instant, labour or skills
- the sale of human body organs like kidney by the poor to cater to rich
- In contemporary India, things or processes that earlier were not part of market exchange have become commodified.
- Traditionally, marriages were arranged by families, but now there are professional marriage bureaus and websites that help people to find brides and grooms for a fee.
In earlier times, social skills such as good manners and etiquettes were imparted mainly through the family. Now, there are many private institutes that offer courses in 'personality development', spoken English, and so on, that teach students (mostly middle class youth) the cultural and social skills required to succeed.

There are also a growing number of privately owned schools and colleges and coaching classes as a process of commodification of education.

Pushkar Mela

- The growing market for international tourism also suggests how culture itself may become a commodity. An example is the famous annual fair in Pushkar, Rajasthan, to which pastoralists and traders come from distant places to buy and sell camels and other livestock.

- While the Pushkar fair continues to be a major social and economic event for local people, it is also marketed internationally as a major tourist attraction.

- The fair is attractive to tourists because it comes just before a major Hindu religious festive of the Poornima, when pilgrims come to bathe in the holy Pushkar Lake.

C. Consumption: final use of goods and services by people (consumers), means by which social distinctions are created and communicated (eg. Advertisements).

D. Labour power: Capacity of the labour. The mental and physical capabilities of human beings, that are used in the process of production. (As different from labour, which is work performed).

9. Status symbol (Max Weber) goods bought are related to people's status in society (eg. Cell phone, brand of car etc.).

- For example, among the middle class in India today, the brand of cell phone or the model of car that one owns is important markers of socio-economic status.

- Consumption is one aspect of lifestyle, but it also includes the way you decorate your home and the way you dress, your leisure activities, and may other aspects of daily life.
10. Globalization: a complex series of economic, social, technological, cultural and political changes that have increased after independence, integration and interaction among people and economic actors (companies) in different locations (e.g., BPO, Yoga, Pushkar).

World is increasingly getting connected.

- The software services industries and business process outsourcing (BPO) industries (such as call centres) are some of the major avenues through which India is getting connected to the global economy.

- Companies based in India provide low-cost services and labour to customers located in the developed countries of the West. There is now a global market for Indian software labour and other services.

Marketisation use of market or market-based processes to solve social political or economic problems.

Liberalization: The process whereby state controls over economic activity are relaxed and left to the market forces to decide.

Advantages

- Liberalisation stimulates economic growth and opens up the Indian markets to foreign companies. Thus, many foreign branded goods are now sold, which were not previously available.

- Increasing foreign investment is supposed to help economic growth and employment.

Disadvantages

- Some sectors of Indian industry (like software and information technology) or agriculture (like fish or fruit) may benefit from access to a global market.

- Other sectors (like automobiles, electronics or oilseeds) will lose because they cannot compete with foreign producers.

- For example, Indian farmers are now exposed to competition from farmers in other countries because import of agricultural products is allowed.

- Many farmers are not able to make a decent living from agriculture.
because of Liberalisation when support prices and subsidies are reduced or withdrawn.

- Small manufactures also have been exposed to global competition, as foreign goods and brands have entered the market, and some have not been able to compete.

- The privatisation or closing of public sector industries has led to loss of employment in some sectors. There has been a growth of unorganised, sector employment at the expense of the organised sector. This is not good for workers because the unorganised sector does not generally offer better pay and regular permanent jobs.

14. Support price: Price at which government agree to buy agricultural, Commodities, ensure minimum income for farmers.

Subsidies: Government pays part of the price charged for inputs, lowers cost of farming.

2 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. Define Capitalism.
2. What is Consumption?

   In your opinion, will long term benefits of globalization exceed its costs? Give reasons for your answer.
CHAPTER 5

PATTERNS OF SOCIAL INEQUALITY AND EXCLUSION

1. Social Inequality
   - It is inevitable and almost natural in our everyday life.
   - Patterns of unequal access to social resources are commonly called social inequality.
   - Social inequality and exclusion are social as these are –
     - Not-about individuals but groups.
     - Not just economic though a link is found between social & economic inequality.
     - Is systematic & structured.

2. Social Exclusion
   - It refers to ways in which individuals may become cut off from full involvement in the wider society.
   - It prevents individuals or groups from participating fully in the economic, social and political life of the society, in which they live.
   - It is a combined outcome of deprivation and discrimination.
   - Social exclusion is structural not accidental; i.e., it is a result of social processes and institutions rather than individual action.
   - It is involuntary - that is, exclusion is practiced regardless of the wishes of those who are excluded.
   - For example, rich people are never found sleeping on the pavements or under bridges like thousands of homeless poor people in cities and towns. This does not mean that the rich are being 'excluded' from access to pavements and park benches, because they could certainly gain access if they wanted to, but they choose not do.
4. Social stratifications

- It is a system in which categories of people are ranked in a hierarchy in a Society. This is a system of structured in equalities.

- 3 Key principles of social stratification–
  - It is characteristic of society not simply a function of individual differences.
  - It persists over generations
  - It is supported by patterns of beliefs or ideology.

5. Prejudice

- It refers to preconceived opinions or attitudes held by members of one group towards another.

- It is an opinion formed before considering any available evidence.

- It is preconceived view that are often based on hearsay rather than on direct evidence.

- Ideas that are resistant to change even in the face of new information.

6. Stereotypes

- Prejudices are grounded in stereotypes: which are fixed and inflexible characterisations of a group of people.

- Stereotypes are often applied to ethnic and racial groups and to women.

- Stereotypes fix whole groups into single, homogenous categories;

- they refuse to recognize the variation across individuals and across contexts or across time.
7. Discrimination refers to actual practices / behaviour towards another group, disqualifying a group from opportunities open to others.

8. Caste is a discriminatory system as :
   - Birth decides an individual's position in caste hierarchy
   - Social status in caste hierarchy decides the occupation for an individual

9. Strong co-relation is seen between higher caste & higher economic status of people.

10. Untouchability prescribes strong social sanctions against members of the castes located at the bottom of the purity - pollution scale.

11. Three dimensions of untouchability are -
   - Exclusion : Dalits experience forms of exclusion that are unique and not practised against other groups - for instance, being prohibited from sharing drinking water sources or participating in collective religious worship, social ceremonies and festivals.
   - Humiliations & subordination : The practice of untouchability leads to the imposition of gestures of deference as well as abuse and humiliation, (such as taking off headgear, carrying footwear in the hand, standing with bowed head, not wearing clean or 'bright' clothes, and so on)
   - Exploitation : untouchability is most of the times associated with economic exploitation of various kinds, through the imposition of forced, unpaid labour or the confiscation of property.

12. Meaning of dalit :
   - 'Dalit' term literally means downtrodden and conveys the sense of an oppressed people.
   - The Dalit Panthers, a radical group that emerged in western India, used the term to assert their identity as part of their struggle for rights and dignity.

13. State and Non-state Initiatives addressing Caste & tribe discrimination.
State Initiatives

- Reservation of seats in state and central legislatures.
  - Reservation of jobs in Government services.
  - Reservation of seats in educational institutions.
  - Abolition of untouchability - Article 17.
  - Caste Disabilities Removal Act. 1850.

- Non-State initiatives (Movements & Struggles)
  - In pre-independence time, efforts made by Jyotiba Phule, Periyar, Ambedkar and others.
  - In contemporary times efforts made by political organizations like Bahujan Samaj Party in U.P., Dalit sangharsh Samiti of Karnataka.
  - Literary contributions - creating Dalit awareness specially in Marathi, Tamil, Kannada, Telugu & Hindi.

14. Other Backward classes/OBCs are described as socially & educationally backward. Largely the service and artisanal castes who occupied the lower rungs of the caste hierarchy.

Other Backward Classes (OBC’s)

- Commission appointed to look into measures for the welfare of OBC’s are
  (a) Kaka Kalelkar
  (b) Mandal Commission

- Upper OBC’s are largely landed castes and enjoyed dominance in rural society in many regions of India while the lower OBC’s are very poor & disadvantaged and are often not very different from Dalits in Socio-Economics terms.

15. Adivasi Struggles

- Term Adivasi, coined in the 1930s,
• It connotes political awareness and the assertion of rights,
• literally meaning 'original inhabitants'.
• 'Internal colonialism' faced by tribals in the name of national development (Government monopoly over forests, mining industries, displacement from their lands, dam projects acquisition of land by government).

16. Struggle for Women's Equality and Rights

• Various Women's issues arose in modern India as part of the nineteenth century middle class social reform movements. They were —
  • The anti-sati campaign led by Raja Rammohan Roy in Bengal who established the Brahma Samaj in 1828, campaign against sati, child marriage and efforts were made for widow remarriage.
  • Ranade started the widow remarriage movement in the Bombay Presidency and also attacked the caste and gender oppression.
  • Jotiba Phule who founded the Satyashodak Samaj, was against caste and gender discrimination.
  • The social reform movement among Muslims was led by Sir Syed Ahmed Khan who worked for education of girls.
  • Dayanand Sarwati of the Arya Samaj, worked for women's education and training in the arts of housekeeping and handicrafts and rearing of children.
  • Ishwar Chandra Vidyasagar worked for widow remarriage and fought against child marriage.

• Main features of the Women’s Movement in India since the 1970s
  • There has been changes in organisational structure as well as ideology. There has been an increasing importance of autonomous movements and organisations not linked to any political party.
  • New issues such as violence against women, the rape of women in police custody, dowry, murders, legal changes in land rights, employment have emerged. In 21st century, declining sex ratio, implicit social bias against the girl child are the new challenge of gender inequality.

- Recognition of the fact that though all women suffer in a patriarchal society, they do not all suffer in the same way or to the same extent—there are differences between middle class urban women, peasant women, Dalit women etc.

- Recognition that both women as well as men are oppressed by gender roles a gender-just society will allow both men and women to be free.

17. Karachi Session of the Indian National Congress

- In 1931, the Karachi Session of the Indian National Congress issued a declaration on the Fundamental Rights of Citizenship in India which was committed to women's equality. The declaration reads as follows:

  - All citizens are equal before the law, irrespective of religion, caste, creed or sex.

  - No disability attaches to any citizen, by reason of his or her religion, caste, creed or sex, in regard to public employment, office of power of honour, and in the exercise of any trade or calling.

  - The franchise shall be on the basis of universal adult suffrage.

  - Woman shall have the right to vote, to represent and the right to hold public offices.

  - Special protection of women workers

  - Equal rights and duties for all in regard to public offices, schools etc.

18. Stree Purush Tulana written in 1822, by a Maharashtrian housewife, Tarabai Shinde as a protest against the double standards of a male dominated society.

A young Brahmin widow had been sentenced to death by the courts for giving birth to an illegitimate child. No efforts had been made to identify or punish the man who had fathered the baby.

19. Begum Rokeya Sakhawat Hossain, written in 1905, wrote Sultana's Dream. It is a short story and the earliest example of science fiction writing in India. In her dream, Sultana visits a magical country where the gender roles are reversed. Men are confined to the home and observe 'purdah' while women are busy scientists vying with each other at inventing devices that will control the clouds and regulate rain, and machines that fly or 'air-cars'.

The struggle of the disabled

Disability has some common features to the public perception thus making it social.

(i) Disability is understood as a biological given.

(ii) Whenever, a disabled person is confronted with problems, it is taken for granted that the problems originate from his/her impairment.

(iii) The disabled person is seen as a victim.

(iv) Disability is supposed to be linked with the disabled individual's self perception.

(v) The very idea of disability suggest that they are in need of help.

The disabled are rendered disabled not because they are biologically disabled but because society renders them so.

There is a close relationship between disability and poverty. Malnutrition, mothers weakened by frequent childbirth, inadequate immunisation programmes, accidents in overcrowded homes, all contribute to incidences of disability among poor people that is higher than among people living in easier circumstances. Disability also creates poverty by increasing isolation and economic strain, not just for the individual but for the family.

CHAPTER 6

CHALLENGES TO CULTURAL DIVERSITY

The term 'diversity' emphasises differences rather than inequalities.

1. India is a culturally diverse country having communities of different religions, languages, sects, races and castes.
   - Cultural identities are very powerful-can arouse intense passions.
   - Able to mobilise large numbers of people.
   - Sometimes cultural differences are accompanied by economic and social in equalities can provoke opposition from other communities.
   - Situation becomes worse when scarce resources like rives waters, jobs of govt. funds have to be shared.

2. Cultural identities can be a challenge if competition, conflict or social, economic inequalities exist among them.

   The importance of community identity
   - Our community provides us with languages (our mother tongue) and cultural values. It also anchors our self identity.
   - Expanding and overlapping circles of communities (family, kinship, caste, region or religion). They give us a sense of identity of who we are.
   - People react emotionally or even violently whenever there is a perceived threat to their community identity.

3. Community identities are universal
   - ascriptive, based on birth rather than choice.
   - give a sense of security and identity.

4. Nation is a large scale community consisting of different communities. A state refers to an abstract entity consisting of a set of political legal institutions claiming control over a particular geographical territory & people living in it.
   - Nation States are communities that have a state of their own in the modern world.
5. Indian Nation State

- Population-1,029 million.
- Languages & dialect — 1,632
- Religions — Hindus (80.5%), Muslims (13.4%), Christians (2.3%), Sikhs (1.9%), Budhist (0.89%), Jains (0.4%).

Why is it easy to describe a nation but hard to define it?

A nation is a peculiar sort of community but is easy to describe but hard to define. Nations can be founded on the basis of common cultural, historical and political institution like a shared religions, language, ethnicity, history or regional culture.

However, for every possible criterion these are exceptions and counter examples.

The criterion that comes closest to distinguishing a nation is the state.

Unlike the other kinds of communities, nations are communities that have a state of their own. That is why the two are joined with a hyphen to form the term nation state.

State feel threatened by the cultural diversity and adopt assimilation or integration policies to create a harmonious society.

6. Assimilation policy aim at persuading, encouraging or forcing all citizens to adopt a uniform set of cultural values and norms.

7. Integration policy aim to restricting public culture to common national pattern while a non-national cultures to be limited to the private sphere.

How do assimilationist and integrationist strategies try to establish singular national identities.

Interventions are:

- Centralising all powers to forums where the dominant group constitutes a majority, and eliminating the autonomy of local or minority groups.
- Imposing a unified legal and judicial system based on the dominant groups traditions and abolishing alternative systems used by other groups.
- Adopting the dominant groups language as the only official national language and making its use mandatory in all public institutions.
- Promotion of the dominant groups languages and culture through national institution including state controlled media and educational institution.
- Adoption of state symbols, celebrating the dominant groups history, heroes and culture, choice of national holidays or naming of streets etc.
- Seizure of lands, forests & fisheries from minority groups and indigenous people and declaring them "National resources."

In terms of the nation-states relationship with community identities, the Indian case fits neither the assimilationist nor the integrationist model.

The constitutions declares the state to be a secular state, but religion, language and other such factors are not banished from the public sphere. By international standards very strong constitutional protection is offered to minority religions.

8. Regionalism in the Indian Context

- Regionalism in India is rooted in India's diversity of languages, cultures, tribes and religions. It is also encouraged by the geographical concentration of these identity markers in particular regions and fueled by sense of regional deprivation.

- Language coupled with regional and tribal identity are the most powerful instrument for the formation of ethnonational identity of India. However all linguistic communities have not got statehood. for instance, in the creation of three new states in 2000, namely Chhatisgarh, Uttaranchal and Jharkhand, language did not play a prominent role.

- Indian federalism and the three lists of subject.

There are lists of subjects or areas of governance which are the exclusive responsibility of either states or center along with a concurrent list, of areas where both are allowed to operate

9. Sociological Definition of the term 'Minority'

- The notion of minority groups is widely used in sociology
- It usually involves same sense of relative disadvantage.
- The sociological sense of minority also implies that the members of the minority form a collectivity i.e. they have a strong sense of group solidarity, a feeling of togetherness and belonging.
- Subjected to prejudice and discrimination.

Minority group is disadvantaged in one sense but not in another. For e.g. religious minorities like parsi and sikhs may be relatively well-off economically. But may be disadvantaged in cultural sense because of small numbers. Religions of cultural minorities need special protection because of the demographic dominance of the majority.

10. Privileged Minorities

Extremely privileged or wealthy people are not referred to as minorities.

Why should the minorities by given constitutional protection?

- Cultural minorities need special protection because of the demographic dominance of the majority.
- In democratic politics, it is always possible to convert a numerical majority into political power through elections.
- This means that religious or cultural minorities are politically vulnerable.
- Minorities also face the risk that the majority community will capture political power and use the state machinery to suppress their religious or cultural institutions, ultimately forcing them to abandon their distinctive identity.
- Article 29 an Article 30 are a part of the Indian constitution with special reference to Minorities and Cultural Diversity.

11. Communalism refers to aggressive chauvinism based on religious identity where one religious group sees itself as a legitimate, superior and worthy with other groups being inferior, illegitimate and opposed.

12. Characteristics features of communalism

- Cultivates aggressive political identity
- Religious identity overrides everything else.
• Communalism is a recurrent source of tension & violence in India—
  • Anti Sikh riots in Delhi in 1984
  • Anti Muslim riots in Gujarat in 2002

14. Authoritarian State

• It is a state in which the people have no voice and those in power are not accountable to anyone. Authoritarian states often limit or abolish civil liberties like freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of political activity, right to protection from wrongful use of authority, right to the due processes of the law, and so on.

15. Civil Society is the name given to the broad arena which lies beyond the private domain of the family but outside the domain of both state and market.

• Civil society is the non-state and non-market part of the public domain in which individuals get together voluntarily to create institutions and organizations. It is the sphere of active citizenship; here, individuals take up social issues, try to influence the state or make demands on it, pursue their collective interests or seek support for a variety of causes. It consists of voluntary associations, organisations or institutions formed by groups of citizens. It includes political parties, media institutions, trade unions, non-governmental organizations (NGOs).
The Indian people had a brief experience of authoritarian rule during the 'Emergency'
- enforced between June 1975 and January 1977.
- Parliament was suspended
- New laws were made directly by the government.
- Civil liberties were revoked
- Large number of politically active people were arrested and jailed without trial.
- Censorship was imposed on the media and government officials could be dismissed without normal procedures.

Civil Society Activities
- Today the activities of civil society organizations have an even wider range, including advocacy and lobbying activity with national and international agencies as well as active participation in various movements.

The issues taken up by Civil Society today are diverse.
- tribal struggles for land rights.
- devolution in urban governance.
- campaigns against rape and violence against women.
- rehabilitation of those displaced by dams and other developmental projects.
- fishermen's struggles against mechanised fishing.
- rehabilitation of hawkers and pavement dwellers.
- campaigns against slum demolitions and for housing rights,
- primary education reform.
- distribution of land to dalits.
- keeping a watch on the state and forcing it to obey the law and so on.
- Among the most significant recent initiatives is the campaign for the Right to Information. It illustrates the crucial importance of civil society in ensuring that the state is accountable to the nations and its people. The answer to the RTI has to be given within 30 days.

BOOK 2

CHAPTER 1

STRUCTURAL CHANGES

1. Colonialism can be understood as the rule by one country over another.

2. Pre-colonial rule invaders and rulers were interested in continuous flow of tribute but did not interfere with the socio-economic system in place.

3. Impact of colonial rule
   - new land ownership laws introduced
   - what crops to be grown was dictated.
   - the way of production and distribution of goods was altered
   - tea plantations were introduced
   - Forest Acts changed the life of the pastoralists.
   - Western education was introduced to create Indians who could assist in administration.
   - Certain industries closed down as it could not compete with machine made goods from Europe.
   - Old urban centres declined, while coastal cities were developed.
   - unintended consequence was the growth of nationalism
   - It led to considerable movement of people.

4. Many sided impact of English language on Indian society
   - widely used
   - a major contributor to the growth of nationalism.
   - its knowledge has given Indians an edge over others in the job market (post globalization)
• Linked to social prestige and statuses and sometimes able to reduce the importance of caste position

5. Capitalism is an economic system in which the means of production are privately owned and is organised to accumulate profits within a market system.

6. Two structural changes brought about by colonialism.
   • Urbanization
   • Industrialization

Urbanization: Cities replaced villages as places to live for many (as living and working arrangements).

Industrialization refers to emergence of machine production based on the use of inanimate power resource like steam, or electricity.

De-industrialization: It is a process of social and economic change caused by the removal or reduction of industrial activity in a region. In India the impact of the very same British industrialisation led to deindustrialization in some sectors.

• decline of old urban centres. Just as manufacturing boomed in Britain, traditional exports of cotton and silk manufactures from India declined in the face of Manchester competition.

• This period also saw the further decline of cities such as Surat an Masulipatnam while Bombay and Madras grew.

• Cities were an expression of global capitalism.

7. Urbanisation and Industrialisation are linked processes.
   • British industrialization led to deindustrialization in some sectors.
   • Old urban centres like Surat, Masulipatnam, Dhaka, Murshidabad declined.
   • Coastal cities like Bombay, Calcutta and Madras were developed for exporting new materials-cotton, jute, indigo, coffee-and importing machine made goods from Britain.

8. There is a vital difference between the empire building of pre-capitalist times and that of capitalist times.
   • Pre capitalist conequerors did not interfere with the economic base. Whereas British colonialism was based on a capitalist system which directly interfered to ensure maximum profit.

- Every policy was geared towards the strengthening and expansion of British capitalism.
- It changed not just land ownership laws but decided even what crops out to be grown and what not.

9. Tea plantations

- Undemocratic measures were used to get work done by the workers, for the benefit of the 'British planters.
- The planters enjoyed lavish lifestyles.
- The workers worked under unjust contract and unfavorable conditions
- The planter and his family lived in huge bungalows surrounded by an army of liveried servants.
- The workers were recruited from far off places and many were infected with strange fevers.

10. Early industrialization in Independent India

- Development of heavy and machine making industries
- Expansion of public sector
- Development of a large cooperative sector.

A National Planning committee of 1938 was set up with Jawahar Lal Nehru as the Chairman and KT shah as the General Editor. The major areas of focus were

- Agriculture and other sources of primary production.
- Exchange and finance
- Public utilities, transport and communication
- Education-general and technical.
- Women's role in a planned economy.
The Planning commission was set up in March 1950 by the resolution of the Government of India.

11. Urbanization in Independent India

- M.S.A. Rao identified the impact of urban influences on many Indian villages.

  (a) Villages where sizable population are employed in far off cities or in overseas towns. Members of families are left behind.

  (b) Villages situated near an industrial townlike Bhilai, Bokaro

  (c) Villages surrounding ever expanding metropolitan cities like Delhi, Mumbai.

12. Difference between Western and Indian pattern of Industrialisation

- In western pattern of industrialization majority of people are employed in the service sector, while in India majority are in agriculture sector.
- In western pattern majority are formally employed and getting regular salaries. Whereas in India very few are in regular salaried employment.

2 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. How has English language impacted our society?
2. What is colonialism?
3. What was the impact of western education in India?
4. What is capitalism?
5. What was the effect of British industrialization on Indian industries?
6. How did industrialization take place after independence in India?
7. Urbanisation and industrialisation are linked processes. Justify.
8. State the difference between western and Indian patterns of industrialisation.
9. What is the difference between the empire building of pre-capitalist times and that of capitalist times?

10. What is deindustrialization?

4 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. How has colonialism impacted our lives?

2. Explain how colonial rule is different from earlier rules in India?

3. Which cities were developed by the British in India & Why?

4. Explain M.S.A. Rao's three levels of urbanization observed in Independent India.
CHAPTER 2

CULTURAL CHANGES

1. Cultural changes during colonial rule can be understood at two levels—
   - efforts of social reformers and nationalists
   - Indirect-influence of four processes- sanskritisation, modernisation, secularisation and westernisation.

Social Reform Movements in the 19th & Early 20th Century

The well known issues or the social evils that plagued Indian society were
   - Sati
   - Child marriage
   - Widow remarriage
   - Caste discrimination

Caste discrimination was the central idea of reform for Buddhist, Bhakti and Sufi movements.
   - The 19th Century social reform attempts was the modern context and mix of ideas.
   - Modern ideas of Western liberalisation and traditional literature were combined creatively.
   - Social organisations like Brahmo Samaj in Bengal and Arya Samaj in Punjab were set up.

2. Modern Framework of Change in Colonial India according to Sociologist Satish Saberwal
3. Sanskritisation (term coined by M.N. Srinivas) is a process by which some members of a low caste or tribe try to imitate/follow, the customs, ritual, beliefs, ideology and lifestyle of a high, in particular 'twice born' dwij caste.

4. De-sanskritisation is the process where influence of non-Sanskritic castes was found to be dominant instead of high castes.

5. Sanskritisation has been criticised at different levels.
   - No structural change only positional change for some individual.
   - Assumption of upper castes as being superior hence to be imitated
   - justification of the practice of inequality & exclusion as marked priviledges of upper castes hence a discriminatory system.
   - process that is gendered – though progressive for men, upper caste practices like purdah system, low age of marriage, dowry in place of bride price are regressive as far as women are concerned.
   - Erosion of Dalit culture would be an expected outcome.

6. Assertion of Dalit identities in recent years & backward classes movement leading to rejection of upper caste culture.

7. Westernisation
   - M.N. Srinivas defines Westernization as the changes brought about in Indian society and culture as a result of 150 yrs of British rule, changes occurring in technology, institutions, ideology and values. He believed as lower castes sanskritised, the upper caste were westernized by considering the British colonialists as reference group.

- Different kinds of westernization
  1. Emergence of a westernized sub-cultural pattern brought forward by the western educated middle class
  2. General spread of western cultural traits in the fields of food and eating habits, clothes and life-styles due working or serving the British colonialists over a long period.
  3. Impact of westernization can be seen in the fields of art, literature, music, architecture etc.

- In contemporary times, conflicts between generations are seen as cultural conflicts resulting from westernisation.

8. Modernization refers to improvement in technology, production processes; path of development taken by much of West Europe or North America.
   - Modernisation assumes that local ties and parochial perspective give way to universal commitments and cosmopolitan attitudes
   - a scientific and rational approach develops
   - work is based on achievement not birth, individualism is encouraged.

9. Secularisation: In the west-modernization seems to have led to secularization-a process of decline in the influence of religion especially in the public sphere.

10. Rituals have secular dimensions: It provides occasion to socialize with friends and kin, to show off wealth and style to enhance social status.

11. Secularisation of caste
   - formation of caste based associations and political parties.
   - seeking votes and fielding candidates on caste lines - assertion of rights, by caste based organisations

2 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. What were the various social issues taken up by the social reformers in the 19th century?
2. Name some of the modern social organizations formed in 20th century.

3. Why was 'Dharma Sabha' formed?

4. Give the meaning of the terms -
   (a) Sanskritisation
   (b) De-Sanskritisation
   (c) Westernisation
   (d) Modernization

5. What are some of the basic assumptions of modernity?

6. Examine the relationship of modernisation and secularization.

7. Sanskritisation is a gendered process. Justify.

4 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. Write a short note on secularization of caste.

2. Process of Sanskritisation encourages inequalities and discrimination. Explain

6 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. Explain the three aspects responsible for the modern framework of change in colonial India.

2. Examine the different levels at which sanskritisation as a concept has been criticized.
CHAPTER 3

THE STORY OF INDIAN DEMOCRACY

1. Democracy is a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

2. Two kinds of categories are - DIRECT & REPRESENTATIVE.

Direct Democracy: all citizens without the intermediary of elected officials can participate in making public decisions is practical with small number of people for eg. tribal council, community organisation, local unit of a trade union etc.

Representative Democracy: citizen elect officials to represent them, formulate laws and take decisions. Features of modern society with large populations.

For eg. - Municipal Boards State Assemblies, Parliament etc.

3. Participatory democracy: members of a group or community participate collectively in taking of major decisions for eg Panchayati Raj System.

Decentralised Democracy: It is the grass root level democracy.

4. Basis of the core values of Indian Democracy:
   - Ancient-epics: like Mahabharata, various folk tales that has elements of dialogue, discussion and debates (essential requirements of democracy).
   - Western theories on democracy: values like liberty, fraternity and equality derived from the French and the Russian revolutions.
   - Karachi Congress Resolution 1931 which pointed out even before independence the goal of equal rights for all citizens across caste, gender and religion.

5. Basic objectives laid down by the constitution
   - Empowerment of the poor and marginalised.
– Ending of caste discrimination – Equality to all diverse groups.

Competing Interest do not always reflect clear class divide.

- Operate on the Indian social scene and clamour for control of the state's resources.
- Empowerment of the poor and marginalised, poverty alleviation, ending of caste.
- The issue of the close down of a factory because it emits toxic waste and effect the health of those around. This is a matter of life, which the constitution protects.
- Closure of the factory will render people jobless livelihood again, is a mater of life that the constitution protects.

6. Law carries the means to force obedience, has the power of state behind it. The essence of law is force and coercion.

Justice: essence of justice is fairness. It functions through the hierarchy of authorities and follow the basic procedures as prescribed in the constitution. A hierarchy of courts interpret the laws.

7. Constitution is a document based on the ideals on which a nation rests. It is the basic norm from which all other rules and authorities flow. The Supreme court is the highest court and the ultimate interpreter of the constitution.

8. Panchayati Raj literally translates to governance by five individuals. The idea has been to create a vibrant democracy at the village or grassroot level.
- Three tier system of the Panchayati Raj has the Gram Sabha at the base.

9. Views of Panchayati Raj
- Dr. B.R. Ambedkar was critical of the Panchayati Raj system. He believed that local self-government meant giving extra power to the already dominating local elites and upper castes. Thus such a system would lead to further exploitation of the lower castes and the downtrodden.
- Mahatma Gandhi on the other hand believed in 'gram swarajya', i.e., village self-governance as an ideal model to adopt after Independence. He envisaged each villages as self sufficient units and hence supported Panchayati Raj System.
10. 73rd amendment of constitution in 1992 introduced grass root democracy or decentralised governance, granting various provisions:
- Constitutional status to the Panchayati Raj institution (PRIs)
- Local self government bodies in rural and municipal area to be elected every 5 years.
- Control of local resources given to the elected local bodies.

11. 74th Constitutional amendment
- Reservation of one third of total seats for women in rural and urban local elected bodies.
- 17% of seats reserved for women of scheduled castes & tribes.

12. Various powers & responsibilities undertaken by Panchayats.
- To prepare plans and schemes for economic development
- To ensure social justice
- To levy, collect and appropriate taxes, tolls and fees
- To maintain burning and burial grounds.
- To keep record of births and deaths.
- To propagate family planning
- To establish child care and maternity centres.
- To construct roads, buildings, schools for community use.

13. Main source of income for Panchayats
- Taxes levied on property, profession, animals, vehicles
- Cess on land revenue and rentals
- Grants received through the Zilla Panchayat

14. Nyaya Panchayat are constituted in certain villages. They have authority to pass judgement on petty civil and criminal cases, they can impose fines but cannot award sentences.

15. Van Panchayat these are environmental groups comprising mostly of village women who develop nurseries and nurture tree saplings. They also guard nearby forests to check illegal deforestation.
• Many tribal areas have a rich tradition of grassroots democracy. 'Durbar Kur' in Khasis presided over by a clan headman.

• A large chunk of tribal areas lie outside the provisions of 73rd Amendment as the policy makers did not wish to interfere with the traditional tribal institutions.

16. Interest groups: are organized to pursue specific interest in the political arena operating primarily by lobbying with the members of legislative bodies.

Pressure Groups

• Industrialist form associations such as FICCI Assocham. Workers from trade unions such as INTUC, CITU. Farmers form unions like Shetkari Sangathan.

• A political party is an organisation oriented towards achieving legitimate control of government through an electoral process.

2 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. What is Participatory Democracy?

2. Differentiate between direct and indirect democracy by giving suitable examples.

3. What is a representative democracy?

4. Examine the conflict found in British colonial practices and the western theories of democracy.

5. What is Panchayati Raj?

6. What was the significance of 73rd amendment?

7. What is the source of revenue for the panchayats?

8. Mention the steps taken by the panchayats for a transparent functioning.

9. Who are Nyaya Panchayats?

10. What is the significance of political parties in a democracy?

11. Name some of the Industrial associations.

12. What are pressure groups?
4 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. Describe the various kinds of pluralities present in Indian society.
2. Explain the concept of competing interests with the help of examples.
3. Differentiate between law and justice.
4. Examine the arguments given by Dr. Ambedkar & Mahatma Gandhi for the inclusion of Panchayati Raj in the constitution.
5. 73rd and 74th amendment has been monumental in bringing voice to the people justify.
6. Give a detailed account of various powers and responsibilities of Panchayats.
7. Explain the significance of Van Panchayats.
8. Describe the grass root democratic functioning in tribal areas.

6 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. Explain the various core values adopted in the Indian Democracy.
2. Explain the significance of Panchayati Raj's inclusion in the Indian constitution. Also give an account of its various powers & responsibilities.
CHAPTER 4

CHANGE AND DEVELOPMENT
IN RURAL SOCIETY

1. Indian Society is primarily a rural society. Agriculture and related occupations are the source of livlihoods for the majority of rural population.

- Many of our cultural practices and patterns can be traced to our agrarian backgrounds.

- Pongal in Tamil Nadu, Bihu in Assam, Baisakhi in Punjab and Ugadi in Karnataka.

2. Occupation of the rural population

- Agriculture is the single most important sources of livelihood for the majority of the rural population.

- Many activities also support agriculture and village life and are also sources of livelihood for people in rural India. For example, a large number of artisans such as potters, carpenters, weavers, ironsmiths, and goldsmiths are found in rural areas;

- Rural life also supported many other specialists and crafts persons as storytellers, astrologers, priests, water-distributors, and oil-pressers.

3. Diversity of occupations in rural India is reflected in the caste system. Explain.

- The diversity of occupations in rural India is reflected in the caste system which in most regions includes specialist and 'service' castes such as Washermen, Potters, and Goldsmiths.
4. AGRARIAN CLASS STRUCTURE
(access to land creates rural class structure)

- In rural areas no straight forward relationship exists between caste and class. In many cases there is a correspondence between caste and class as one moves down the hierarchy but in some cases it is not so for eg. Brahmans the higher castes are not the major landowners.
- The term agrarian structure is often used to refer to the structure or distribution of landholding.
- Examples of the dominant landowning groups are the Jats and Rajputs of UP, the Volkkalingas in Andhra Pradesh and Jat Sikhs of Punjab.
- In most regions a proprietary caste group owns most of the resources and commands labour from low ranked caste group.

5. Begar is free labour
- It is prevalent in many parts of northern India.
- Members of low ranked caste groups had to provide labour for a fixed number of days per year to the village zamindar or landlord.
- Lack of resources, and dependence on the landed class for economic, social and political support, meant that many of the working poor were tied to landowners in hereditary labour relationships (bonded labour).
- It is known by different names such as the Halpati system in Gujarat and the jeeta system in Karnataka.
- Colonial Period: Most rural areas were administered through Zamindari System and Raiyatwari System.
6. Primary objective of land reforms in India

- To remove the obstacles which arose from the inherited agrarian structure of the past.
- To eliminate all elements of exploitation & social injustices that existed within the agrarian system, in order to ensure equality of statuses and opportunities to all sections of the population.
- Various land reforms introduced after independence. (1950's to 1970's)
  - Abolition of Zamindari System: removed the layer of intermediaries, rights taken from zamindars weakening their economic & political position.
  - Tenancy Abolition and Regulation Acts: More security to the tenants, granted land rights to tenants (West Bengal and Kerala).
  - Ceiling Acts: Limits to be imposed on the ownership of land. Ceiling depended on the productivity of land i.e., High productivity land had low ceiling, while low productivity land had higher ceiling.

Drawbacks of Land Ceiling Act / "Benami Transfers"

- Most landowners were able to escape from having their surplus land taken over by the state.
- Some very large estates were broken up and landowners managed to divide the land among relatives and others, including servants, in so-called benami transfers - which allowed them to keep control over the land (in fact if not in name).
- In some places, some rich farmers actually divorced their wives (but continued to live with them) in order to avoid the provisions of the Land Ceiling Act. which allowed a separate share for unmarried women but not for wives.

- The Green Revolution was a government programme of agricultural modernisation.
- It was largely founded by international agencies that was based on providing high yielding variety (HYV) or hybrid seeds along with pesticides, fertilisers and other inputs to farmers.

- Green Revolution programmes were introduced only in areas that had assured irrigation, because sufficient water was necessary for the new seeds and methods of cultivation.
- It was targeted mainly at the wheat and rice-growing areas.
- Hence, only certain regions such as the Punjab, western U.P., Coastal Andhra Pradesh and parts of Tamil Nadu, received the first wave of the Green Revolution package.

B. Social transformations that were brought about as a result of Green Revolution

- Agricultural productivity increased sharply because of the new technology.
- India was able to become self-sufficient in food grain production.
- Increase in agricultural productivity especially in Punjab, Haryana etc. It has been considered a major achievement of the govt. & scientists.

C. The negative social and economic effects of Green Revolution

(1st Phase)

- Only the medium and large farmers benefitted.
- Displacement of tenancy cultivators
- Displacement of service caste groups
- Worsening of economic condition for agricultural workers due to rising prices and shift in the mode of payment.

(2nd Phase)

- Commercialisation & market - oriented cultivation, leading to livelihood insecurities.
- Worsening of regional inequalities giving rise to intercaste violence.
- Traditional system of cultivation practices and seeds is being lost.
- Environmental hazards
  - The medium and large farmers benefitted from the new technology.
  - This was because inputs were expensive, and small and marginal farmers could not afford to spend as much as large farmers, to purchase these inputs.
  - It was only the farmers who were able to produce a surplus for the market who were able to reap the most benefits from the Green Revolution and from the commercialization of agriculture that followed.

8. Subsistence agriculture

When agriculturists produce primarily for themselves and are unable to reproduce for the market, it is known as 'subsistence agriculture'

- Difference between Peasants and Farmers

Peasants: Agriculturalists who primarily produce for themselves and unable to produce for the market are peasants.

Farmers: Those agriculturalists who are able to produce surplus over and above the needs of the family and are linked to the market.

Transformations in the Rural Society after independence.

- increase in the use of agricultural labour
- shift from payment in kind to payment in cash
- loosening of traditional bonds between farmers and agricultural workers.
- rise of a class of free wage labourers.

9. Circulation of Labour

- The commercialisation of agriculture led to the growth of migrant agricultural labour that circulated between their home villages and more prosperous areas.
- Men migrated periodically in search of work and better wages, while women and children were often left behind in their villages with elderly grandparents.
- Migrants were more easily exploited by the wealthy farmers and were usually not paid the minimum wages.

- These migrant workers were termed as 'footloose labour' by Jan Breman.

- These labourers got employment only during a part of the year, i.e., the harvesting time.

- As migrant labourers are not locals and come from poor regions, they were in a weak position relative to employers.

- Women are also emerging as the main source of agricultural labour, leading to the 'feminisation' of agricultural labour force.

Globalisation, Liberalisation and Rural Society Contract Farming.

The policy of liberalisation that entails participation in the World Trade Organisation, aims to bring about free international trading system.

- Many farmers in regions of Karnataka and Punjab enter into contracts with multinational companies such as Pepsico to grow certain crops.

- The company identifies the crop to be grown

- provides the seeds and other inputs.

- the know how and the working capital is also provided.

- Company guarantees to purchase the produce at a pre determined fixed price.

Negative impacts

- It leads to greater financial insecurity as the farmers become dependent on the company for their livelihood

- farming of export oriented products such as flowes and gherkins means that land is diverted from food grain production.

- It disengages people from the production process

- Indigenous knowledge of agriculture becomes irrelevant.

- Production of elite items requires high doses of fertilizers and pesticides which are ecologically not sustainable.
The agricultural 'extension agents' have been replaced by agents of fertiliser and pesticide companies who make the farmers dependent on expensive fertiliser and pesticides thus reducing project and increasing debts and ecological crisis.

10. Farmer Suicides

- Many farmers who committed suicide were marginal farmers because of loss of crop due to disease, excessive rainfall or drought resulting in 'matrix events'.
- Lack of adequate support of market price unable to bear the debt burden or sustain their families.
- Unable to meet the needs expected for marriage, dowries, education, medical care etc.

2 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. What are the various occupations followed in rural society?
2. What does 'agrarian structure' refer to?
3. What does the term 'Begar' mean?
4. What is 'Raiyatwari System'?
5. What was the condition of Indian agriculture after Independence?
6. What are 'Benami transfers'?
7. How did Green Revolution benefit Indian Agriculture initially?
8. Why have areas like Eastern UP and Telangana witnessed intercaste violence in recent years?
9. What are the various factors behind Kerala's 'mixed economy'?
10. What do you mean by 'Feminization of agricultural labour'?
11. Differentiate between Peasants and Farmers.

4 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. Explain the various factors behind the increasing farmer's suicide in India.
2. Explain the agrarian structure of Rural Society.
3. Examine the caste & class relationship in rural society.
4. Mention the loopholes found in the implementation of the land ceiling Act.
5. What were the major land revenue systems followed by the British in India?
6. Explain the 'Green Revolution' program.
7. Explain the regional inequalities created due to the Green revolution Program.
8. Mention the various aspects of social transformation in rural society as a result of the Green Revolution Program.
9. 'Commercialization of Agriculture is indicative of Capitalists Agriculture according to some scholars'. Explain.
10. Discuss the emergence of New regional elites of rural society.
11. Explain Jan Breman's concept of 'Foot Loose Labour'.
12. Describe 'Contract Farming'.

6 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. Enumerate the social consequences of Green Revolution.
2. Explain the various land reforms introduced in India after Independence.
3. Explain the agrarian structure of rural society and also examine the caste and class relationship that exists.
CHAPTER 5

CHANGE IN DEVELOPMENT IN INDUSTRIAL SOCIETY

1. Features of Industrialisation
   - Marx, Max Weber and Emile Durkheim associated number of social features with industry, such as urbanisation.
   - loss of face-to-face relationships.
   - Industrialisation involves a detailed division of labour.
   - Marx called this situation as alienation, when people do not enjoy work, and see it as something they have to do only in order to survive, and even that survival depends on whether the technology has room for any human labour.
   - Industrialisation leads to greater equality, in some spheres. For example, caste distinctions do not matter anymore on trains, buses or in cyber cafes.
   - In developed countries, the majority of people are in the services sector, followed by industry and less than 10% are in agriculture (ILO figures).
   - In developing countries like India, nearly 60% were employed in the primary sector (agriculture and mining), 17% in the secondary sector (manufacturing, construction and utilities), and 23% in the tertiary sector (trade, transport financial services etc.)

2. A. Organised or Formal Sector
   - The organised sector consists of all units employing ten or more people throughout the year.
   - registered with the government.
   - Jobs are secure with benefits.
   - Recruitment is more transparent
• there are mechanisms for complaints and redressal.

B. Unorganised or informal sector

• The units need not be registered with the government.
• employees may not get proper salaries or wages, pension and other benefits.
• Jobs are not secure.

3. Mixed Economy

• In mixed economy, some sectors are reserved for government, while others were open to the private sectors.

Globalization liberalization and change in Indian Industry

4. Liberalisation

• Private companies, especially foreign firms, are encouraged to invest in sectors earlier reserved for the government, including telecom, civil aviation, power etc.
• Licenses are no longer required to open industries. Foreign products are now easily available in Indian shops.

5. Disinvestment

• Privatisation of public sector or government companies.
• The government is trying to sell its share in several public sector companies.
• Eg : Modern Foods

6. How Do People find Jobs

• Jobs are advertised - (Time Ascent).
• Through employment exchange
• Personal contacts — self employed plumbers, tutors etc.
• Contractors and jobbers/mistris (Kanpur).

7. A. Badli Workers / Contract work in Organised Sector

• Badli workers substitute for regular permanent workers who are on leave.
Many of the badli workers are not given the same status and security.

This is what is called contract work in the organised sector

B. Contractor System

- used in the hiring of casual labour for work on construction sites, brickyards and so on.
- The contractor goes to villages to ask people if they want work.
- The contractor loans them some money, which, includes the cost of transport to the worksite.
- The loaned money is treated as an advance wage and the worker works without wages until the loan is repaid.
- In the past, agricultural labourers were tied to their landlord by debt.
- They can break the contract and find another employer.

Sometimes, whole families migrate and the children help their parents.

8. How is Work Carried Out

Task of Manager

- Control workers
- Get more work out of workers

Ways of Making Worker Produce More

- Extend the working hours
- Increase the amount to be produced within a given time period
- Organising work
- Production is speeded up through 'Scientific Management' and 'assembly line'.

9. Scientific Management or Taylorism

- An American called Frederick Winslow Taylor invented the "Scientific Management" in the 1890s, also known as Taylorism or industrial engineering.
- All work is broken down into its smallest repetitive elements, and divided between workers.
• Workers are timed with the help of stopwatches.
• Worker are made to fulfil a certain target every day.

10. A "Assembly line" production
• Each worker sits along a conveyor belt.
• Worker assembles only one part of the final product.
• the speed of work is set by adjusting the speed of the conveyor belt.

B. Use of machinery actually deskills workers
• The famous sociologist Harry Braverman argues that the use of machinery actually deskills Workers.
• For example, earlier architects and engineers had to be skilled draughtsmen, now the computer does a lot of the work for them.

11. Services Sector
Software professionals are middle class and well educated. Their work is supposed to be self motivated and creative. But we often see that their work is also subject to the Taylorist labour processes.
• Time Slavery.
• 10-12 hours is an average work day.
• Employees stay overnight in office when faced with a project deadline.
• Long working hours are central to the industry's work culture.

12. Working Conditions of coal miners
• Sub-contracting is widespread.
• Many contractors do not maintain proper registers of workers.
• They avoid any responsibility for accidents and benefits.
• After mining has finished in an area, the company is supposed to cover up the open holes and restore the area to its earlier condition. But they don't do this.

13. Dangers faced by coal miners
Workers in underground mines face very dangerous conditions.

- due to flooding,
- fire,
- the collapse of roofs and sides,
- the emission of gases and
- ventilation failures
- Many workers develop breathing problems, diseases like tuberculosis and silicosis.
- Those working in over ground mines work in both hot sun and rain, and face injuries due to mine blasting, falling objects etc.

Thus, the rate of mining accidents in India is very high compared to other countries.

Problem faced by Migrant workers

- The fish processing plants along the coast line employ mostly single young women from Tamil Nadu, Karnataka and Kerala.
- Ten-twelve of them are housed in small rooms and sometimes one shift has to make way for another.
- Young women are seen as submissive workers.
- Many men also migrate singly leaving their families in villages.
- Migrants have little time to socialize, resulting in loneliness and vulnerability.

14. Home Based Work

- important part of the economy.
- It includes the manufactures of lace, zari or brocade, carpets, bidis, agarbattis and many such products.
- work is mainly done by women and children.
- An agent provides raw materials and also picks up the finished product.
• Home workers and paid on a piece-rate basis, depending on the number of pieces they make.
• For e.g., the bidi industry.

15. A. Strike
• In a strike, workers do not go to work,
• To call a strike is a difficult decision as managers may try to use substitute labour.
• Workers also find it hard to sustain themselves without wages.

B. Lock Out
• In a lock-out the management shuts the gate and prevents workers from coming.

16. Two demands of the workers in the Bombay Mill Strike
• The Bombay Textile strike of 1982 was led by the trade union leader, Dr. Datta Samant.
• The strike lasted nearly two years.
• The workers wanted
  • better wages and
  • the right to form their own union

17. Basic features of capitalism
• Means of production are privately owned.
• To accumulate profits.
• Earn more profits by paying less to workers.
• Comoditisation / consumption / commodification

2 MARKS QUESTIONS
1. What is Indistrialisation?
2. Differentiate between developed and developing countries.
3. Distinguish between organized and unorganized sector.
4. What is 'mixed economy'?
5. What is disinvestment?
7. How do people find jobs?
8. Who are Badli workers?
9. What is 'home based work'? Why is it an essential part of the economy?
10. Differentiate between Strikes and Lock outs.

4 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. What are the social implications/advantages of the organized sectors?
2. What are the basic tasks of the manager? How can he make the worker produce more?
3. 'The more mechanized an industry gets, the fewer people are employed' Justify the statement with a suitable example.
4. Explain the concept of industrial engineering / scientific management/ Taylorism.
5. How does job recruitment take place through the 'contractor system'?
6. Examine the working conditions of the mine workers.
7. Explain home based work with the help of an example.

6. MARKS QUESTIONS

1. Discuss the changes brought about in the Indian industry due to the impact of globalization and Liberalisation.
2. How has Liberalisation affected employment patterns in India?
CHAPTER 6

GLOBALISATION AND SOCIAL CHANGE

1. Globalisation

- It refers to the growing interdependence between different peoples, regions and countries in the world.

The effect of globalisation is far reaching. It affects us all but affects us differently. Thus, while for some it may mean new opportunities, for others the loss of livelihood.

For eg. Women silk spinners and twisters of Bihar lost their jobs once the Chinese and Korean silk yarn entered the market.

2. Global Interconnections not new to world and to India

1. Since the early years, India has never been isolated from the world. For eg: Silk route, which centuries ago connected India to the great civilisations, which existed in China, Persia, Egypt and Rome.

2. Colonial Period

- Greatest movement of people was navigation of people.
- Labourers were taken away in ships to distant parts of the world.
- Slave trade

3. Independent India and the World

Independent India retained a global outlook, even after Independence For instance migration, export and import of raw material, goods and technology was very much part of development since independence. Foreign firms did operate in India.

3. Dimensions of Globalisation
• Indentured labour work under a restrictive contract of employment for a fixed period in a foreign country in exchange for payment of passage, accommodation, and food.

• Indentured labour was widely used as a source of workers from India for employment on sugar plantations in the Caribbean from 1839, following the abolition of slavery.

4. The Economic Policy of Liberalisation

• The state after independence put in place a large number of laws that ensured that, the Indian market and Indian indigenous, business were protected from competition of the wider world.
• Liberalisation of the economy meant the steady removal of the rules that regulated Indian trade and finance regulations.

• Since 1991, the Indian economy witnessed a series of reforms in all major sectors of the economy (agriculture, industry, trade, foreign investment and technology, public sector, financial institutions etc. As greater integration into the global market would be beneficial to Indian economy.

• The process of liberalisation also involved taking loans from International and Monetary fund (IMF).

5. Transnational Corporation

• TNCs are companies that produce goods or market services in more than one country. For e.g: Coca Cola, General Motors, Colgate-Palmolive, Kodak and Mitsubishi.

6. Electronic Economy

• Banks, corporations, fund managers and individual investors are able to shift funds internationally with the click of a mouse.

7. Weightless Economy or Knowledge Economy

• In weightless economy products have their base in information, not in the physical production or distribution of material goods as in the case with software, media and entertainment products and internet based services but in their design, marketing, sale and services. For e.g., event managers.

Globalization of Finance

• Due to the information technology revolution, a globalisation of finance, takes place. Globally integrated financial markets undertake billions of dollars worth transactions within seconds in the electronic circuits. There is a 24-hour trading in capital and security markets.

8. Global Communications

• Important advances in technology and the world’s telecommunications infrastructure has led to revolutionary changes in global communication. We now have multiple links to the outside world, including telephones (land lines and mobiles), fax machines, digital and cable television, electronic mail and the internet.

- Digital Divide: It exists in situations where some homes and many offices have multiple links with the outside world but some may not have.

- In new international division of labour more and more routine manufacturing production and employment is done in the Third World cities — outsourcing.

- Nike shoes founder Phil Knight imported shoes from Japan and sold them at athletics meetings.

- The company grew to a multinational enterprise, a transnational corporation,

- As costs increased, production shifted to Thailand and Indonesia then to India.

- Instead of mass production of goods at a centralised location (Fordism), we have moved to a system of flexible production at dispersed locations (post-Fordism).

- Fordism: Refers to a system of production made popular by the American industrialist Henry Ford in the early part of 20th century. He popularised the assembly line method of mass production in a centralised location.

- Post Fordism: Refers to a system of flexible production of goods at dispersed locations.

10. Globalisation and Employment

- There is uneven impact of globalisation on employment. For the middle class youth from urban centres, globalisation and the IT revolution has opened up new career opportunities.

11. Globalisation and Political Changes

- Political developments that accompanied globalisation were:
  - The collapse of the erstwhile socialist world hastened globalisation.
• the growth of International and regional mechanisms for political collaboration.

Eg: The European Union (EU), the Association of South East Asian Nations (ASEAN), South Asian Regional Conference (SARC) and South Asian Federation of Trade Association (SAFTA).

• The rise of International Government Organisations. (IGOs) and International Non-Governmental Organisations (INGO's).

• INGOs differ from intergovernmental organisations in that they are not affiliated with government institutions, they are independent organisations, which make policy decisions and address international issues. Some of the best known INGOs are Greenpeace, The Red Cross and Amnesty International, Medecins Sans Frontiers (Doctors without Borders).

12. Globalisation of Culture

• Globalisation of culture refers to the mixing of the global culture with the local culture.

• Glocalisation of Culture: Glocalisation refers to the mixing of the global with the local.

• It is a strategy often adopted by foreign firms while dealing with local traditions in order to enhance their marketability.

• In India, all the foreign television channels like Star, MTV, Channels V and Cartoon Network use Indian languages. Even McDonald sells only vegetarian and chicken products in India and not its beef products, which are popular abroad. McDonald's goes vegetarian during the Navaratri festival.

13. Gender and Culture

• Fixed traditional idea of cultural identity defends undemocratic and discriminating practices against women in the name of cultural identity.

• These could range from a defence of sati to defence of women's exclusion from education and participation in public matters.
14. A. Culture of Consumption

- Cultural consumption (of art, food, fashion, music, tourism) shapes to a large extent the growth of cities.
- This is evident in the spurt of growth of shopping malls, multiplex cinema halls, amusement park and ‘water world’ in every major city in India.
- Advertisements and media also promotes culture where spending is important.

B. Corporate Culture

- Corporate culture is a branch of management theory that seeks to increase productivity and competitiveness through the creation of a unique organisational culture involving all members of a firm.

15. Threat to Many Indigenous Craft and Literary Traditions and Knowledge Systems

- Modern development even prior to the stage of globalisation did make inroads into traditional cultural forms and occupations based on them.
- Unable to compete with power looms, traditional craft of weaving are dying out.
- (1) For instance about 30 theater groups, which were active around the textile mills area of Parel and Girgaum of Mumbai city, have become defunct, as most of the mill workers are out of jobs in these areas.
- (2) Some years back, there were large number of suicides by the traditional weavers in Sircilla village of Karimnager district and Dubakka village in Medak district, both in Andhra Pradesh.

Protecting Indigenous Knowledge Systems

- Recent attempts by some multinational companies to patent the use of Tulsi, Haldi, Rudraksha and Basmati rice has highlighted the need for protecting the base of its indigenous knowledge systems.

CHAPTER 7

MASS MEDIA AND COMMUNICATION

1. Definition

- 'Mass' media they reach mass audiences – (very large number of people).

- Mass media include a wide variety of forms, including television, newspapers, films magazines, radio, advertisements, video games and CDs.

- Also referred to as Mass Communications

- The structure and content of mass media is shaped by changes in the economic, political and socio-cultural contexts.

- The relationship between mass media and communication is dialectical, both influence each other.

- Mass communications is different from other means of communication as it requires a formal structural organisation.

- There is a difference between how easily different sections of people can use mass media.

2. Mass media during colonial period.

- The growth of Indian nationalism was closely linked to its struggle against colonialism.

- It emerged in the wake of the institutional changes brought about by British rule in India.

- Anti colonial public opinion was nurtured and channelised by the nationalist press, which was vocal in its opposition to the oppressive measures of the colonial state.

- This led the colonial government to clamp down on the nationalist press and impose censorship for instance during the llibert Bill agitation in 1883.
1. Association with the national movement led some of the nationalist newspapers like Kesari (Marathi), Mathrubhumi (Malayalam), Amrita Bazar Patrika (English) to suffer the displeasure of the colonial state.

2. But that did not prevent them from advocating the nationalist cause and demand an end to colonial rule.

3. Beginning of Modern Mass Media

- The first modern mass media institution began with the development of the printing press.

- This technique was first developed by Johann Gutenberg in 1440. Its effects were:
  - With the Industrial Revolution, the print industry also grew
  - Newspapers began to reach out to a mass audience
  - People across the country began to feel connected and developed a sense of belonging or 'we feeling' – growth of nationalism.

4. Mass Media during Colonial Period

- Anti-colonial public opinion was nurtured and channelised by the nationalist press, vocal in its opposition to the oppressive measures of the colonial state.

- Imposed censorship, e.g., Ilbert Bill agitation in 1883.

- Nationalist newspapers like Kesari (Marathi), Mathrubhumi (Malayalam), Amrita Bazar Patrika (English).

- Advocating the nationalist cause and demand an end to colonial rule.

5. Mass Media during British Period

- During British rule mass media comprised a range of newspapers and magazines, films and radio.

- Radio was wholly owned by the state.

- Circulation of news and information was read and spread by word of mouth (from commercial and administrative hubs like markets and trading centres as well as courts and towns).
6. A. Mass Media in Independent India

- The media expected to spread the spirit of self-reliance and national development among the people.
- The media seen as a means to inform the people of the various developmental efforts.
- To fight against oppressive social practices like untouchability, child marriages, and ostracism of widows.
- Formulate public opinion.
- It provide a platform for voicing grievances.
- Promotion of national scientific ethos.

B. Radio

- At the time of independence there were only 6 radio stations located in the major cities catering primarily to an urban audience.
- An active partner in the development of the newly free India. The AIR's programmes consisted mainly of news, current affairs, and discussions on development.
- Vividh Bharti, a channel for entertainment broadcasting Hindi film songs.
- The transistor revolution in the 1960s made the radio more accessible.
- In 2000 around 110 million households were listening to radio broadcasts in 24 languages. More than 1/3rd of them were rural households.

C. Televisions

- Television programming was introduced experimentally in India to promote rural development as early as 1959.
- Later the Satellite Instructional Television Experiment (SITE) broadcasted directly to community viewers in the rural areas.
- Television stations were set up under Doordarshan in 4 cities (Delhi, Mumbai, Srinagar and Amritsar) by 1975. Three more stations in Kolkata, Chennai and Jalandhar.
• As programmes become commercialized, there was a shift in target audience.

• Entertainment programmes grew and were directed to the urban consuming class.

• The advent of colour broadcasting during the 1982 Asian Games in Delhi.

D. Print Media

• After Independence, the print media helped in the task of nation building by taking up developmental issues as well as giving voice to the widest section of people.

• The greatest challenge that the media faced was, the declaration Emergency in 1975 and censorship of the media.

7. Globalisation and the Media

A. Print Media

• There has been an amazing growth in the circulation of newspapers especially in the Indian Language newspaper because of —

• the rise in the number of literate people who migrate to cities.

• the needs of the readers in the small towns and villages are different form that of the cities and the Indian language newspapers cater to those needs such as Malayala Manorama and the Eenadu.

• Indian language newspapers having adopted advanced printing technologies and also attempted supplements, pullouts, and literary and niche booklets.

• Entry of glossy magazines into the market.

• In order to compete with the electronic media, newspapers, especially English language newspapers have reduced prices, brought out editions from multiple centres and increased dependence on the sponsors of advertisements.

• New Marketing strategies have been adopted such as, door-to-door surveys, research, consumer contact programmes, increased sales of colour supplements, glossy finish etc.
B. Television

- In 1991 there was one state controlled TV channel Doordarshan in India but by 1998 it increased to almost 70 channels. Privately run satellite channels have multiplied.
- There has been a manifold increase in viewership.
- There has been an expansion in the cable television industry. Video viewing at home and in community-based parlours increased rapidly.
- The incoming of transnational television companies like Star TV, MTV, Chennals (V), Sony.
- Foreign network has introduced regional language channels, such as Bengali, Punjabi, Marathi and Gujarati.
- Most television channels telecast throughout the day, 24×7.
- Television has fostered public debate.
- There are a large number of reality shows, talk show, Bollywood shows, family soaps, interactive shows, game shows and comedy shows.

C. Radio

- Globalisation led to the opening up of Govt. controlled broadcasting system.
- Variety of programmes like sports, cultural, etc. became popular among the masses.
- The advent of privately owned FM radio stations provided a boost to entertainment programmes over radio.
- Most of the FM channels belongs to media conglomerates. Like 'Radio Mirchi belongs to the Times of India group, Red FM is owned by Living Media and Radio City by the Star Network.
- Radio is now used as an active medium of communication to inspire the youth and women shown in the three films 'Rang de Bansanti' and Lage Raho Munna Bhai and recently in Tumhar Sullu.
8. Mass Media is bridging the Gap between Rural and Urban areas by:

- Bringing images of urban life styles and patterns of consumptions into the rural areas.
- Urban norms and standards are becoming well known even in the remote villages creating new desires and aspirations for consumptions.

Effects are:

- Increase in non-farm rural occupations like transport services, business enterprises etc.
- If close to urban areas they may travel daily to the nearest urban centre to work while staying in the village.
- A combination of information and entertainment to sustain the interest of the reader.
- A wide coverage of different issues to appeal to the readers across all age groups.
- There is a rise in the number of literate people who are migrating to cities.
- The Indian language newspapers cater to the needs of the readers in the small towns and villages and also of the readers from that of the cities.
- The Indian language newspapers have adopted advanced printing technologies.
- They have also brought out supplements, pullouts, and literary and niche booklets, glossy papers, advertisement (property, matrimonial) etc.
- Effective marketing strategies have helped in the growth of India language newspapers.
- It is reasonably priced.
2 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. What is meant by the term infotainment?
2. How does mass media bridge the gap between rural and urban areas.

4 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. In independent India, Jawaharlal Nehru, the first prime minister, called upon the media to function as the "watchdog of democracy". Why?

   Or

   What is the mass media expected to do in order to function as the 'watchdog of democracy'?

2. What were the reasons for the amazing growth in Indian language newspapers?

6 MARKS QUESTIONS

1. Discuss the role of radio broadcasting in newly free India.
2. In what ways has Globalisation affected the print media.
3. Discuss the role of TV broadcasting in newly free India.
CHAPTER 8

SOCIAL MOVEMENTS

1. Social movements have shape the world we live in
2. Features of Social movements.

FEATURES OF SOCIAL MOVEMENTS

- Requires sustained collective action
- Directed against the state
- Aim of bringing about changes on a public issue
- Organisation
- Leadership
- Structure
- Shared objectives and ideologies
- Develop distinct modes of Protest
  The use of black cloth, street plays etc.

3. Counter Movements sometimes arise in defence of status quo. For eg; when Raja Rammohan Roy campaigned sati and formed the Brahma Samaj, defenders of sati formed Dharma Sabha and petitioned the British not to legislate against sati.
4. Difference Between Social change and Social Movements

- Social change is continuous and ongoing process for e.g. Sanskritisation, westernisation.
- Social movement are directed towards specific goals it involves long and continuous social effort and action by people.

5. Theories of Social Movements

- Theory of relative deprivation
  - Social conflict arises when a social group feels that it is worse off than another around it.
  - Role of psychological factors such as resentment and rage.
  - The Limitations of this theory are that while perceptions of deprivation may be a necessary condition for collective action, but not a sufficient reason in themselves.

- The Logic of Collective Action
  - Mancur Olson's book The Logic of Collective Action argues that a social movement is an aggregation of rational individual actors pursuing their self-interest.
  - A person will join a social movement only if she/he will gain something from it.
  - McCarthy and Zald rejected Olson's assumption that social movements are made up of individuals pursuing their self-interest.

- Resource Mobilization theory
  - It depends on the ability to mobilize resources or means of different sorts.
  - Critics argue that a social movement is not limited by existing resources. It can create resources such as new symbols and identities.
  - Scarcity of resources need not be a constraint.
6. Types of Social Movements

- Reformist
  - Reformist change the existing social and political arrangements through gradual, incremental steps.
  - eg: the Right to Information campaign.

- Redemptive or Transformatory
  - A redemptive social movement bring about a change in the personal consciousness and actions of its individual members
  - eg: people in the Ezhava community in Kerala were led by Narayana Guru to change their social practices.

- Revolutionary
  - Revolutionary social movements attempt to radically transform social relations, often by capturing state power.
  - eg: The Bolshevik Revolution in Russia

7. Social reform movements before Independence

- changes in social practices that discriminated against women and lower caste.

- issues taken up by the reformers were Sati, Child marriage, widow remarriage, caste discrimination etc.

- a creative combination of modern ideas and western liberalism and a new look on traditional literature.

- The varied reform movements did not have common themes. For some the concerns were confined to the problems of upper caste and middle class men and women. For others, the injustices suffered by the discriminated castes were the central issue.

8. Reasons for Social Reform movements in the 19th and 20th centuries.

- The concerns for injustices suffered by the discriminated castes.
• Problems faced by upper caste and middle class men and women
• gender oppression and social evils.

9. Differences between Old and New Movements

10. Ecological Movement
• The Chipko movement is an example of the ecological movement, started in Himalayan foothills; to stop exploitation/depletion of forests and consequent environmental degradation.
• When government forest contractors came to cut down the trees, villagers including large numbers of women, stepped forward to hug the trees to prevent their being felled.
• The economy of subsistence was pitted against the economy of profit.
• The movement focussed on economy, ecology and political representation.

11. Class Based Movement
A. Peasant Movement

- Have taken place from pre-colonial days.
- Eg—the Bengal revolt of 1859-62 against the indigo plantation system and the 'Deccan riots' of 1857 against moneylenders.
- The Bardoli Satyagraha (1928 Surat District). a 'non-tax' campaign was part of the nationwide struggle.
- Between 1920 and 1940 peasant organisations such as the Bihar Provincial Kisan Sabha (1929) and in 1936 the All India Kisan Sabha was founded. They demanded freedom from economic exploitation for peasants, workers and all other exploited classes.
- At the time of Independence peasant movements, namely the Tebhaga movement (1946-7) and the Telangana movement (1946-51) emerged.

B. New Farmer's Movement

- It began in the 1970s in Punjab and Tamil Nadu.
- regionally organised
- non-party organisation
- The basic ideology of the movement was strongly anti-state and anti-urban
- The focus of demand was 'price and related issues' (for example price procurement, remunerative prices, prices for agricultural inputs, taxation, non-repayment of loans).
- They use novel methods of agitation such as : blocking of roads and railways, refusing politicians and bureaucrats entry to villages, environment and women's issues, etc.

C. Worker's Movement

- During the colonial regime new materials were procured from India and goods manufactured in the United Kingdom were marketed in the colony.
- These factories were, established in the part towns of Calcutta (Kolkata) and Bombay (Mumbai), in madras (Chennai).
• Labour was very cheap as the colonial government did not regulate either wages or working conditions.
• Later, trade unions emerged as workers started to protest.
• There were waves of strikes in the textile mills in Bombay etc.
• In 1920 AITUC was formed in Bombay. The AITUC was broad based organisation involving diverse ideologies.
• The main ideological groups were the communists, moderates and nationalists.
• The formation of AITUC made the colonial government more cautious while dealing with labour.
• There were waves of strives in the textile mills in Bombay etc.

12. Caste Based Movement

A. The Dalit Movement

• A struggle against economic exploitation, political oppression, recognition as fellow human beings, for self-confidence, for self-determination, for abolishment of stigmatisation, a struggle to be touched.

• The word 'Dalit' is commonly used in Marathi, Hindi, Gujarati and many other Indian languages, meaning the poor and oppressed persons, broken ground down by those above them.

• For Eg: Satnami Movement of the Chamars in the Chattisgarh plains in eastern MP, Mahar Movement in Maharashtra.

• Adi Dharma Movement in Punjab.

B. Backward Class & Caste Movement

• emerged as political entities both in the colonial and post-colonial contexts. The colonial state often distributed patronage on the basis of caste.
• people stayed within their caste for social and political identity in institutional life.

The Upper Caste Response

• The rise in both Dalits and other backwards classes' movement has led to a feeling among sections of the upper caste that they are being given short shrift, the government, does not pay any heed to them because they are numerically not significant enough.

13. The Tribal Movements

• Largely located in the so called 'tribal belt' in middle India, such as the Santhals, Hos, Oraons, Mundas in Chota Nagpur and the Santhal Parganas.

A. Jharkhand

• Jharkhand is one of the newly-formed states of India, carved out of south Bihar in the year 2000.

• had a charismatic leader in Birsa Munda, an adivasi who led a major uprising against the British.

• Literate adivasis, helped to create a unified ethnic consciousness and a shared identity as Jharkhandis.

• It was the middle-class, adivasi, intellectual leadership that formulated the demand for a separate state and lobbied for it in India and abroad.

• Within south Bihar, adivasis shared a common hatred of dikus – migrant traders and money-lenders who had settled in the area and grabbed its wealth, impoverishing the original residents.

• Adivasi experiences of marginalisation and their sense of injustice were mobilized to create a shared Jharkhandi identity and inspire collective action.

B. The issues against which the leaders of the movement in Jharkhand agitated were :

• acquisition of land for large irrigation projects and firing ranges :

• Survey and settlement operations, which were held up, camps closed down, etc.
collection of loans, rent and cooperative dues, which were resisted; nationalisation of forest produce which they boycotted

C. The North East

The process of state formation initiated by the Indian government with the attainment of independence generated unrest even in all the major hills districts in the region.

This was so (unrest), since these hills districts, were also conscious of their distinct identity and traditional autonomy.

Alienation of tribal's from forest lands.

Hence, ecological issues are central to tribal movements, just as cultural issues of identity and economic issues such as inequality.

14. The Women’s Movement

The early 20th century saw the growth of women’s organisations at a national and local level.

The Women’s India Association (WIA) (1971)

All India Women’s Conference (AIWC) (1926).

National Council for Women in India (NCWI) (1925).

B. Post 1947

25. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow: 66% of India in 15-65 age group.

Not only the bulk of India’s population, nearly two-thirds, is in the working age group from 15-64 years, the median age of the country is still just 24 (even it’s up from 22 a decade ago) making it a rather young country with a large potentially productive workforce. On both counts, however, there are wide variations across states.

While India might have a whopping 767.5 million in the working age group, the proportion of working age population varies widely from a high of 74.3% in tiny Daman and Diu, to a low of 55% in Bihar where 40% of the population is in the 0–14 age group. It is the same in Uttar Pradesh, another high fertility state, where the working age population constitutes just 58.6% while children constitute 36% of the population.

For India, the proportion of children (0–14 years) is 31%. In low fertility states like Kerala and Tamil Nadu, children constitute just 23% and 24% of the population. Of the larger states, Tamil Nadu has the highest proportion of population in the working age, 69.8%.

In general, among the larger states, the list of states with a high proportion of the population in the working ages bracket overlaps quite a lot with the list of states generally considered among the more developed.

This is good news to the extent that they are better placed to make ‘demographic dividend’ pay than others.

(Times of India, 8 September 2013)

(a) What is demographic dividend?

(b) Name the states with highest and the lowest working age population. Also give the reasons of such variations found across states.

Ans. The term Adivasi connotes political awareness and the assertion of rights literally meaning 'original inhabitant' / primitive/tribal/ Jana etc.

7. Explain 'Status Symbol'

Ans. The goods that people buy and use are closely related to their status in society. The term status symbol is used to describe this relationship. Eg. Cell phone, model of car etc.

(Max. Weber may be mentioned by students).

8. What is colonialism? Give one example.

Ans. Establishment of rule by one country over another (by powerful over weaker country).

OR

The ideology by which a country seeks to conquer another.

Rule of British over India (any other example).

9. State some of the features of an authoritarian state.

Ans. It is a state in which the people have no voice.

Those in power are not accountable to anyone.

Authoritarian states often limits or atvish civil liberties like freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of political activity, right to protection from wrongful use of authority, right to the due to processes of the law etc.

Not a democratic or republican forum of Govt.

A system of Govt. that does not derive its legitimacy from the people.
Non-state actors & institutions become important as they keep a watch on the state.

Unwilling to respond to the needs of the people, because of corruption, inefficiency, or lack of resources.

10. What does the term 'Begar' mean?
Ans. Begar means free labour where working poor were tied to landowners in 'hereditary' labour relationships (bonded labour).

OR

Landless labour who were often bonded workers belonging to the lowest castes.

11. 'Urbanization and Industrialization is a linked process.' Justify.
Ans. They are linked process because:

- Majority of the employed population work in factories, offices or shops rather than agriculture.
- People start migrating to towns and cities for work.

12. What do you mean by Feminisation of agricultural labour?
Ans. Feminization of agricultural labour means in poor areas (where male family members spend much of the year working outside of their villages) cultivation has become primarily a female task.

Women are emerging as the main source of agricultural labour, leading to the feminization of agricultural labour forces.

13. Examine the emergence of nation-states during colonialism.
Ans. During colonial period nation-states become dominant political from:

- Nation - states are closely associated with rise of nationalism.
- Nationalism implied that the people of India or of any colonized society have an equal right to be sovereign.
- Practice of colonialism and principle of nationalism and democratic right are contradictory.
- It emerges as a community of communities sharing the desire to be a part of the same political collectively i.e., state.
14. Distinguish between organized and unorganized sector.
Ans. Organised Sector / Formal Sector

The organized sector consists of all units employing ten or more people throughout the year.

These have to be registered with the government to ensure that their employees get proper salaries or wages, pension and other benefits. Recruitment is transparent and there are mechanisms for complaints redressal. Presence of unions Unorganised Sector / Informal Sector.

The government has laws to monitor conditions in the unorganized sector, but in practice they are left to the whims and fancies of the employer or contractor. (One point for organized and one for unorganized).

15. Differentiate between subsidies and support prices.
Ans. Subsidies: Subsidies lower the cost of farming because the government pays part of the price charged for inputs. e.g. fertilizers or diesel oil.

Support Prices: support prices help to ensure a minimum income for farmers.

The prices at which the government agrees to buy agricultural commodities.

16. Write a short note on "New farmer’s movement".
Ans. These movements were regionally organized, were non party and involved farmers rather than peasants.

Began in Punjab & Tamil Nadu.

The basic ideology of the movement was strongly anti-state and anti urban.

The focus of demand were price and related issues.

Novel methods of agitation were used: blocking of roads and railways etc.

Broadened their agenda & ideology & include environment and women’s issues. (Any four).
17. What are the basic tasks of a manager? How can he make the worker produce more?

Ans. The basic tasks of a manager are:

To control workers

To get more work out of them. There are two main ways of making workers produce more.

To extend the working hours.

To increase the amount that is produced within a given time period.

(Any other relevant point).

18. How do caste and kin networks contribute to the success of a business?

Ans. The Nattukottai Chettiar (or Nakarattars) of Tamil Nadu provide an interesting illustration of how these indigenous trading networks were organized and worked.

The structures of caste, kinship and family were oriented towards commercial activity, business activity was carried out within these social structures.

Nakarattar banks were basically joint family firms, so that the structure of the business firm was the same as that of the family.

Their extensive caste-based social networks allowed Chettiar merchants to expand their activities into South West Asia and Ceylon.

The working in any of the following communities has to be considered - Marwaris, Jain, Baniya, Vaishya, Sindhi, Parsis, Bohras etc.

OR

Discuss the role of social reformers in dealing with the women's issue during the colonial period.

Raja Rammohan Roy's attempts to reform society, religion and the status of women can be taken as the starting point of nineteenth century social reform in Bengal.
Roy undertook the campaign against "sati" which was the first women's issue to receive public attention.

M.G. Ranade's Shastric sanction for remarriage of widows.

Jyotibha Phule came from a socially excluded caste and his attack was directed against both caste and gender discrimination.

He founded the Satyashodak Samaj with its primary emphasis on "truth seeking".

Sir Syed Ahmed Khan wanted girls to be educated but within the premises of their homes.

(Any other male or female social reformer may be mentioned).

19. Mention the contentious issues found in the federal system which led to inter-regional disparities.

Ans. Increasing inter-regional economic and infrastructural inequalities.

Private investors generally want to invest in already developed states where the infrastructure and other facilities are better.

The government can give some consideration to regional equity and other social goals rather than just seek to maximize profits.

The market economy tends to increase the gap between developed and backwards regions.

OR

What are the features of civil society organizations?

Ans. The features of civil society organizations are:

Civil Society is the non-state and non-market part of the public domain in which individuals get together voluntarily.

Here individuals take up social issue, try to influence the state or make demands on it.

It should not be a purely commercial profit – making entity.

It includes media institutions, trade unions, non-governmental organizations (NGOs), religious organisations, political parties and other kinds of collective entities.
20. Process of Sanskritisation encourages inequalities and discrimination. Explain

Ans. It has been criticized for exaggerating social mobility or the scope of lower castes to move up social ladder.

It has been pointed out that the ideology of Sanskritisation accepts the ways of the 'upper caste' as superior and that of the 'lower caste' as inferior.

Sanskritisation seems to justify a model that rests on inequality and exclusivity. It appears to suggest that to believe in pollution and purity of groups of people is justifiable.

It leads to practices of secluding girls and women, adopting dowry practices instead of bride-price and practicing caste discrimination / against other groups.

The effect of such a trend is that the key characteristics of dalit culture and society are corroded. (Any four)

21. Examine the arguments given by Dr. Ambedkar and Mahatma Gandhi for the inclusion of Panchayati Raj in the Constitution.

Ans. Dr. Ambedkar argued that local elites and upper castes were so well entrenched in society that local self government only meant a continuous exploitation of the downtrodden masses of Indian society. The upper castes would no doubt silence this segment of the populations further.

Gandhiji envisaged each village as a self-sufficient unit conducting its own affairs and saw gram-swarajya to be an ideal model to be continued after independence.

22. Explain the economic policy of Liberalisation.

Ans. The term liberalisations refers to a range of policy decisions that the Indian state took since 1991 to open up the Indian economy to the world market.

Liberalisation of the economy meant the steady removal of the rules that regulated Indian trade and finance regulations – economic reforms.
The basic assumption was that greater integration into the global market would be beneficial to Indian economy.

The process of liberalization also involved the taking of loans from international institutions such as the International Monetary Fund (IMF).

The government makes commitments to pursue certain kinds of economic measures that involve a policy of structural adjustments. There is also a greater say by international institutions such as the World Trade Organisation (WTO).

23. Discuss the ways that strengthened the institution of caste in India under colonial rule

Ans. The British administrations began by trying to understand the complexities of caste to govern the country efficiently.

Some of these efforts took the shape of very methodical and intensive surveys and reports.

The most important official effort to collect information on caste was through the census.

Before this kind of intervention, caste identities had been much more fluid and less rigid; once they began to be counted and recorded in became rigid.

The land revenue settlements and related arrangements and law served to give legal recognition to the customary (caste-based) right of the upper cases.

The Government of India Act was passed which gave legal recognition to the lists of 'scheduled' of castes and tribes.

OR

Write a note on tribal identities in India today with special reference to Jharkhand.

Ans. Achievement of statehood for Jharkhand and Chhattisgarh after a long struggle is moderated by continuing problems.

Many of the states of the North-East have been living for decades under special laws that limit the civil liberties of citizens.

Jharkhand and Chhattisgarh are yet to make full use of their new found statehood.

Political system there is still not autonomous of larger structures in which tribals are powerless.

Gradual emergence of an educated middle class among tribal communities.

Policies of reservation is creating an urbanized professional class and creating divisions within themselves.

24. Trace the changes that have been occurring in the Newspaper Industry.

Ans. New technologies have helped boost the production and circulation of newspaper.

A large number of glossy magazines have also made their entry into the market.

There is a rise in the number of literate people who are migrating to cities.

The needs of the readers in the small towns and villages are different from that of the cities and the Indian languages newspapers cater to those needs.

Marketing strategies have also marked the growth as they carry out consumer contact programmes, door-to-door surveys and research e.g., Dainik Bhaskar, Dainik Jagran etc.

English language newspapers have on the one hand reduced prices and on the other hand brought out editions from multiple centres.

Pullouts, supplements, booklets etc are there.

Vernacular newspapers have vastly increased their circulation.

Increased dependence on sponsors of advertisement have led to cuts in prices. (Any other relevant point).

25. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow:
66% of India in 15-65 age group.

Not only the bulk of India's population, nearly two-thirds, is in the working age group from 15-64 years, the median age of the country is still just 24 (even it's up from 22 a decade ago) making it a rather young country with a large potentially productive workforce. On both counts, however, there are wide variations across states.

While India might have a whopping 767.5 million in the working age group, the proportion of working age population varies widely from a high of 74.3% in tiny Daman and Diu, to a low of 55% in Bihar where 40% of the population is in the 0–14 age group. It is the same in Uttar Pradesh, another high fertility state, here the working age population constitutes just 58.6% while children constitute 36% of the population.

For India, the proportion of children (0–14 years) is 31%. In low fertility states like Kerala and Tamilnadu, children constitute just 23% and 24% of the population. Of the larger states, Tamilnadu has the highest proportion of population in the working age, 69.8%.

In general, among the larger states, the list of states with a high proportion of the population in the working ages bracket overlaps a lot with the list of states generally considered among the more developed.

This is good news to the extent that they are better placed to make 'demographic dividend' pay than others.

(Times of India, 8 September 2013)

(a) What is demographic dividend?

Ans. When the generation of working age group (15-64 years) is relatively larger than dependents.

(b) Name the states with highest and the lowest working age population. Also give the reasons of such variations found across states.

Ans. Highest : Daman & Diu (U.T.) or Tamil Nadu (State)

Lowest : Bihar

Reasons : Illiteracy
Ignorance
Development
Lack of technological advancements.

The India Languages Newspaper Revolution

The most significant happening in the few decades has been the India language newspaper revolution. The beginnings of this growth predated liberalization. The tap two dealies in India are Danik Jagaran and Danik Bhaskar with a readership of 21 million and 17 million, respective. Thge fastest growtin gdialies are the Assamese dailyies in urban areas (51.8 per cent increase) and the Bengali dailyies in rural areas (129 per cent).

Source: National Readership Survey 2002

The Eenadu story also exemplifies the success of the Indian language press. Ramoji Rao the founder of Eenadu had successfully organized a chit-fund, before launching the paper in 1974. By associating with appropriate causes in the rural areas like the Anti-attack movement in the mid-1980s, the Telugu newspaper was able to reach into the countryside. This prompted it to launch 'district dailyies' in 1989. These were tabloid inserts of sensational features carrying news from particular districts as well as classified advertisements from villages and small towns of the same. By 1998 Eenadu was being published from ten towns in Andhra Pradesh and its circulation accounted for 70 per cent of the audited Telugu daily circulation.

(a) What are the different forms of Print media?

(b) What reasons can be attributed to the emerging growth of Indian language newspapers?

Read the given passage and answer the following questions:

The India Languages Newspaper Revolution

The most significant happening in the few decades has been the India language newspaper revolution. The beginnings of this growth predated liberalization. The top two dailies in India are Danik Jagaran and Danik Bhaskar with a readership of 21 million and 17 million, respective. The fastest growing dailies are the Assamese dailies in urban areas (51.8 per cent increase) and the Bengali dailies in rural areas (129 per cent).

Source: National Readership Survey 2002

The Eenadu story also exemplifies the success of the Indian language press. Ramoji Rao the founder of Eenadu had successfully organized a child-fund, before launching the paper in 1974. By associating with appropriate causes in the rural areas like the Anti-attack movement in the mid-1980s, the Telugu newspaper was able to reach into the countryside. This prompted it to launch 'district dailies' in 1989. These were tabloid inserts of sensational features carrying news from particular districts as well as classified advertisements from villages and small towns of the same. By 1998 Eenadu was being published from ten towns in Andhra Pradesh and its circulation accounted for 70 per cent of the audited Telugu daily circulation.

(Q 25. Read the following passage and answer the given questions.
It is interesting to note that the greatest grammarian in Sanskrit namely Panini, who systematised and transformed Sanskrit grammar and phonetics around the fourth century BCE, was of Afghan origin. ...The seventh-century Chinese scholar Yi Jing learned his Sanskrit in Java (in the city of Shri Vijaya) on his way from China to India. The influence of interactions is well reflected in languages and vocabularies throughout Asia from Thailand to Malaya to Indo-China, Indonesia, the Philippines, Korea and Japan. ...We can find a warning against isolationism in a parable about a well-frog-the 'Kupamanduka' - that persistently recurs in several old Sanskrit texts... The kupamanduka is a frog that lives its whole life within a well, knows nothign else, and is suspicious of everything outside it. It talks to no one, and argues with no one on anything. It merely harbours the deepest suspicion on the outside world. The scientific, cultural and economic history of the world would have been very limited indeed had we lived like well-frogs.

Q. 2. State the various ways in which globalization has affected modern life.

Q. 25. Read the following passage and answer the given questions.

Dr. Ambedkar on protection of minorities 'To diehards who have developed a kind of fanaticism against minority protection I would like to say two things. One is that minorities are an explosive force which, if it erupts, can blow up the whole fabric of the state'. The history of Europe bears ample and appalling testimony to this fact. The other is that the minorities in India have agreed to place their existence in the hands of the majority. In the history of negotiations for preventing the partition of Ireland, Redmond said to Carson "Ask for any safeguard you like for the Protestant minority but let us have a United Ireland." Carson's reply was "Damn your safeguards, we don't want to be ruled by you." No minority in India has taken his stand. - Non State actors and Institutions protest against injustices.
- They bring into public and Government view many issues that were sidelined
- They help people unfairly dealt with to get justice
- It gives shape and direction to social issues
- They carry out candle light meetings, protest marches etc
- As they are non-state, non-market- where individuals get together voluntarily to take up social issues become a part of public domain
- It is purely non-commercial it makes no profit. Eg; NGOs, trade groups, RTI, media, etc (Any four points)

Encouraging cultural diversity is a good policy from both the practical and the principled point of view. Justify the statement using India’s case as a Nation-State.

Encouraging cultural diversity - (using case of India as a Nation-state) The Indian Nation-state is socially and culturally one of the most diverse countries of the world.

It has one of the largest populations speaking multiple languages (dialects).

It consists of multiple religions, plural in-beliefs and practices.

In terms of Nation-state’s relationship with community identities, the Indian case fits neither the "assimilationist" nor the "integrationist" model.

The Constitution declares the State to be a secular state, but religion, language and other such factors are not banished from the public sphere.

By international standards, very strong constitutional protection is offered to minority religions. India’s problems have been more in the sphere of implementation and practice rather than Laws or principles.

Q.24. Explain the structural tensions faced by men and women in matriarchal societies.

Ans. 24 Structural tensions faced by men and women in matriarchal societies - 1 each Matriarchal form of family refers to the "authority and dominance "lying with the woman. However, in reality it is Matritiny which is seen to exist among the Khasis of Meghalaya. The woman inherits the property from her mother but does not exercise control over it; nor are they the decision makers in public affairs.

The authority and control goes from maternal uncle to nephew and the inheritance from mother to daughter.

It creates a role conflict for the male members as they are torn between the responsibilities of their natal household and that of his wife and children.

There is an apprehension in the minds of the wife and sister of the man; with regard to his commitment to their welfare. (Any other relevant point)

Q.25. Read the passage given below and answer following question:

Ans.25 Data from the National Sample Survey studies of 1999-2000 and from the 2001 Census of India reveal a sharp fall in the rate of employment generation (creation of new jobs) across both rural and urban areas. This is true for the young as well. The rate of growth of employment in the 15-30 age group, which stood at around 2.4 percent a year between 1987 and 1994 for both rural and urban men, fell to 0.7 for rural men and 0.3 percent for urban men during 1994 to 2004. This suggest that the advantage offered by a young labour force is not being exploited. Strategies exist to exploit the demographic window of opportunity that India has today.
But India's recent experience suggests that market forces by themselves do not ensure that such strategies would be implemented. Unless a way forward is found, we may miss out on the potential benefits that the country's changing age structure temporarily offers.

(a) What is demographic dividend?
(b) Do you think that India is indeed facing a window of opportunity created by demographic dividend?

PASSAGE
(a) Demographic dividend: It is a benefit flowing from the changing age structure - caused by a larger proportion of "workers" relative to "non-workers (dependants)" (15 yrs to 64 yrs).
(b) Providing employment - effective utilization of this working-group.
One of the youngest countries of the world - young labour force.

Temporary phase - young population of today will become old and non-working (dependant) therefore needs effective planning. Growth in 1 working.

Q. 25 Read the passage given below and answer the following questions:

Ans. 25 Kumar embodies the spirit of the dalits of Gohana. In his early 30s, he is not the scavenger the caste society ordered him to be, but a senior assistant in an insurance company. Most dalits have embraced education and stepped across the line of control of the caste system. "There are many of us who have a Masters Degree and work in private and government jobs. Most of our boys go to school and so do the girls," he said. [...] The young men of the Valmiki Colony are not the stereotyped, submissive, suffering dalits that one would traditionally expect to encounter. Dressed in imitation Nike shoes and Wrangler jeans, their body language is defiant. However, the journey of upward social mobility remains tough for the vast majority of landless dalits in Haryana. "Most boys drop out after high school because of acute poverty," said Sudesh Kataria, an assistant engineer working for a multinational company. He has a diploma in electrical engineering from the Industrial Training Institute, Gurgaon. Kataria's best friend at ITI, a Jat, once invited him to a family wedding but insisted that he shouldn't reveal his identity. "At the wedding a guest asked me about my caste and I lied. Then he asked me about my village and I told him the truth. He knew my village was a dalit village." A fight broke out between the hosts and the guests - how can they let a dalit in? They washed the chair I sat on and threw me out," Kataria recalls.

Kataria wants a new life for the dalits - he campaigns throughout the villages of Gurgaon with other educated dalits. "Our people will rise, stronger and powerful. We need to unite. And once we unite and fight back, there will be no Gohanas or Jhajjars. Not any more."

(a) What is the meaning of Dalits?

(b) Highlight the initiatives taken by the State to abolish caste discrimination.

Q. 15 Identify the reasons for regional variations of displacement levels in India.

• There are very wide variations in the fertility rates across the states of India.
• Some states like Korala and Tamil Nadu have managed to bring down their total fertility rates (TFR) to 2.1 and 1.8 respectively.
• This means that the average woman in Tamil Nadu produces only 2.1 children, which is the 'replacement level' (required to replace herself and her spouse).
• Kerala’s TFR is actually below the replacement level, which means that the population is going to decline in the future.
• Many other states (like Himachal Pradesh, West Bengal, Karnataka, Maharashtra) have fairly low TFRs.
• But there are some states like Biher, Mdhya Pradesh, Rajasthan and Uttar Pradesh, which still have very high TFRs of 4 or more.
• The reason for the variation can be attributed to the level of education and awareness
• Acceptance of small family norm

(any four)

(Note: The child will be confused between the terms 'replacement level' and 'displacement level' (which is nowhere mentioned in the book). So marks should be awarded accordingly, to benefit the student)

Q. 16 'Tribals have paid a disproportionate price for the development for the rest of the Indian society.' Highlight the sources of conflict between National development and Tribal development.

• National development, particularly in the Nehruvian era, involved the building of large dams, factories and mines.
• The tribal areas were located in mineral rich and forest covered parts of the country.
• This kind of development has benefited the mainstream at the expense of the tribes.
• The process of dispossessing tribal's of their land has occurred as a necessary byproduct of the exploitation of minerals and the utilization of favorable sites for setting up hydroelectric power plants, many of which were in tribal areas.
• The loss of the forests on which most tribal communities depended has been a major blow.
• The coming of private property in land has also adversely affected the tribals.
• The most recent example is the series of dams being built on the narmada, where most of the costs and benefits seems to flow disproportionately to different communities and cultures.
• The pressures of development accelerate the process of exploitation of Tribals.
• Examples: In the North-East and The industrial areas of Jharkhand have suffered a dilution of the tribal share of population, reducing them to a minority.

Q. 17 Do you agree that all sections of people have benefited from the Liberalisation policies in India? Justify your answer with examples

- Liberalization includes a range of policies such as the privatisation of public sector enterprises (selling government owned companies to private companies); loosening of government regulations on capital, labour, and trade; a reduction in tariffs and import duties so that foreign goods can be imported more easily, and allowing easier access for foreign companies to set up industries in India.

FOR .........

- The changes that have been made under the liberalisation programme have stimulated economic growth.

- It has opened up Indian markets to foreign companies. For example, many foreign branded goods are now sold, which were not previously available.

- Increasing foreign investment is supposed to help economic growth and employment.

- The privatisation of public companies is supposed to increase their efficiency and reduce the government's burden of running these companies.

Against ........

- Liberalisation may have, a negative impact on India — that is, the costs and disadvantages will be more than the advantages will be more than the advantage and benefits.

- Some sectors of Indian industry (like software and information technology) or agriculture (like fish or fruit) may benefit from access to a global market, but other sectors (like automobiles, electronics or oilseeds) will lose because they cannot compete with foreign producers.

- Indian farmers are now exposed to competition from farmers in other countries because import of agricultural products is allowed.

- Earlier Indian agriculture was protected from the world market by support prices and subsidies. But, now they are reduced or withdrawn.
• Small manufactures have been exposed to global competition as foreign goods and brands have entered the market, and some have not been able to compete.

• The privatisation or closing of public sector industries has led to loss of employment in some sectors, and to growth of unorganized sector employment at the expense of the organized sector.

(Any four)

(Note: Irrespective of whether the child agrees or disagrees or compares the two aspects or gives two reasons OR examples, of liberalisation with justification, marks must be allotted accordingly)

Q. 18 Differentiate between a democratic and authoritarian state. 2

• A Democratic state is a form of government that derives its legitimacy from the people and realize on explicit popular endorsements through election or other methods of ascertaining the people’s opinions.

• An authoritarian state is a system of government that does not derive its legitimacy from the people. It is not a democratic or republican form of government.

• In authoritarian state people have no voice whereas in democratic people have a voice.

• Authoritarian states often limit of abolish civil liberties like freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of political activity, right to protection from wrongful use of authority, right to the due processes of the law, and so on. Democratic it is not so.

What is community identity? How have Indian policies promoted National identity? 2
• Community identity is based on birth and belonging rather than on some form of acquired qualifications or 'accomplishment'.

• It is what we 'are' rather than what we have 'become'.

• No one has any choice about which family or community or country they are born into.

• These kinds of identities are called 'ascriptive' — that is, they are determined by the accidents of birth, which are very hard to shake off and thus they are universal.

(Any One)

Assimilationist and integrationist strategies try to establish singular national identities through various interventions, such as:

• Centralizing all power to forums where the dominant group constitutes a majority, and eliminating the autonomy of local or minority groups.

• Imposing a unified legal and judicial system based on the dominant group's traditions and abolishing alternative system used by other groups;

• Adopting the dominant group's language as the only official 'national' language and making its use mandatory in all public institutions;

• Promotion of the dominant group's language and culture through national institutions including state-controlled media and educational institutions;

• Adoption of state symbols

• Seizure of Lands, forests and fisheries from minority groups and indigenous people and declaring them 'national resources'.

Q.16 What is cultural diversity? Why are states often suspicious of cultural diversity?

By cultural diversity we mean that:

• The presence within the larger, regional or other context of many different kinds of cultural communities such as those defined by language, religion, region, ethnicity and so on. A multiplicity of plurality of identities.

• There are many types of social groups and communities living in India.

• These are communities defined by cultural identity markers such as language, religion, race, sect, or caste

(Any one)

States are often suspicious of cultural diversity because:

• Sometimes cultural diversities are accompanied by economic and social inequalities which lead to rivalries.

• Divisive forces like communal riots, demands for regional autonomy or caste wars are hard at work, tearing the country part.

• Leads to social fragmentation and prevents the creation of a harmonious society.

• Such 'identity politics' was considered a threat to state unity.

• Accommodating the differences is politically challenging.

• many states have resorted to either suppressing these diverse identities or ignoring them on the political domain

• States generally tend to favour a single, homogenous national identity, in the hope of being able to control and manage it.

SAMPLE RESEARCH DESIGN

RESEARCH DESIGN-1

TOPIC : YOUTH AND TECHNOLOGY

Research Question : Are the teenagers today addicted to their mobile phones?

OR

Hypothesis : There is a growing addiction to mobile phones among teenagers today.

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

Rationalize the reasons for choosing the above research question.

It has been frequently observed that excessive use of mobile phones by the young students have impacted greatly their academic performance, face-to-face interactions have reduced, lot of time has been devoted to it, cameras in the phones have often impinged upon privacy, the model/brand/special features/peer pressure have led to demand for frequent change of phones according to the latest trends.

RESEARCH TECHNIQUE

To know about the above issue, research technique of survey using questionnaire would be the most suitable. I would like to conduct this survey among at least 50 to 60 teenagers of both the genders. A survey across a cross-section of known-unknown respondents would help me generalize and ultimately get an answer to my research question.

The questionnaire would comprise of intelligently framed questions that would aim at finding out how much are the youth obsessed and addicted to this gadget. The questions would be framed in simple language and mainly multiple choice ones so that the respondents find it easy and willing to fill.
Some the questions would be:

1. When did you first get a mobile phone of your own?
2. How much time do you spend on mobile phone?
3. Which features of the phone, apart from making and receiving calls, do you use the most?
4. How many phones have you changed so far?
5. How frequently do you change your phone?
6. What does you choice of mobile phone depend on? trend/brand/cost/features.

Conclusion: After conducting the survey, the responses of the respondents would be converted into quantitative data and represented in the form of bar-graph or pie chart. Based on the detailed analysis, an answer to the research question would be arrived at.

RESEARCH DESIGN—2

TOPIC: ENVIRONMENT AND SOCIETY

Research Question: Are most people of urban areas apathetic towards environmental issues?

OR

Hypothesis: Most people of urban areas are unconcerned and apathetic towards environmental issues.

Statement of Purpose: The above question has been chosen with the aim of finding out to what extent the educated urbanites are unconcerned about environmental hazards and non-participative at individual levels. Certain environmental issues like air pollution, littering, use of plastic bags, spitting and urinating in public, smoking, wasting water etc. have been commonly experienced by most of us. However most of us are passive contributors too. The intention of this research would be to bring about the areas where even the literate and aware population lack in their involvement and contribution of try to improve the situation.
RESEARCH TECHNIQUE

For the above research I would choose to conduct a survey among a random group of about 50 to 60 adults living in different parts of Delhi to find why and to what extent is public responsible for the environmental issues that plague our city. A questionnaire would be prepared comprising of 15 to 20 questions, which would be mainly multiple choice type.

Some of the questions that I would want to include in the questionnaire :

1. What type of transport do you use while commuting daily?
2. Have you ever been a part of car-pool for commuting to your place of work?
3. Do you segregate the garbage of your home into bio-degradable and non-bio-degradable wastes?
4. Do you carry any jute or cloth bag every time you go to buy provisions?
5. Have you ever tried to point out or stop someone from spitting on the roads?

CONCLUSION

After conducting the survey, the responses of the respondents would be converted into quantitative data and represented in the form of bar-graph or pie chart. Based on the detailed analysis, an answer to the research question would be arrived at.
PASSAGE-1

CHALLENGES TO CULTURAL DIVERSITY

Obama spoke at a White House dinner he hosted to celebrate the holy month of Ramzan. The meal, or iftar, breaks the day of fasting when Muslim families and communities eat together after sunset.

Obama said Ramadan is "a time of reflection, a chance to demonstrate ones devotion to God through fasting, but it's also a time for family and friends to come together".

He said it is a White House tradition to celebrate sacred days various faiths, adding that these occasions celebrate diversity that defines the country and reaffirms the freedom to worship.

Obama said Americans and people in the Middle East also have a common goal for economic oportunity and enterpreneurship.

"We work a little harder, we aim a little higher and we keep striving to create more opportunity for our children and future generations, "Obama said, "Of course this isn't just the Americal dream, it's the aspiration of people around the world, it's the basic, human desire for progress, to find dignity that comes from, work to give our children something better."

He said these yearnings for economic freedom and opportunity, just as much as political freedom, "are at the roof of so much of the change we've around the world in the past few years, including in North Africa and in the Middle East."

1. State the lines in the above passage that are indicator of secularism.  2

2. Differentiate between the Western and Indian concept of secularism.  4
"Missing labour in India" - the recent fluctuations in the labour participation of women - is probably due to short-term shifts in activities responding to favourable economic conditions, such fluctuation need to be placed in the context of a structural change in labour participation wherein the share of women in the labour force as well as labour participation rate of women has been declining for the last quarter of a century. Upward social mobility in India patriarchal society in the work of growing incomes is probably symbolised by women's withdrawal from paid labour and their confinement to unpaid domestic activities. Even-under such adverse condition employment growth of women is not stagnant. Those who do enter and remain in the labour market are women from the most vulnerable households, as marginalised informal paid labour, thus feminising the precarious forms of labour in the country.

EPW - Vol - XLVIII No. 31, August 03, 2013 Vinoj Abraham

1. Why are women withdrawing from "paid labour"?
2. Compare the feminization of labour in the urban society with that of "feminization of agricultural labour."
PATTERNS OF SOCIAL INEQUALITY AND EXCLUSION

The caste-based antagonism between the dalit and Vanniyar communities has been present in Tamil Nadu for time. The Vanniyar agitations in the late 1980s were directed not only at obtaining action; but also against the fact dalits were "beneficiaries" of the reservation policy.

The Vanniyar have traditionally been poor, caste community. The socioeconomic state of the dalits in northern Tamil Nadu has been worse. Yet following migrations of upper and middle caste communities to urban areas, many among the Vanniyar become labdowners, and dalits farm labourers on 'these lands.'

As a result of reservation, the Vanniyar have improved their socioeconomic status and have done well for themselves among the most backward classes. The recent rise soci-economic condition of dalits, sections of whom are moving for mlabour into various form of urban or migrant work, has created a situation of conflict with the landowning backward classes. This has occasionally resulted in aggressive violence against dalits in several parts of Tamil Nadu in the past decade with the dalits facing attacks largely from the landed backwards classes - Vanniyars in the north, Kallars in the south. The ruling Dravidian parties have been unable (or perhaps unwilling) to do much about this issue, for they too derive a fair amount of support from these landed backward communities. These pages had commented ("dalits in Tamil Nadu", 21 July 2012) on the need for a stronger political mobilisation of the dalits in the state.
ORGAN TRANSPLANTATION RULES NEED TO BE SIMPLE AND NOT SUSCEPTIBLE TO CONFUSING INTERPRETATIONS

India needs nearly 2,00,000 kidney transplants and 1,00,000 liver transplant every year but only about 3% of these numbers are available.

Inevitably, the organ sale or trade rackets thrive in India as is evident from relative’s the regular exposes in the media. The illegal trade can be habited it organ donations were encouraged and facilitated. Yet the recently posted transplantation of Human Organs and Tissues Rules, 2013 on the Union Ministry of Health website to elicit suggestions might fall short of doing this.

Reducing Bureaucracy, Saving Lives.

Vol - XLVIII No. 20-27, June 29, 2013

1. What steps have been mentioned in the above passage to control the illegal trade of organs? 2

2. What is commodification? Explain with help of an example other than that mentioned in the passage. 4
As a modern republic, India felt duty-bound to "abolish" caste, and this led the State to pursue the conflicting policies social justices and caste-blindness. As a consequence, the priviledge upper castes are enabled to think of themselves as "casteless", while the disprivileged lower castes are forced to intensify their caste identities. This assymmetrical division has truncted the effective meaning of caste to lower caste, ths leaving the upper castes free to monopolize the "general category" by posing as casteless citizens.

EPW Vol - XLVIII No. 15, April 13, 2013 Satish Deshpande

1. Which group constitutes the "general category" 2
2. How has caste' become 'invisible' for the upper caste group? 4
1. The bias towards younger age groups in the age structure is believed to be an advantage for India. Like the East Asian economies in the past decade and like Ireland today, India is supposed to be benefiting from a ‘demographic dividend.’ This dividend arises from the fact that the current generation of working-age people is a relatively large one, and it has only a relatively small preceding generation and old people of support. But there is nothing automatic about this advantage.

   (1) What is age structure?

   (2) Explain Demographic Dividend?
2. Many tribal areas have had a rich tradition of grassroot democratic functioning. We have an illustrative example from Meghalaya. All the three major ethnic tribal groups, namely, the Khasis, Jaintias and the Garos have their own traditional political institution that have existed from hundreds of years. There political institutions were fairly well-developed and functioned at various tiers, such as the village level, clan level and state level. For instance in the traditional political system of the Khasis each clan had it own council known as the ‘Durbar Kur’ which was president over by the clan headman. Though there is a long traditional of grassroot political institutions in Meghalaya, a large chunk of tribal areas lie outside the provision of the 73rd Amendment. This may be because the concerned policy makers did not wish to interfere with the traditional trial institutions.

(1) Name the Khasi political council?

(2) Explain the traditional tribal political institutions?
