Sub: Invitation to participate in Historic Event to preserve our Heritage & Culture – launch of the Note Book “ANUGUNJAN”

Sir / Madam

I have the privilege in bringing to your kind notice that Padmashree Ms. Santosh Yadav has launched her note book / Register “ANUGUNJAN”.

Ms. Santosh Yadav has the unique distinction of being “the first & only woman in the world to scale Mt. Everest, the highest peak in the world, twice”. She successfully led the mountain expedition via Kangshung Face in 1999 and East Ridge of Mt. Everest in 2001. Besides scaling the Mt. Everest, she has led and scaled lots of different mountains in different continents of the world. By virtue of being twice Everest Summitter, she has been awarded with ‘Padmashree’ in 2000; National Adventure Award / Arjuna Award in 1994; Rajiv Gandhi State Sports Award in 2004 and many other national & international awards and recognitions.

She, in the quest to sensitize the children on fragility of environment of our universe, spearheaded a movement to fulfill the dreams and launched a note book / register “ANUGUNJAN”, with the support of Everest Foundation.

“ANUGUNJAN” is a combination of two words, Anu stands for echo and Gunjan for sound or vibes emitted by entire universe. Anugunjan is a well-thought action plan, a strong appeal to all humans throughout the world to listen to the vibrations emitting from the core of this planet. Anugunjan will encourage people, especially children and youth to listen to the echo of the sound of the Universe, which clearly seeks to protect, care and preserve everything that we get from Mother Earth as well as a mother. The first two pages will also emphasize on teaching them to differentiate between good and bad sound and vibes. This also covers her experience and efforts in Himalaya to safeguard the heritage / culture & environment of our planet.

These note books are available in the market easily. Simultaneously, these note books are also available with Ms. Santosh Yadav. Her contact details are as under:
