Dear students,

Every child has the right to achieve basic foundational skill to be able to write, solve basic mathematical operations, and read with comprehension. Achieving these skills is crucial for a child's academic success and personal growth.

With this vision, Mission Buniyaad aims to aid the learning requirements of learners from class III to VIII. The Mission targets the learning gaps and conducts classes to eliminate these gaps amongst our students. Our aim is to ensure that each and every child sitting in our classroom is enabled and uplifted to be at the appropriate level of academic ability.

The previous session of Mission Buniyaad has shown phenomenal results, which is encouraging for us to take on more endeavours to improve the quality of education in our schools. In the academic year 2023 - 2024, Mission Buniyaad is continuing its efforts to provide better opportunities to promote skills and higher order thinking amongst students across all levels. This new academic year comes with new stories and flavours to make learning more fun for students. Making education more engaging and enjoyable to help students stay motivated, will surely pave the way for better academic outcomes.

The objective of Mission Buniyaad is to develop Foundational Literacy and Numeracy skills in Hindi, Maths and English in a friendly environment where the learners are encouraged to think and reason critically, and express themselves creatively.

I hope that everyone benefits immensely from Mission Buniyaad, boldly climbing the steps of their ongoing academic journey to become independent thinkers and learners of India.

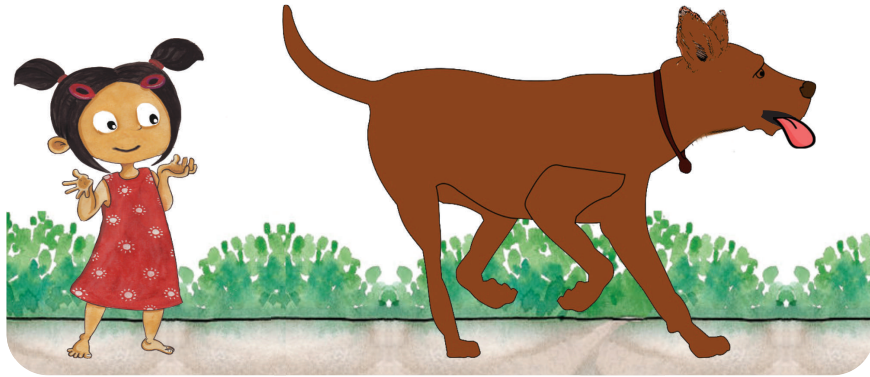

Best wishes,

Atishi
Education Minister, Delhi Government

One day the circus had come to our town. It was so colourful and there were many different sounds. I went with my elder brother and we saw clowns all around. They had big red noses and bright curly hair. One of them even made me a dog from a balloon.

There were lots of rides at the circus. There was a merry-go-round with lights all over. There was even a huge Ferris wheel that went way up high. It looked like the top could touch the sky. After a while, we had to go back home.

But I told the clowns I hope I see them again soon.

- Which problem do these pictures show?

- How do you think this happened?

Water is essential for our survival. In fact, a person can survive for 8 weeks without food but without water, he or she will not be able to survive for more than 5 days. Water is not only important for the human body, it also plays a huge role in our daily lives. We use water for drinking, cleaning our homes, growing plants, etc. Let us read the inspiring story of Dr. Rajendra Singh who is known for his efforts to conserve water.

In the 1980s in Rajasthan, Rajendra Singh watched as people left his district to go live in other areas. The villagers had to leave their homes because the Arvari River was drying up.

Rajendra Singh decided to help the villagers by bringing the water back to their villages. He built rainwater storage tanks, called johads. He built johads on the streams that flowed into the river. The johads increased the water in the river by collecting rainwater. He also built 'check dams' on the downward flowing streams.

At first, Rajendra's plans did not work. But he kept trying, and eventually he succeeded in bringing the Arvari River back to life.

In 1975, he founded an NGO called 'Tarun Bharat Sangh' for water management. He is known as the 'Waterman of India' today.

Bullocks

What is this?

This is a picture of a bullock cart.

What is a bullock cart? I have never seen it anywhere!

A bullock cart is a type of small, open vehicle. It has four or two wheels.

How is a bullock cart different from a car?

A bullock cart is mostly made of wood. A car has a steering wheel, an accelerator, brakes and an engine. These are made of metal.

Can a bullock cart run as fast as a car?

A car has an engine so it can move very fast. The engine needs petrol or diesel to work. A bullock cart is pulled by one or more bullocks so it can only go as fast as the bullocks can walk.

Do people still use bullock carts today?

Yes, bullock carts are still used in many parts of the world. Bullock carts are mostly used in villages and small towns to carry things or people from one place to another.

COMMUNICATION: THEN AND NOW

How did people send messages to each other hundred year ago? How do people send messages to each other now?

Listen

Reply

Click

Postcards

Telephone

Photographs

In the early days, pigeons were often used to send messages from one person to another. Messages were written on a piece of paper and the paper would be tied to the pigeon's leg. The pigeon would then fly to receiver of the message.

Due to the long distances that pigeons would travel, this method took a lot of time to send and receive messages. With the arrival of postal services, communication became a lot easier and faster than before. People started using postcards and letters to send messages to each other. A postman delivered postcards and letters to people.

Now most people use a phone when they have to send a message or talk to someone. A telephone can be used to only talk to someone but a mobile phone can do other things too. It can be used to send messages to other people. Not only are these messages sent very quickly, the other person can reply very fast too.

Mobile phones are also used to take photographs, play games and listen to music. Mobile phones can also be used to make video calls. Video calls make it possible for people to talk face-to-face even if they are far away.

What are these:

Write any 3 differences between the two types of phones:

Arunima Sinha was born on July 20, 1988 in Ambedkar Nagar in Uttar Pradesh. She was a national level volleyball player.

When Arunima left the hospital, she joined a mountaineering course at Nehru Institute of Mountaineering in Uttarkashi. Her performance at the institute was great. Her family members encouraged her to climb Mount Everest. She contacted Bachendri Pal, the first Indian woman to climb Mount Everest.

Bachendri Pal agreed to train Arunima. Arunima trained very hard. She climbed many mountains on different continents in 2012.

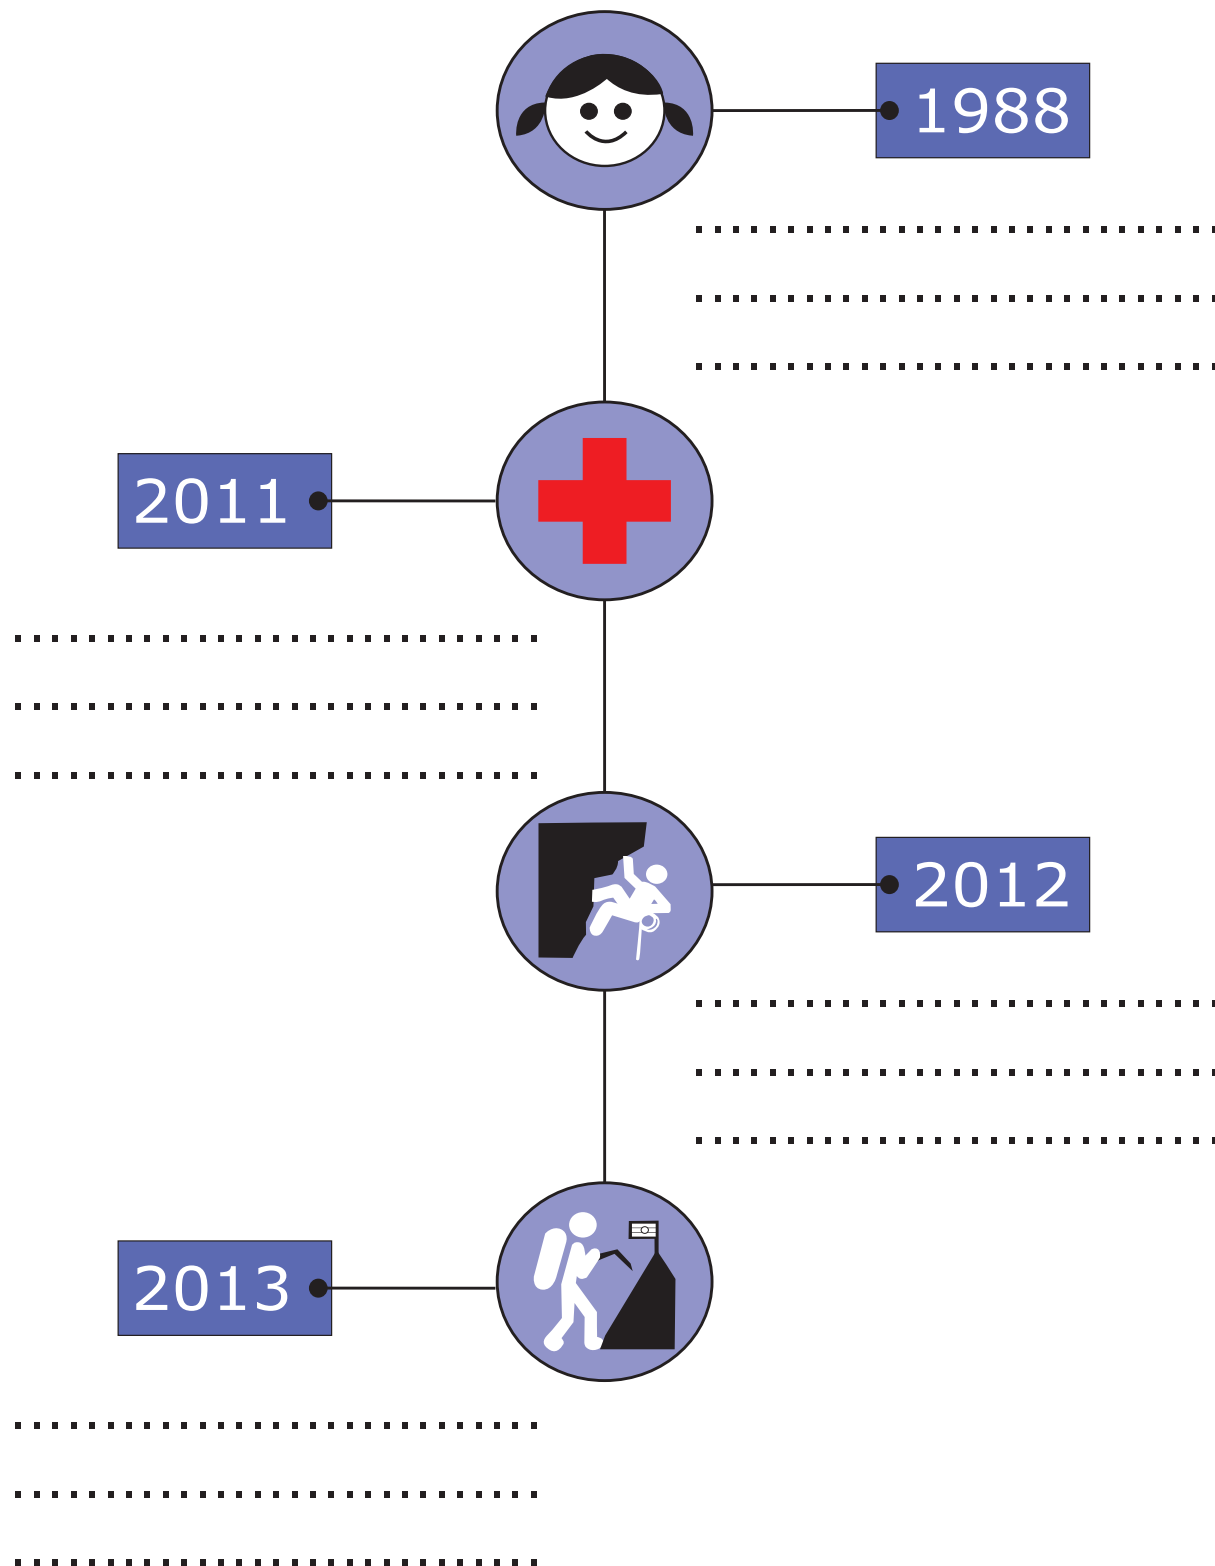

On May 21, 2013, she became the first female amputee to climb Mount Everest.

MADHU'S RECIPE

Madhu recently learnt how to make upma from her aunt. Today, she is going to share the recipe with us.

Stirring

Evaporates

Simmer

Mustard Seeds

Groundnuts

Roast

Serve

Hello friends! I am Madhu. Today, I will show you how to make upma. Let us go to the kitchen.

We will need some water, oil, salt, red chilli powder, mustard seeds, curry leaves, dried red chilli, groundnuts and one cup of rava. We will also need vegetables like onions, carrots, peas, tomatoes and some green chillies. We will also need chopped tomatoes, carrots, onions and chillies.

First roast one cup of rava in a pan until it turns brown. Make sure you keep stirring it so that it does not burn.

Next, heat some oil in a pan. Add mustard seeds, dried red chilli, groundnuts and some curry leaves to it. Then, put all the vegetables and mix them well for 2 minutes. After this, add some salt and red chilli powder according to your taste.

Now, pour two cups of water to the mixture and let it simmer for a while. Add the roasted rava in the boiling water and keep stirring it until the water evaporates and it becomes thick.

Look, Friends! Our upma is ready. Once it cools down a bit, we can serve it with some coconut chutney.

Upma is a famous breakfast dish in many parts of India.
